WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Entirely filling another seven-hour session with talk, the Senate upset completely the hopes of leaders on both sides of the treaty fight that a vote might be reached on the Shantung amendment or that at least some progress might be made in the reading of the treaty text.

The formal reading of the text had been the original purpose of the long session arranged for today, but the Shantung question got the floor at the outset and it soon

What bids fair to prove even more embarrassing is the Adriatic dispute. Former Minister Tittoni is due in Paris tomorrow with an entirely new proposal, backed up by an appeal to the Allies to save the Italian government and the King from revolution by accepting it.

As has been already stated, Secretary Polk is understood to feel that he knows the President's views well enough to make even important concessions if the conditions seem to demand them, but it is evident that he would prefer to have the directing hand in Washington in this new turn that affairs have taken.

Europe is beginning to show surprise over the situation which is developing; a situation, it is pointed out, that could not occur in any European country. The fault is attributed to the ambiguity of the American Constitution.

WILSON NATION'S IDEAL HUSBAND.

Illness Does not Prevent President from Getting Wife Birthday Gift.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—President Wilson, despite his illness, remembered that today was Mrs. Wilson's birthday. In fact, he made preparations for it several days ago, for it was learned tonight that he then sent out a member of the White House staff to purchase a gift. Today he presented the remembrance to her.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—President Wilson will emerge from his present illness "well again," William G. McAdoo, son-in-law of the President and former Secretary of the Treasury, said here tonight in an address at the Lambs Club.

"I am sure no greater calamity could befall the nation and the world at this time than to have a fatal outcome to his illness," he added.

GOMPERS'S SICKNESS NERVOUS BREAKDOWN.

UNION LEADER'S CONDITION IS MUCH IMPROVED; EXPECTS TO BE OUT TODAY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, confined to his bed at his home here in a state of temporary nervous exhaustion, was reported tonight to be feeling much better. His physician stated that the union-labor leader's condition was not serious.

Early in the day Mr. Gompers's secretary announced to members of the industrial conference that the federation chief had a temperature of 101, and that his physician had ordered him to remain in bed.

Later Mr. Gompers sent word to members of the labor delegation that he expected to be present at the conference tomorrow, and at noon it was announced that Mr. Gompers's temperature was only 99, and that, generally, he was feeling much better.

Mr. Gompers's illness results, labor leaders said, from months of unremitting work at home and abroad in connection with the peace treaty, the international labor congress at Amsterdam, and the steel strike.

Those who heard Mr. Gompers's impassioned address in the industrial conference yesterday realized that he was laboring under a treiher dous nervous strain, and the announcement of his illness did not come as a surprise to his associates in the labor group.

The industrial conference, by a rising vote at the morning session, adopted a resolution by Harry A. Wheeler, chairman of the capital group, expressing the conference's hope for speedy recovery of the labor-union leader.

INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE PUTS OFF STRIKE ACTION.

Demand of Employers for Immediate Disposal of Labor's Proposal is Postponed Until Today.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Demand that organized labor's proposal for arbitration of the steel strike be made an immediate issue in the national industrial conference was made today by the capital group, through Chairman Harry A. Wheeler. Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the public group, had proposed that action on the steel resolution be postponed until Thursday.

Postponement of action on the resolution previously had been agreed to by the labor and public groups, and the opposition of the employers came as a surprise. Sam Gompers, chairman of the labor group, who conducted a vigorous fight yesterday against sending the arbitration resolution back to the committee of fifteen, was detained by illness. He

TAFT SEES BRIGHTER DAYS AND PROGRESS.

BELIEVES WORLD WILL BE BETTER SOON AS REWARD FOR SACRIFICE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BALTIMORE, Oct. 15.—The moral tone, the sacrificial spirit of all the people which was distinctly elevated during the war, has suffered a reaction, declared former President Taft in his address as president of the Unitarian general conference here today, "and we are back again in the old region of the 'doldrums' where progress to better things seems as slow as it was before the war.

"We should not be discouraged, however," Mr. Taft said. "It is the frailty of human nature. It is to be found in its inability to maintain for long periods its adherence to the highest ideals. Real progress in the world is through a course of action and reaction. This reaction will be succeeded again by an onward and upward movement, and we shall find the world better because of its sacrifices and the lessons they taught.

"We shall not make the same progress that we hoped for, but we shall step up and on. It is the duty of all those whose disappointment in the present stage of affairs is great, to buckle on their armor and to push toward better things, to take their places in the ranks of those who would stir the religious spirit of the community and who would preach as part of their lives the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, and the willingness to sacrifice in order to promote those great principles of Unitarian Christianity.

"Let us hope that this annual meeting will rouse the Unitarians of the country to a rededication of themselves to the faith which Channing preached and to living the life which Channing lived."

FREAK ARCTIC WEATHER AIDS ICE-BOUND SHIPS.

DAWSON (Y. T.) Oct. 15.—Freak arctic weather, with the temperature jumping from zero to 40 deg. above today, was breaking the early ice in the Yukon River and was giving four marooned passenger steamboats a fighting chance to escape their winter trap and reach Dawson before the final freeze. Two are expected here tonight.

The two boats the Seattle and Alaska, which were marooned by the early freeze about fifty miles below Dawson, were today reported plowing upstream through the running ice. They had steel plates on their bows and were burning wood cut by their passengers and crews.

The steamboats Yukon and Washburn, caught on the Yukon flats below Circle City, Alaska, may also be able to reach Dawson, it was believed.

UNIT PLAN FOR IRISH.

Britain Home Rule Bill Taken Up.

Parliament to Give Emerald Isle First Consideration Probably Next Week.

Whatever Measure is Drafted will be First Step Toward Eventual Federalization.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The special Cabinet committee assigned to draft the administration's new Irish bill held its first session this afternoon, with Walter Hume Long as chairman. The full and exact personnel of this committee still is unannounced officially, as is the case in all Cabinet moves, but it is understood that Lord Birkenhead, Lord Chancellor; Lord French, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland; Sir James Ian Macpherson, Chief Secretary of Ireland; H. A. L. Fisher, Minister of Education; Sir Auckland C. Geddes, Sir Laming Worthington Evans, Frederick G. Kallaway and G. H. Roberts, food controller, attended the meeting.

Simultaneously it became known here that J. W. Lowther, speaker, finally had selected the personnel of the devolution commission, the delay in the naming of which caused speculation that perhaps the government will be abandoning the scheme because the establishment of five legislative entities might entail an undesirable expense at a time when the government was trying by every means to economize.

However, it now is apparent that the government timed the appointment and the functioning of this committee to coincide with the preparation of a purely Irish measure. Mr. Lowther's committee has thirty-two members, sixteen peers and sixteen commoners, and will begin work very soon.

IRELAND COMES FIRST.

The government apparently intends to give separate and prior consideration to Ireland, but with eventual federalization constantly in view while shaping Ireland's government, which will be made effective long before the Kingdom's rejuvenated system is enacted.

It is understood that the Cabinet committe's work was not so much to explore the negotiative fields possible in an Irish settlement, as that has been done time and again, but to take the material, bills and outlines at hand, and from them to draft a precise bill along already accepted lines, so that the framework of federalization would be in the Irish home-rule bill and also the first Federal step.

It was declared by English observers, who hold that Ireland was benefited under the union more than she ever would be otherwise, that federalization, although eminently fair and surely satisfactory in America, which has the same scheme, would materially curtail Ireland's present advantage over the rest of the kingdom. Ireland now has double representation, with only about half taxation, while under the leveling Federal system she will take her place alongside the other four units, having identical representation and taxation with them.

NOT MISTREATED.

There is no more convincing evidence that Ireland is not mistreated than in the fact that if the kingdom is federalised and all portions of it placed on an equal footing, Ireland will have to sacrifice most. Sir James Ian Macpherson and Lord Birkenhead are going to Ireland tonight, but will return to London next week, the committee meanwhile continuing its work.

RECOVERY TO BE SLOW

Glandular Trouble is Eliminated.

President Continues to Make Improvement, Says Official Bulletin.

News of Current Events is Confined to Brief Resume and that Wife Gives.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Only the following brief statement was issued by Rear-Admiral Grayson at 10:30 o'clock tonight: "The President has had a satisfactory day."

The headache from which he was suffering early in the day, it was learned, had disappeared.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Absence of any new complication in President Wilson's condition brought from his bedside today the assurance that he is "getting better." Elimination of the recent annoyance caused by a slightly enlarged gland has removed the only outstanding obstacle to his convalescence and about the White House there was manifested a decided atmosphere of optimism.

With the exception of the news furnished him by Mrs. Wilson, the President has learned very little of national and international developments, although he is given daily a general summary of events. He has at times expressed a desire for more comprehensive reports, and has asked Rear-Admiral Grayson, his personal physician, for news, but always Dr. Grayson has succeeded in keeping away from his patient information that might prove trying to his nerves.

The President's appetite is reported to be as good as expected, and a recurrence of the glandular trouble is not anticipated. Only a moderate rate of recovery is looked for, and indications, official and otherwise, are that the improvement announced today may be continued.

The President had a night's good rest and continues to show improvement, despite a slight headache, said a bulletin today by his physicians.

The bulletin follows:

The White House, October 16, 1919, 11:55 a.m.

The President had a good night's rest, enjoyed his breakfast, and aside from a slight headache, continues to make improvement. The condition which caused the restlessness of Monday night and about which Dr. Fowler was consulted, gave no trouble during the night.

DEMOCRATS FAVOR CALIFORNIA FOR 1920 NATIONAL CONVENTION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—California at last has the prospect of entertaining a national political convention. If the Bay City will really go after the 1920 gathering of Democrats it has almost a clear road for the honor and plenty of friends in the national committee. When the committee meets here early in January it will be decided whether all precedents shall be broken and the convention held on the Pacific Slope.

There is a great deal of sentiment among the members for San Francisco, and the recent visit of Chairman Cummings to the Coast has made him a booster for San Francisco.

Cleveland, O., is about the only active competitor, but if the Californians show enough interest and aggressiveness the friends of the Ohio city can be won over.

The Democratic leaders think it would be good politics to recognize the Coast and believe that after the California election return of 1916 there should be no question about holding the convention in San Francisco next year.

Several of the committeemen of the Atlantic seaboard are in favor of San Francisco. Some of the large eastern papers are favorable to the idea.

Isidore Dockweiler of Los Angeles, a member of the Executive Committee of the national committee, has been fighting for the convention for his State and an informal poll of the members who can be reached at this time indicates he has won his fight if San Francisco backs him up and presents the committee the right kind of invitation to hold the convention at the Golden Gate in June or July, 1920.

MEXICAN FLOODS TO CHECK OIL EXPORTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MONTERREY (Mex.) Oct. 15.—Continued torrential rains have caused an extended scope of Gulf Coast country, including several oil fields situated south of Tampico, to become flooded. Much property belonging to American oil companies has been washed away.

The Cuchras River is a mile wide and some of the oil camps are under eight feet of water. No loss of life is reported. The flood will cause a big decrease of oil exportation for this month.

Elizabeth Proves Herself an Able Horsewoman.

GLACIER POINT, Oct. 15.—Through the valley of the Yosemite, where the sun, moon and at least one star were visible at midday, the King and Queen of the Belgians came here today, riding midst the majestic grandeur of the scenery.

For the Queen it was one of her special days in the United States. At the government ranger station near Yosemite village, she stroked the ears of a mountain lion and then, when no one was looking, stepped inside the cage to inspect it more closely. The lion snapped at the fur in the sleeves of her coat and Her Majesty retreated, but not in disorder.

At an Indian camp she chatted with a squaw, but displayed no inclination to kiss a papoose. A shy Indian lad of 6 was asked if he recognized the Queen and he replied: "Sure. I saw her photograph in a San Francisco paper."

The King and Queen rode horseback this afternoon from the village to Glacier Point.

ARRIVE AT THE PORTAL.

EL PORTAL, Oct. 15.—The rulers of Belgium came today to the Yosemite to spend thirty-six hours in sight-seeing. Warmly dressed and refreshed by a good night's sleep, they anticipated and enjoyed to the full some of the most magnificent scenery in the country. They will spend the night at Glacier Point Hotel.

LEAVE SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—King Albert of Belgium and his party, including Ambassador Whitlock, touring the United States, were on their way today to the Yosemite Valley.

The King proved yesterday that the late Theodore Roosevelt had very little edge on him when it came to leading the strenuous life, for, in addition to attending receptions, luncheon, dinner and other official functions, he talked with the Belgian Consul-General at New York on the long-distance telephone, visited a vaudeville show and enjoyed moving pictures of himself taken a few hours before, took a swim in the Olympic Club tank and otherwise kept busy up to his departure at midnight for the Yosemite.

The next two days will give the King another taste of American outdoor life that he already had declared his fondness for. This afternoon the party will go from the floor of the Yosemite to the lofty Glacier Point and tomorrow they will visit the Mariposa grove of big trees and have a picnic luncheon there.

Late Thursday afternoon the start for Los Angeles will be made. The King plans to stop in Los Angeles three and a half hours Friday morning on his way to the Grand Canyon.

Public Library Shows Prints to Familiarize All with Kingdom.

A print exhibit of beautiful examples of Belgian interior architecture and decoration is being shown in the art and music department of the public library. Most of these fine large prints are from interiors of old chateaux and picturesque monasteries, noted for their singular perfection of detail. Saloons, dining halls, libraries and kitchens are included. The kitchen of the Hotel Grunthuusee looks as if it had been planned for romance and adventure. There is also an excellent reproduction of one of the galleries of the Hospital of St. John at Bruges, which has existed since the twelfth century. All of these pictures are full of lovely chairs and chests, interesting fireplaces and staircases.

Many books in the public library tell about Belgium, a country about which a Frenchman said, "If Belgium did not exist it would have to be invented."

Nor must it be forgot that the present King and Queen, who are due here tomorrow, are very proud of their national literature.

Fail to Pick Wheeler's Successor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—The regents of the University of California announced after their meeting yesterday that a president to succeed Benjamin Ide Wheeler had not been selected, and that the matter still remained in the hands of the Executive Committee of the board.

NORTHERN CABLE PLAN PRONOUNCED FEASIBLE.

ROUTE FROM CAPE FLATTERY TO ASIA, VIA ALASKA, GETS APPROVAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—A marine cable by the so-called northern route, connecting Cape Flattery, Wash., and Asia by way of Alaska and the Philippine Islands, is practical and would suffer no interference from ice, in the opinion of War Department officials, expressed in a report submitted today to the Senate Commerce Committee, which is considering legislation authorizing the laying of a new trans-Pacific cable.

The report also recommends two auxiliary routes, which might be placed in operation at once. One would be through arrangements with the radio station at Anadyr, Siberia, to forward messages to Vladivostok. The other auxiliary route would be to use the present Alaskan cable to Valdez, Alaska, where a radio station could work with another station on the Aleutian Islands, from which point a cable line could be constructed expending $400 miles to the Japanese islands.

Henry Winter, a cable engineer, though connected with the Signal Corps, in another report, favored the northern route by way of Alaska because it is the "shortest for purposes of communication, more economical in cable and more business along the line."

to be laid before the President at this time.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—If the President is kept to his bed for months to come it is highly improbable that the government will continue to go along without an actual head for political observers here do not believe it possible for any Cabinet to function for a long time without an active head who can make the ultimate decision in all matters.

If the President continues unable to transact business or attend to pressing matters of policy it is not questioned that eventually something will be done to appoint a successor.

There is thought to be little chance that Mr. Wilson himself will be able to deal with the problems confronting his administration and the country for many weeks, and since many of them require urgent attention, and as there is no machinery of which the executive end of the government can avail itself to handle them, except through the Cabinet, this method probably will be adopted for the present.

This does not mean that department heads of the government will attempt to take over any of the powers which are vested in the Chief Executive by the Constitution. Under that instrument they are merely lieutenants, so to speak, of the President, and are strictly limited in their power by the various laws of Congress under which they act.

CABINET'S DIFFICULTIES.

In the broader question of policy, however, and in dealing with domestic matters which may not require legislation, the Cabinet members would have all the persuasive and argumentative powers the President possesses. They are responsible to the President and not to Congress, unless, of course, any of them transcend the boundaries which an opposing Congress might set in its own opinion, and then they would be subject to impeachment, as are other Federal officers.

Inasmuch as there is no Premier in an American Cabinet, but because the Presidential succession act brings in the Secretary of State as the one who shall succeed a Vice-President in the event of necessity, the Secretary of State naturally would preside at meetings, held in the absence of the President.

Whether any individual Cabinet member will outshine the others is a question. Probably Mr. Baker more nearly reflects the thoughts of Mr. Wilson than any other man who sits around the Cabinet table, and he may assume a commanding position at its meetings although neither he nor any other member would have any authority to impose his views on the rest.

If the occasion arises the Cabinet may vote on questions before it, but at present this is not probable.

Just how the plan for Cabinet control will suit Congress is not hard to forecast, but it is thought that unless the attitude at the Capitol changes the Cabinet may come in for a lot of criticism in the near future.

OCULIST HAS THEORY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Dr. Willis O. Nance, a former president of the Chicago Ophthalmic Society, consulting oculist for the Cook County Hospital, and other institutions, declares he believed President Wilson had arterial hemorrhages. He told of the results of an examination of the President by a leading oculist and his discovery of an arterial hemorrhage.

"Of course, only Mr. Wilson's physicians know what his condition is and they have been unusually secretive about it," said Dr. Nance. "However, to judge by the published reports of the case and the actions of his physicians in compelling him to undergo a period of absolute rest, I believe he has arterial hemorrhages.

"A year or two ago he was examined by an oculist and one of the first specialists called to Washington when Mr. Wilson returned from his speaking tour was an oculist, Dr. George de Schweinitz of Philadelphia, one of the most famous oculists in the country. I believe Dr. De Schweinitz discovered an arterial hemorrhage of the retina and that indicates the condition of the arterial walls throughout the human system.

"The retina is the only part of body where the arteries can be observed. When an oculist examines with an ophthalmoscope the interior of the eye he can see those arteries. If there is a condition of hemorrhage there he immediately orders his patient to a complete rest, a model existence, plus a thorough physical examination, for if there are hemorrhages in the arteries of the eye there are likely to be other arterial troubles."

RATIFICATION OF TREATY HELD UP

Instrument's Effectiveness Hailed Prematurely.

King George's Signature is Received in France.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PARIS, Oct. 15.—The formal ratification of the peace treaty with Germany, making that instrument effective, will not take place this week as had been expected, it was announced tonight by the American delegation to the Peace Conference. There has been an indefinite postponement of this step, it was stated.

The decision not to complete the formal ratification of the treaty this week was due chiefly to the inability of the three ratifying powers upon the Entente side to make the necessary preparations to carry out provisions of the treaty which must be attended to within a brief time after the actual ratification.

The copy of the German peace treaty signed by King George after the ratification of the instrument by the British Parliament has been received in Paris, the Petit Parisien announced today.

PROBLEM IN RHINELAND.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Tuesday, Oct. 14.—Pierpont B. Noyes, American member of the interallied Rhineland commission, conferred with Frank L. Polk, head of the American delegation to the Peace Conference, here today. Their conversation concerned the status of the occupied area of Germany, which may be left without either civil or military government when the formal completion of the Versailles treaty without American participation brings the armistice agreement to a conclusion.

The Rhineland convention, which creates a civil commission with British, French, American and Belgian members, stipulates that all four nations must designate their members before the commission can function.

Military government over the territory must end with the armistice and the Peace Conference is encountering difficulties in devising an interim government pending American ratification.

FINAL FIGHT ON "TIGER."

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Oct. 15.—A final effort of the opposition to overthrow the Clemenceau Cabinet before the coming Parliamentary elections bringing in a new Parliament and a new ministry in France will be made this afternoon. The subject at issue is the order in which the coming elections are to be held.

Premier Clemenceau is expected to demand a vote of confidence on the adoption of the government plan. The Socialists in the chamber, it is understood, favor the government plan, thus greatly weakening the strength of the opposition to Clemenceau.

CONGRESS' ATTITUDE.

Congressman Quinn of Mississippi, in speaking for the bill, summarized the attitude of the majority of Congress. He said:

"Mr. Chairman, this in my judgment is more far-reaching than appears on its face, applying simply to the policemen of the city of Washington. This is an act of the American Congress that I believe the people of this country will construe as fundamental. I cannot understand why the police force of a city has any more right to go on a strike than has the army.

"To me the action of the police force in the city of Boston and the contemplated action of the police right here in this capital city of the government is incomprehensible and horrible to contemplate. With Bolshevism running through all Europe and a part of this country, it is time that Congress takes this stand. Notwithstanding the gentleman from Alabama has said there is no Bolshevism in the American Federation of Labor, the activities of such European poison manifests itself in the I.W.W., and many of the men belonging to organized labor. The good law-abiding element in the unions oftentimes cannot control the radical and lawless element, especially the dangerous foreigner. When union workers in this country defy the President of the United States and say that if they cannot have their way they will strike and starve the people of the United States, that is a flagrant disregard of the constituted authorities and an absolute disregard for the great unorganized mass of people who observe all law.

MUST TAKE FIRM STAND.

"Now is the time for the Congress of the United States to take a firm stand. Do not be afraid of the few wild radicals among the many good men of organized labor who hold union cards, who want to trample the rights of the American people under their feet; men who only work a few hours a day and then come around and grumble because some dairyman, with a wife and family who all work seven days a week and fifteen hours a day, charges a decent price for his milk. And yet these fellows want every holiday, half of Saturday and all of Sunday, and come down here and ask for forty-four hours to constitute a week's work. The bituminous coal miners, in utter disregard of their contract with the mine owners, now demand thirty hours to constitute a week's work. They demand, on top of that, 60 per cent. increase in wages. They even say they will strike November 1 and freeze women and children to death.

"Now is the time, gentlemen, to take a firm stand, and say that the police shall not join a union which affiliates with the American Federation of Labor. Those men are officers of the State, and take an oath to uphold the law. If some other union violates the law on a strike the police must be free to handle them. Let them belong to their own union, but under no circumstances should they be allowed to be connected with the American Federation of Labor."

BELGIUM MAY SETTLE ROW WITH HOLLAND.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BRUSSELS, Tuesday, Oct. 14.—Several newspapers here are informed that Belgian delegates negotiating in Paris with representatives of Holland relative to the controversy between the two countries arising out of the proposed revision of the treaty of 1839 are about to conclude a compromise with Holland in the form of a Belgian-Dutch alliance.

It is understood that, in making this arrangement, Belgium will give Holland military guarantees. Nationalist and Catholic newspapers severely criticise the plan.

REVOLT'S FINAL CHAPTER ENDED

Remnant of Mexican Mutineers Rounded up, Slain.

Firing Squad Finishes Career of the Band's Leader.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 15.—Six former Cantu soldiers, the last survivors of the mutinous Algodones garrison, met death either in battle with Lower California troops or at the hands of firing squads immediately after the fight, last Wednesday, according to reports received here today by United States government officials.

The battle was fought, according to reports, in the mountains of the Ojos Negros section of Lower California, about sixty miles below the international border line.

The six former soldiers, who were members of the Algodones garrison that mutinied and killed two of their officers several weeks ago, are said to have been headed for the southern end of Lower California. Three of the men were killed in a running fight with the Cantu troops, another was killed at bay, and the other two were executed shortly after being taken prisoners.

The two men who were executed are said to have refused the blindfold privilege and to have met death without flinching. One of the two men executed is reported to be Jose Sanders, a lieutenant in the Lower California volunteer service, and widely known throughout the peninsula.

EXPEDITION IS DELAYED.

Start of the army party going to Las Animas Bay, Lower California, to identify and bring back the bodies of Lieuts. C. H. Connelly and F. H. Waterhouse, American aviators, is being held up here today through failure to receive authorization from the Navy Department for use of one of the warships in the harbor here.

After all arrangements for the start yesterday afternoon had been completed, it was found that the army mine layer General Armistead, on which the trip was to be made, did not have sufficient cruising radius for the voyage. Authority to use one of the navy ships in port here was asked of the Navy Department, but no reply to the request has yet been received, and it is believed that the start cannot be made for a couple of days.

ARGENTINA PROPOSES PLAN FOR CHEAP FOOD.

WANT INTERNATIONAL TREATY TO REMOVE ALL TARIFFS ON NECESSITIES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUENOS AIRES, Tuesday, Oct. 14.—For the purpose of exchanging views on the feasability of negotiating international treaties under which all countries would remove tariffs on food products, Foreign Minister Pueyrredon has called a conference for tomorrow of all the diplomatic representatives of pan-American nations accredited to Argentina.

The project is described as a "humanitarian means of reducing the world-wide high cost of living," and the possibility of its adoption by all the countries in the world is contemplated. Outlining the plan to the Associated Press, the Foreign Office today pointed out that "free trade in food" not only would alleviate human sufferings, but from a commercial point of view would increase both exports and imports of food products in every country and thus more than compensate for losses in revenue.

WIDE RANGE PROPOSED.

The foods for which the Argentine government proposes a free interchange include rice, frozen meat, cattle on the hoof, wheat, flour, fruits, milk, butter, barley, oils, fowls, eggs, fresh and canned; canned soups, fish, salt and vegetables.

Sugar also would be included as soon as regulations in force in some countries against its export can be modified.

BAY CITY MILK RISE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Announcement of an increase in the price of milk in San Francisco, effective tomorrow, was made today by the California Milk Producers' Association here. Uncertified milk, now selling at 14 cents a quart, will hereafter sell at 15 cents, and certified milk will increase from the present price of 20 cents a quart to 23 cents.

The city milk certification bureau was trying today to force producers to sell certificate milk in pint bottles. Nothing less than a quart now is sold.

DETROIT, Oct. 15.—Five bandits forced employees and patrons of the Federal State Bank branch at Mack street and Gratiot avenue into a vault yesterday, stole $9000 and escaped in an automobile.

Miss Ada McEwan, Ferndale school teacher, died yesterday from injuries received Monday in an auto accident.

"Detroit stands on the threshold of its most promising musical season," said Ossip Gabrielowitsch, who arrived yesterday to rehearse the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. The famous conductor was delighted with the new orchestra hall.

OIL LEASE BILL UP FOR ACTION.

Public Land Committee Gives a Favorable Report.

Passage Within a Week Under Special Rule Expected.

Measure is of Much Importance to Californians.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—California oil men will get relief soon for the weary months and years of waiting to have opened up the oil lands withdrawn by President Taft from entry. The Public Lands Committee of the House today decided by unanimous vote to report the oil land leasing bill in much the same form as it passed the Senate a month or so ago. There are some changes, most of them minor in character, others intended to clarify the measure.

The minimum royalty to be paid the governments on oil lands was fixed as one-eighth of the production, instead of one-quarter, as provided by the Senate.

One important change is in the section prohibiting aliens from holding any interest in oil leases permitted by this bill. As the measure left the Senate the President was empowered to place an embargo on exports of petroleum when any foreign interest was shown. The House cut out this provision and inserted the following language instead:

BAN ON ALIENS.

"That citizens of another country, the laws, customs or regulations of which deny similar or like privileges to citizens or corporations of this country shall not by stock ownership, stockholding or stock control, own any interest in any lease acquired under the provisions of this act."

The so-called Harris amendment, prohibiting any person owning stock in more than one of the various component companies of the Standard Oil Company and also providing that all Standard Oil companies must sell oil at the same price at all points, was eliminated from the bill.

EXPECT SPEEDY PASSAGE.

The bill will probably be passed in the House speedily—possibly within a week by the assistance of a special rule. It will go to conference and unless a filibuster develops against it, it will become a law before the special session ends. Even if a filibuster kills it in the special session it is certain of becoming a law at the regular session.

SEARCH COUNTRY FOR APHASIA WAR VICTIM.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The War Department and American Red Cross are diligently searching for Private Harry E. Ross, Co. H, Twenty-sixth Infantry, of Des Moines, Iowa, who is wandering about the country somewhere, suffering from aphasia, contracted in the war.

Private Ross has been wounded and missing since July 16, 1918, the day on which he was last seen during a battle at Soissons, until a few days ago when he apparently recovered his memory long enough to walk into Red Cross headquarters at Huntington, W. Va., and to telegraph home to his mother. Without waiting for a reply, Ross left the headquarters and has not been seen since.

Authorities believe he is suffering from a remarkable case of loss of memory and that he lost his identity again immediately after wiring his mother at Des Moines. His mother hastened to Huntington after receiving the telegram.

Ross is 20 years old, about 5 feet, 7 inches in height, has very dark hair, dark eyes, fair skin, good teeth and is slender. He was shell shocked in the battle of Soissons and limps from a battle wound. The authorities say he might be recalled to a realization of his identity by mention of the names of Frank Loucks, Joe Lockwood, Roy Trebo, Benjamin Allgood and James T. Mullin, boys who were his companions in North Dakota, where he enlisted in 1917. His mother is Mrs. Clara D. Ross, 4042 Third street, Highland Park station, Des Moines.

CAMPERS ARE BLAMED FOR FOREST FIRE LOSS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 14.—Federal patrolmen, under the Weeks law for the protection of the watersheds from forest and brush fires, are meeting here with State Forester Homans, to exchange views on the season that closes today and to consider next summer's needs.

Four of these men guard 6,000,000 acres outside the Federal forests under a co-operative arrangement with the State, first effective in 1919. If possible to secure a larger Federal appropriation, more men will be detailed to this work next year, and the situation will then be cared for as it should be, Homans says.

The patrolmen are a unit in declaring that legislation should be provided for the issuance of campfire permits, as it is their opinion that this is the most prolific source of trouble.

BURLESON TURNS ON HIS CRITICS.

Declares Record Stands and will not be Changed.

Gives First Public Account of Stewardship.

Tells Hardware Men Why He Sought Changes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 15.—Postmaster-General Burleson today gave the National Hardware Association and the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association, in joint session here, the first public account of his administration which he has made since he entered the Cabinet.

Policies which have made him the object of perhaps the most bitter attacks directed against any of President Wilson's advisers were explained and the difficulties of his administration under war conditions were described to the business men forming the audience.

"Record has been made of what I stand for," Mr. Burleson declared, smashing his fist into his open palm, "and it is not going to be changed."

Burleson divided his critics into two classes, those who were honest and those who were actuated by ulterior motives. The former, he admitted frankly, included the bulk of the people, because they have not understood the difficulties under which the postal service has worked. The latter were said to be those interests affected by economies made for the benefit of the people, the express companies which suffered in the development of the parcel post, the railroads which objected to space payment for carrying the mails, the owners of pneumatic tube systems which were abolished, and the newspapers and magazines which fought an increase in the second-class postal rates.

OUTSTAYS AVERAGE.

Mr. Burleson said the average tenure of Postmasters-General had been only two years.

"When the entire world was readjusting itself to war," he asked, "when our splendid railroad system, broke down completely, is it any wonder that there was some slight disarrangement of the postal service? Yet there were people who complained they didn't receive their mail with regularity and dependability. I don't blame them for complaining. It is human, but it was unjust.

"As the only government department with a nation-wide organization, the postal service was called upon by all other departments to aid them in war work." Mr. Burleson continued, "and this in spite of the fact that tens of thousands of trained postal employees had been called to the colors or been put in cantonments to give soldiers efficient mail service.

"In one month, also, there were 97,000 missed train connections."

WAR ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

For the treasury, Mr. Burleson said his department distributed tens of thousands of tons of Liberty Loan propaganda, sold 82 per cent. of all Savings Stamps, sold and distributed new tax stamps, which included the auditing of 50,000 accounts. The postal service also distributed millions of questionnaires and acted as a recruiting service for the War Department, aided in making the food conservation measure effective and played a leading part in administering the Espionage Act and registering alien enemies.

"Exclusion of seditious matter from the mails was a very unwelcome task," Mr. Burleson said, feelingly. "I was denounced as suppressing free speech, an autocrat and Prussian, but I moved on in the even tenor of my way, performing my duty with moderation, exercising no arbitrary power whatever, but enforcing the law as written. It is a great satisfaction that in every case where my action was contested the courts have upheld me."

Declaring he was not going to be harsh, the Postmaster-General turned to individual policies for which he had been attacked. In reducing parcel post rates and increasing the weight limit of parcels, he said, he turned a deficit to a surplus, but encountered opposition from the express companies, which came with one vote in the Senate of repealing the law.

He declared he met a similar situation in changing the basis of payment for railroad mail from weight to space. Fifteen railroad presidents called on him to ask an annual instead of a quadrennial weighing.

NO WEASEL WORDS.

"I never indulge in weasel words," Mr. Burleson said, "so I told them I was going to change to the fairer basis of paying by space occupied. They laughed, and told me to forget it, but I put it over, although they were powerful enough to strangle my department's appropriation and we operated under a continuing arrangement for the first time in history."

Much time was devoted by Mr. Burleson to the fight on second-class mail rates, which he laughingly said had made him "the idol of the newspapers and the hero of the magazines." He declared it had cost the government $160,000 above the postage to carry one edition of a well-known weekly which averaged $1,600,000 in advertisements.

"That deficit was paid by you," he told the business men who were his auditors, "until my fight forced changes. I'm now before the Interstate Commerce Commission trying to raise still further the rates Congress fixed, which I know are too low."

Turning to current political questions, the Postmaster-General declared the welfare of the country waited on ratification of the peace treaty by Congress and the passage of important legislation urged by President Wilson many months ago.

"Now they are talking about a recess in November," he said, "with many things left undone. If the party in power undertakes any such step the attention of the American people will be brought to the facts."

Explaining his opposition to affiliation of government employees with the American Federation of Labor, Mr. Burleson said he believed it was a public danger for any Federal, State or municipal worker to be allied to an organization that uses the strike.

"I don't want the postal service to be a revenue producer," he concluded, "but we have achieved a surplus despite ourselves, because of cutting out this graft I have told you about."

Despondency.

Sufferers from indigestion are apt to become discouraged and feel that complete recovery is not to be hoped for. No one could make a greater mistake. Hundreds have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and can now eat anything that they crave. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. If you have not tried them do so at once.—[Advertisement.

EBERT FALL IS EXPECTED SOON.

Golts in control, was inevitable unless action was taken. Indeed, this warning was given last May and was repeated in June, in July and again in August.

Last May, the conference was informed that the time was ripe to order the withdrawal of Von der Golts from the Baltic country. At that time many of his soldiers were not under discipline and he was ready to withdraw those on whom he could not depend if the Allied commission would provide 4000 or 5000 men on whom he could rely. However, as time passed and his men came under discipline, Von der Golts's attitude changed to one of sheer defiance, and when his forces achieved success in their operations they became heroes in the eyes of the Germans.

Gen. Von der Golts is backed by a syndicate of Berlin bankers who are Junkers, and they will provide all the funds he needs. At the same time, he is negotiating with two Russian groups, one of which is seeking to put Grand Duke Cyril on the throne of Russia, while the other is working for Grand Duke Michael. From sources which usually are reliable, it is learned that certain British influences are leaning toward Grand Duke Michael.

In the meantime, the Peace Conference is inclined to issue an ultimatum to end a situation it was the principal factor in creating and which, by its dilatory, vacillating attitude helped to make worse.

The consensus in well-informed circles here is that more ultimatums may not bulge Von der Golts, but may lead to the overthrow of Ebert.

RIGA SHELL-TORN.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 15.—Savage fighting is going on in the city of Riga between Lettish and Lithuanian troops and the Germano-Russian army which entered the western part of the city last week. Reports reaching here state that shells have fired a portion of the town and that great damage has been done the quays and harbor. Many civilians have been killed.

Dispatches state that all the prisoners taken by the Letts have been Bavarians.

British warships have become involved in the fighting, having been fired upon by the Germano-Russian forces, and an unconfirmed report declares a British force has been landed in or near the city.

Blockade measures are seemingly being rigidly enforced in the Baltic, six German merchant ships having been captured by one British destroyer.

POLES BEGIN OFFENSIVE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 15.—The Poles have begun an offensive against the Germano-Russian forces in the Baltic region, according to a message received here from Riga. They are reported to have captured Kovno, sixty miles northwest of Vilna, near the Courland border.

SUPPLIES CUT OFF.

RIGA (via London) Oct. 14.—Col. Edward W. Ryan, chief of the American Red Cross mission, has just arrived here by automobile from Mitau, having come through the lines with a white flag and having crossed on foot the long wooden bridge over the Dwina River.

The military situation remains unchanged. There is little firing today. It is reported here that the German government has repudiated and disavowed the Mitau forces attacking Riga, and has closed the railway from Germany into Courland over which they have been receiving supplies and reinforcements.

This cable is now being punctuated by the roar of Lettish big guns.

Despite Col. Beramond's armistice proposal of yesterday he and his troops are full of fight, and unless a settlement is shortly effected he may resume a most vigorous offensive against Riga. In that case Letvia will speedily need all the aid which has been promised her, or which she hopes for.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 14.—The Lettish mission received a message late this afternoon saying Bermond and Von der Goltz's troops are falling back before Riga, and it is thought the danger of the capture of Riga is now over.

There is a rumor that Esthonian troops have occupied Pakoff. It is not unlikely that the cutting of the railroad by the northwestern army north of Pskov will force the evacuation by the Bolshevists of that place, and that Esthonian troops, being the nearest, will likely move in.

STORY OF ATTACK.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

STOCKHOLM, Tuesday, Oct 14.—The crews of two Swedish motor ships, which arrived at Kalmar yesterday, from Riga, gave an account today of the early fighting around Riga last Saturday. The ships were anchored in the inlet in the Dvina River when the Germans started their offensive, so that the vessels were between the fighting lines. Warning shots were fired by the Germans, but it was a quarter of an hour before the motor ships were able to get under way.

Meanwhile, the Germans let fly a few shells in order to warn the British and French destroyers in the harbor and soon these war craft steamed outward under cover of the Lettish artillery. Inside the city the Letts had torn up the pavement and built barricades, using railway trains as supports of these works.

AMERICANS NOT INVOLVED.

The Letts immediately engaged the attacking forces. A hot fight ensued, but it was a short one, the sailors declared, the Letts soon fleeing.

Later during the day five destroyers, British and French, arrived in the harbor and anchored in the mouth of the river. They took no part for either side.

All the Danish and Dutch merchantmen that were at Riga when the fighting opened managed to escape with the exception of one Danish vessel, which did not have steam up. No American vessels were seen there by the sailors.

SIEGE AT MITAU.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Tuesday, Oct. 14.—The Western Russian central council has ousted the German authorities at Mitau, replacing them by a regime headed by a Russian governor-general named Scheideman, according to a wireless dispatch received here from Berlin. A state of siege has been declared at Mitau.

The public would not let "Broken Blossoms" close Saturday. Next week is your last chance to see this masterpiece of the screen.—[Advertisement.

AUSTRALIA WIPES OUT I.W.W. BY LEGISLATION.

ARBITRATION SYSTEM WORKS PERFECTLY AND UNREST IS UNKNOWN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Wiping the labor slate clean of I.W.W.-ism and "sovietism" has marked industrial Australia's prosperity before the world, Mark Sheldon, Australian commissioner in the United States, declared in a statement tonight. He arrived here to assume his new duties yesterday.

Speaking of the post-war labor unrest, Mr. Sheldon pointed to the present situation in his country as an example of progress in handling situations similar to those now existing in the United States.

The arbitration system as applied in Australia had been particularly effective in settling labor disputes, he said. The one big union movement has entirely collapsed in Australia, Mr. Sheldon declared. He said the I.W.W. had been suppressed by legislation making the organization illegal and by imprisonment and deportation of those convicted of being members.

Australia is ready for an increase of 10,000,000 in population, Mr. Sheldon declared.

ARBITRATION EFFECTIVE.

"In view of the general industrial unrest throughout the world," the statement said, "it will be interesting to examine the status of the labor movement in Australia. The arbitration system has been treated probably more thoroughly in Australia than anywhere else. It is largely the work of labor governments and has been particularly effective in settling disputes which otherwise would have culminated in strikes.

"While the Australian system has not always proved a preventive of strikes, it has been entirely satisfactory in settling them when both parties have agreed to submit their disputes to the arbitration court. The recent seamen's strike was only a question of arbitration. The government demands that the court shall decide the matter in dispute, and won.

"ONE BIG UNION" FAILS.

"The 'one big union' movement, which has been before Australian labor unions for eighteen months, has collapsed completely. The greatest individual union in Australia—the Australian Workers' Union, has turned it down, and virtually every craft looks askance at it. This is due to the fact that the rank and file of the Australian workingmen looks upon his union as an instrument to better his conditions in his relations with his employer, and not as a means for political power—the avowed purpose of the 'one big union,' whose lines of procedure are similar to those of the Russian soviet.

"Nor has the I.W.W. movement been allowed to gain ground. A year and a half ago a law was passed making it illegal for any such organization to exist. Avowed members of the I.W.W. are subject to imprisonment and fine, and if not Australian born may be deported. I consider the I.W.W. as an utterly-defeated organization.

HOMES BIG FACTOR.

"A wholesome corrective against any extremist tendency is the fact that the skilled laborer usually has his own house and grounds obtained from the government under liberal arrangements. This gives the worker a selfish interest in the maintenance of order and stability.

"To give you an idea of the extent of Australia's natural resources I need merely tell you that we are immediately ready for 10,000,000 more of population. That is twice the population we have today."

"Australia's prosperity, the greatest in history, is built on features recognized as invaluable by American captains of industry," he said. "They are:

"Labor, which puts the country's welfare before its own.

"Natural resources that are vast and easily accessible.

"A nearly uniformly English-speaking population, with room for many more millions of newcomers.

"Very democratic institutions."

STEEL STRIKE CONFERENCE FAILS

Group Unable to Agree on Arbitration.

Collective Bargaining to be Subject Single Issue.

Introduced by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor.

Amendment by Chairman Lane to which individual votes on each motion was one of those postponed until next day, and its conference resumed later soon.

Both capital and labor groups cast unanimous vote for the Baruch plan, after Elbert H. Gary, head of the public group and one of the employers against it.

GOMPERS WANTS ACTION.

Samuel Gompers will not sanction any action of the national industrial conference here until it has exhausted every possible means of settlement of the present industrial situation, White House officials declared today.

It was learned that the President was disappointed to have been informed of the tense situation in the conference resulting from the conference over labor's proposal for settlement of the steel strike. He is said that this should not be the ultimate success of the conference.

Following further efforts to reach an agreement in group meetings of the conference, a delegate the specific proposal was postponement consideration of the steel-strike resolution until it could be reached on special issue of shop and unions as the means of settling all industrial disputes. A request for a postponement of this issue had the approval of Secretary Lane, the conference chairman.

WOULD SEND PLAN BACK.

Gavin McNab of San Francisco, a public representative, proposed that the steel strike resolution be referred back to the committee of fifteen, with instructions to begin work at once on an arbitration plan along the lines of the proposal made last Thursday by Secretary Wilson. This would provide for joint industrial councils in the first instance, with the right of appeal to a general council, and eventually to an umpire to be appointed by the President.

A tentative agreement was reached whereby the labor group, it was understood, agreed that the steel strike resolution should be referred back to the committee to be brought up on the floor of the conference for action Thursday.

Meantime, the various groups will work on the preparation of an exhaustive analysis of the causes of all strikes, Chairman Lane said, and prepare a programme calculated to ameliorate conditions. This programme would be presented to the conference after the steel strike resolution is disposed of.

GREATEST SINGLE ISSUE.

Collective bargaining occupied much attention in the group gatherings today. Members of all groups said it probably would be the greatest single issue to come before the conference.

After the conference convened, L. E. Sheppard, head of the Railway Conductors' Brotherhood, introduced a resolution proposing tripartite control of all industries existing by virtue of "public grants and monopolies." It is similar to the Plumb plan for management of the railroads by the public, labor and capital. For private industry Mr. Sheppard proposed recognition of a right of the workers to choose one-third of the board of directors.

John Spargo of the public group introduced a resolution declaring that, while the "right to strike should not be abrogated or denied," it should be restricted where stoppage of vital services and governmental operations are involved.

A demand for greater recognition of the services of the farmers was made in a statement presented through the employers' group. Charles S. Barrett, president of the Farmers' Co-Operative Union, said it was prepared by five conferees, three in the employers' group and two in the public group.

FARMERS SEEK AID.

Declaring that the "net return for labor, management and capital used in farming is today smaller than the return in any other great industry," and that this discouragement has reduced the output of agricultural staples, the statement said the conclusions of the conference could not be permanent unless they provide for the "welfare of farmers."

"American farmers employ more laborers than any other single industry," said the statement. "The number of operating farmers and their hired employees is greater than that of laborers in all industries combined. Any adjustment of industrial wage disputes to be fundamentally sound and permanent must give full consideration to the relation between wages on American farms and in other industries. To pay higher wages on the farm inevitably means higher prices for farm products."

The principal demands were:

First, such returns as will fairly compensate them for capital investment for their technical skill, their managerial ability, and their manual labor, and, second, that they and their families have social, educational and political opportunities equal to those of persons engaged in other activities.

"Failure to meet these demands will result in a continuance and an acceleration of the decline in agriculture," it says.

"The demand for farm products should be scientifically satisfied. Overproduction as well as underproduction dislocates industrial and economic balances, and in the end results in economic waste.

"The present cost of living is not due to the prices received by the farmer for his products, as shown by a comparison between farm prices, food prices and wage levels."

YANKS TO SUPERVISE SILESIAN PLEBISCITE.

BAKER EXPLAINS WHY ADDITIONAL REGULARS ARE BEING SENT TO EUROPE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Secretary Baker announces that if a plebiscite is ordered in Silesia under the terms of the peace treaty, 5000 American troops will be sent to Silesia to help in maintaining order while the referendum is being held. Regular troops are now going forward from New York for that purpose, sailing for Brest.

"The Peace Conference and the Supreme War Council in Paris," said Secretary Baker, "in formulating the treaties, indicated several places in which they determined that the disposition of the country as to its subsequent assignment should be determined by referendum or plebiscite. One of these was Silesia. It was decided that Allied troops, continuing under the command of the supreme commander, Marshal Foch, should occupy these places during the plebiscite, so they would have an assurance of a fair vote.

"It was suggested that some units of the American Army of Occupation should be sent to Silesia to supervise the plebiscite held in that place. With that thought in mind, the size of the American army to be retained was determined with reference to the number of men that might be needed there for that work. If the plebiscite was subsequently directed to be held. It has not yet been directed.

"In order, however, not to keep in France a larger number of emergency men than would be needed, we brought home more men than the number which would leave us the number required for Silesia, if they were subsequently required. We are therefore sending over regular enlisted men to bring the force on the other side up to the number which would be large enough to permit the sending of the force to Silesia for the plebiscite, if such a plebiscite is ordered to be held."

BUTTE, Oct. 15.—By a vote of 598 to 212, the Metal Trades Unions in Butte, Anaconda and Great Falls, on strike two months, have decided to return to work on the same terms accepted last July by other crafts employed by the Anaconda Copper Mining Company in the three cities.

Balloting was concluded last night and the result was announced today.

IMMIGRANTS MUST BE TAUGHT LAW'S POWER.

PALMER SAYS USE OF FORCE IN AMERICA MUST BE SWIFTLY ERADICATED.

EASTON (Pa.) Oct. 15.—Law and order must be preserved in America and immigrants coming here must realize that when they reach these shores the time for the use of force is behind them, Atty.-Gen. Palmer declared tonight in an address at founders' day exercises at Lafayette College.

"The mistake which seems to have been made by many who have come here recently from other parts of the world," said Mr. Palmer, "is this: They affect to believe that the general movement for better conditions of life in other parts of the world must have its counter-part in method in this newer world. They refuse to see the stupendous advance which has been made in that movement here during the last century by men of larger minds and broader visions who preceded them to this land for the very purpose.

ARE SELF-SEEKERS.

"It is difficult for us to give credit for sincerity to many of the ultra-radical class-war agitators, who seek the short and rough road built by force when they have at hand the smoother, though possibly longer, route. It is perfectly clear that some of them are honestly mistaken; it is equally clear that many of them are mere self-seekers, who would exploit some of their unthinking fellows for their own benefit.

"The ingenuity of man has made the Atlantic Ocean a mere ditch between the continents. New inventions will make it narrower still. But it must always be wide enough to permit the immigrant, as he crosses it, to rid himself for all time of all the misconceptions of government with which the old conditions filled his mind. He must realize that his revolution has been fought and won when he sets his foot on American soil. His time for the use of force is then behind him; his time for the use of intelligence has come.

LAW COMES FIRST.

"Law and order are essential to improvement; the law must be respected and order must be maintained if progress is expected. I would not halt for a single moment any movement designed by its promoters to bring better conditions to any portion of our people, but I would use all the power of the people's government to make certain that such a movement shall be conducted in the peaceful and orderly way provided by the people for the accomplishment of all reform."

GERMAN SOCIALISTS SPLIT OVER STRIKE.

UNION ULTIMATUM EXPIRES AT NOON TODAY: TROOPS GUARD UTILITIES.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—Possibilities of the unification of all German Socialists, which were revived recently by speeches and writings of former Premier Scheidemann, again have faded away. One of the biggest factors in the imminence of a strike of firemen and machinists and the certainty if it comes that the government will employ the recently-created "technical emergency service" to keep municipal water, gas and electric light plants in operation.

Troops are already guarding the plants, and, as the ultimatum of the unions demanding a settlement of the metal workers' strike expires tomorrow noon, the situation is acute. A majority of the Socialists are standing solidly by the leaders, who insist that the vital public services must be maintained at all cost, and the independent organization is denouncing bitterly this "strike-breaker" outrage. Under the circumstances, none of the leaders of either faction is sanguine over the prospects of a Socialist unity.

Heinrich Stroebel, one of the conservative independents, declared that without Socialist unity Germany faces a new civil war, and new devastation either from reaction or Bolshevism.

RAILROADS OBJECT TO TRAIN RESTORATIONS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—Many railroads in the United States are reluctant to replace passenger service canceled during the war on the ground that it is unprofitable, delegates attending the meeting of the National Association of Railways and Utilities Commissioners were told here today by A. J. Maxwell of North Carolina, in presenting the report of the Committee on Railroad Service, Accommodations and Claims.

The report urged that the commissions take recognition of the recommendations of health authorities in preventing a recurrence of the influenza epidemic by enforcing sanitary regulations as to ventilation, heat and use of disinfectants at stations.

Walker D. Hines, Director-General of the United States Railroad Administration, address the delegates tonight.

PARIS GUEST-RIDDEN.

Hotels Overflowing with Visitors, Chiefly from United States.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Oct. 15.—The Paris hotels are filled to the guards and the managements have thrown up their hands in despair of handling waves of incoming visitors which hit Paris.

It is as in the palmiest Peace Conference days, when the hotel keepers told all comers the whole world had moved to Paris.

Last night chairs in the hotel lobbies were at a premium, as a substitute for beds. Paris has not been so crowded in many years. The influx is chiefly from the United States. Persons expecting to find rooms reserved are disappointed like the others, because the rooms have been booked weeks in advance. Pilgrimage from hotel to hotel is a common thing, with the searcher usually ending in a third-floor-back in some boarding-house.

Trying to take care of the old customers, the best hotels are searching frantically for furnished apartments and rooms in private homes. These also are hard to find, particularly apartments.

Richard Walton Tully, (Jas. G. Peede, General Manager) Presents

GUY BATES POST

AN EPOCH making event in the annals of American amusements is the presentation by Richard Walton Tully (Jas. G. Peede, General Manager) of the virile, compelling-accomplished-American actor, Guy Bates Post, in the iridescent bubble of modern humanity, "The Masquerader." This dramatic masterpiece by John Hunter Booth, taken from the widely read novel of Katherine Cecil Thurston, intimately illustrates the lives of two men who met in the fog and traded identities and living quarters.

The dual characterization offers Mr. Post a wonderful opportunity and the contrasted characters are impersonated by him with all the art of a genius mind. His drug fiend is a pitiful wretch; his Loder, the "man," the mental and moral antithesis of the other.

More intensely and artistically interesting than Jeckyll and Hyde—more massive in presentation than any modern play, and yet, so deftly done, its ponderous scenes move with the smooth rapidity of an uninterrupted panorama, and that is what this wonderful play is—A LIVING, MOVING, TALKING PANORAMIC REFLEX OF THE WARP AND WOOF OF HUMANITY.

The Most Ponderous of all Modern Plays, pulsating with the element that comprises "life."

If you could not tell a man everything in your past life—would you marry him?

Should one youthful mistake overshadow a woman's whole life?

WAS one youthful mistake to cast its shadow over Harriet Field's whole life? Beautiful, adored, her story utterly unsuspected, was she to risk telling the man who loved her now, of that terrible secret of her youth?

Read this extraordinary story of a supreme struggle in a young and ambitious woman's heart. Should she have told? And given up wealth, position, luxury, a good man's love—all that she longed for?

Or should she have married the proud, honest man, in the fullness of his success, without giving him a hint of the risk he ran?

"If you dance, you must pay the piper," the old saying has it. Did Harriet Field have to pay?

Skillfully, with sustained interest, Kathleen Norris develops this absorbing situation. It is one which must stir every woman's heart. As you turn page after page eagerly, will you be moved with profound pity for the beautiful young woman overshadowed by the dark reality that sprang out of her youth and inexperience? Or will you denounce her?—Don't miss a line of

by Kathleen Norris

(Author of "The Heart of Rachael"; "Josselyn's Wife," etc., etc.)

The first stirring instalment—a big, generous one—appears in Pictorial Review for November. The remainder follows swiftly, powerfully, with intense feeling in three succeeding issues. It is the most absorbing love-story Pictorial Review has ever published.

Will the salaried man sit by and see the uneducated day-laborer earn twice as much as he?

WILL the architect be forced to work as a carpenter? Must the journalist go back to the print shop? Our bank clerks, salesmen, buyers, actors, public officials, clergymen and college professors—what thanks do they get for their services? With prices of necessaries "skied" high, how are their wives to manage? And, meanwhile, the uneducated, foreign-born day-laborer earns and spends as much in a day as the salaried man does in a week or so!

Samuel Hopkins Adams thrashes out thoroughly the problems that confront the man and woman of formerly comfortable means today.

How to build your own house without going broke

BUILDING a home is usually the most heart-breaking thing in the world. You start out with a fixed budget of expenditure. You think everything is provided for, and then you find you need all kinds of things you didn't dream of.

Do you know that by a new way of planning your space, you can save all this trouble and expense?

In Pictorial Review for November, N. M. Woods begins a new series on Economy in House Designing. His idea is entirely new and has already met with extraordinary response. Experts declare that no magazine has ever published anything so helpful and practical.

MINERS ACCEPT WILSON'S OFFER.

Operators also Agree to Try Arbitration Plan.

Strike Order Issued by Lewis may be Rescinded.

Men are Warned Against any Sabotage Programme.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Secretary of Labor Wilson announced tonight that he had assumed jurisdiction under the law as a mediator in the controversy between the coal miners and operators of the central competitive fields, which has resulted in a call by the United Mine Workers of America for a strike on November 1.

Secretary Wilson said that both John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, and Thomas F. Brewster, president of the Coal Operators' Association, had accepted his invitation to confer with him and that the conference would be held here Friday.

HAS LEGAL BASIS.

The action of the Secretary of Labor to bring about settlement of the dispute between miners and operators is to be undertaken under section 8 of the law creating the Department of Labor, which provides that "the Secretary of Labor shall have power to act as mediator and to appoint commissioners of conciliation whenever in his judgment the interests of industrial peace may require it to be done."

Intervention as a mediator in the proposed strike without awaiting a request from one of the parties to the controversy, as is the usual policy of the Department of Labor, was said to have been impelled by the extreme gravity of the situation.

STRIKE CALL ISSUED.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—After approving and sending on its way to the 4000 local unions in the country the official order calling on all union bituminous-coal miners in the United States to cease coal production at midnight October 31, John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, left here late today for Washington to attend a conference called by Secretary Wilson, with Thomas T. Brewster, president of the Coal Operators' Association. Mr. Lewis will arrive in Washington late tomorrow.

Before leaving the city Mr. Lewis declared that the only thing that could prevent a strike of the miners on November 1 would be the reaching of an agreement between the miners and operators' representatives before that date. Even if that should result from the Washington conference, he said, the agreement would not be binding until it had been acted upon by miners at a reconvened convention. The signing of an agreement by the representatives of the operators and miners before November 1, it was said, however, would mean the countermanding of the strike order issued today, at least until the convention acted upon the contract.

The miners' head would make no predictions as to the result of the conference in Washington. In the meantime, he said, preparations for the strike would be continued.

The strike order warns the mine workers that there must be no suspension or stoppage of coal production before the time fixed in the order and declares that orderly procedure must be followed throughout.

The official strike call permits local unions to assign "a sufficient number of men to remain at work to insure the proper care and protection of all mining properties, in conformity with the provisions of district agreements."

WARNS AGAINST SABOTAGE.

It also urges that fullest cooperation be given "the operator to prevent injury to property," and asserts that "under no circumstances should this rule be violated or set aside by local unions."

Mr. Lewis wired Secretary of Labor Wilson that he would be in Washington at 11 o'clock Friday morning, October 17, for a conference on the bituminous-coal-mine situation.

LONDON BUILDING TO AID AMERICAN TRADE.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—For promoting American trade in the British isles and benefiting manufacturers within the British dominions the Bush Company, whose capital stock is held by the American Bush Terminal Company, will erect a huge building at Aldwych on the Strand, London.

For a ninety-nine years' lease of the semicircular site, 124,000 square feet, the extraordinary annual rental of $275,000 is offered the London County Council.

The proposed building, in brick, is limited in height to eighty feet by a city ordinance. It will include permanent exhibition and sales rooms, a commercial intelligence bureau, trade library and buyers' club. The company plans to make the building similar to the one at Forty-second street, in New York, the chief center of Anglo-American trade in the American metropolis.

SHANTUNG VOTE PLANNED TODAY

was evident that the treaty ratifying body was off for another field day of debate.

Hoping then that the way might be cleared for the reading at tomorrow's session by ending debate on the Shantung provision today, the leaders agreed informally that the amendment should be voted on if possible before adjournment. Both sides lined up their forces for the test, but when late in the afternoon Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, began another long attack on the treaty, the Senate managers threw up their hands and announced there would be no roll call today. There has been no formal agreement and the leaders hope for final action on the amendment some time tomorrow afternoon.

LINE-UP ON SHANTUNG.

During most of today's session the debate stuck close to its text, which was the Foreign Relations Committee's amendment to transfer the Shantung rights to China in place of Japan. Some Senators whose stand had been the subject of some speculation announced they would vote against the pending proposal, but all of them indicated they would support a reservation on the subject. They were Senators Colt, Rhode Island; Lenroot, Wisconsin, and Spencer, Missouri, Republicans, and Shields, Tennessee, and Thomas, Colorado, Democrats.

Besides Senator Reed, Senators Borah, Idaho; Brandegee, Connecticut, and Lodge, Massachusetts, spoke in support of the amendment, Mr. Brandegee reading into the record a long pamphlet on the subject published by the Chinese Society of America. Senator Lodge, who, as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, wrote the amendment, made a speech of only a few sentences in reply to the argument that amendment of the treaty would mean its defeat.

"We never will see the day," said Mr. Lodge, "when Europe will refuse to let the United States come into the treaty on any terms it chooses. It can dictate today, but the moment we become ensnarled in the league we can't do it."

INTERPRETATIONS PRESENTED.

During the day interpretive resolutions, proposing the preservation of Egypt's right to self-government, and construing the league covenant to guarantee freedom to capable peoples placed under mandatories by the treaty, were presented by Senator Owen, Democrat, Oklahoma. He said he intended the measures to be entirely separate from the treaty ratification.

Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, announced he would vote against the amendment, but present a reservation to "withhold assent" from the Shantung provision, and to reserve for the United States "full liberty of action" in respect to any controversy arising under it. He argued that those who want the United States to change the treaty so as to give Shantung to China had been inconsistent in also demanding that this country stay out of European quarrels.

"Senators want us to stay out of Europe," he said, "but the same Senators want us to dictate in Asia."

COLT OPPOSES CHANGES.

Adoption of textual amendments would mean defeat of the peace treaty and would accomplish no practical result that could not be brought about by reservations, Senator Colt, Republican, Rhode Island, said.

Referring to the Shantung amendment, and that proposed to equalize voting power in the League of Nations, the Rhode Island Senator declared, they would reopen peace negotiations, while reservations would change its provisions only for the reserving nation.

It would be unfair, he argued, to increase the voting power of the United States, as proposed in the amendment of Senator Johnson, Republican, California, and leave the other first-class powers with only one vote in the assembly.

Senator Owen announced that he had not changed his stand for unqualified acceptance of the treaty.

Senate reading clerks, resuming their prolonged struggle with the text of the peace treaty today, have passed through only 180 out of 440 sections of the mammoth document, according to latest estimates. Debates and oratorical efforts of Senators alike have interrupted the progress.

YUDENITCH ADVANCE STAGGERS BOLSHEVIKI.

TRIUMPHANT OFFENSIVE TAKES EVERY OBJECTIVE WITH SLIGHT LOSSES.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Oct. 14.—"The success of Gen. Yudenitch against the Bolsheviki is so complete as to be almost staggering," says the Daily Mail's Reval correspondent, telegraphing Monday. "His advance guard took Koloshova, fifty miles from Petrograd, Sunday, and his army regained almost the advanced point of the Jubo offensive. A thousand prisoners, thirteen guns, many machine guns and an armored train were captured yesterday.

"A force detached from the northward seized Goonontova and 600 prisoners. Pskov was retaken this morning. The Russians also are close to the important station of Luga.

"The Bolsheviki everywhere are in panic. The Bolshevik ministries in Petrograd are said to have been closed Thursday.

"Gen. Yudenitch's offensive is continuing under a wave of patriotic enthusiasm on a front of 100 miles."

ADVICES VIA NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Anti-Bolshevik forces in Russia are meeting with success, according to a statement made public by the Russian information bureau here. The statement follows:

"The offensive on the Siberian front is developing successfully. The Siberian army has advanced during the last twenty days about 150 versts (100 miles) to the west of the Ishim River, reached the Tobol River, took Tobolsk and is nearing Kurgan. During this period, eight Bolshevist regiments were annihilated, 10,000 prisoners, forty guns, 200 machine guns, several staffs, trains and a great number of war materials were taken."

The statement added that Gen. Denikine had occupied a number of towns on the southern front.

AMERICA NOT IN BLOCKADE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Oct. 14.—The United States did not join with the Entente powers in asking Germany to cooperate in a blockade of soviet Russia, and the American delegation here does not admit any American participation in an actual blockade against Russia in the Baltic, as that country is unwilling to approve the principle of a peaceful blockade and none of the Allied and associated powers are actually at war with the soviet government.

Sure Way to Regain Robust Bloom of Youth

A smooth, velvety-soft skin, with a delicate peach-like bloom, is one of the Creator's most exquisite works. When the first blush of youth is over, this beautiful tint and satiny luster are rarely seen. How to preserve them—that's the question. Famous beauty experts abroad long have known that ordinary mercolized wax works wonders in this direction. It actually gives a new surface to the skin restoring that marvelous girlish color and softness in a remarkable manner. An ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug store, will convert a faded, wornout, discolored, freckled or pimply complexion into one of captivating loveliness in less than two weeks.
No special skill is necessary in applying mercolized wax, it being smeared on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.—[Advertisement.

This firmly established by-word was born of the remembrance of the old-time "pills" that were given when a laxative was necessary. They were bitter in taste and harsh in action.
It is different today. PURLETTS, the modern laxative, taste like candy, yet contain all of the necessary elements for correcting constipation, and they are mild, yet thorough in action. Children take them eagerly and grown-ups prefer them because of the pleasant taste.

PITTSBURGH IS IN FULL BLAST.

More Mills Operating with a Normal Production.

Steady Stream of Men Returns to Steel Plants.

Youngstown Blast Furnace is Lighted Again.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—Pittsburgh district steel mills are operating more fully today than at any time since the nation-wide strike of steel workers began more than three weeks ago according to reports from representatives of the employers. Latest statements from companies indicated that hundreds of men are returning to work daily.

The claims of the companies were met by union leaders today with the statement that the strikers are gaining ground steadily.

FREE SPEECH FIGHT.

The fight for free speech and free assemblage, which the steel strikers claim has been denied them in the Pittsburgh district, will probably be carried to the courts, according to announcement made today at the national headquarters of the unions involved in the strike.

W. B. Rubin, counsel for the strikers' national committee, today notified Mayor Babcock of Pittsburgh, Sheriff Haddock of Allegheny county and all the burgesses in the steel towns in this vicinity that the union organizers will make a test case of the alleged rulings of the public officials in denying the strikers the right to hold meetings.

The test case, it is said, will be made on the refusal of the police authorities to permit the holding of a meeting in a hall on the South side tonight. About 1000 men gathered, but Police Commissioner Walsh refused to allow anyone to enter the place unless a permit to hold the meetings could be shown. Many in the crowd angrily protested against the action of the police and one man was arrested.

CALL VERDICT FAKE.

Announcement was made at steel strike headquarters here today that J. C. Brown, assistant to W. Z. Foster, secretary of the steel workers' national committee, has forwarded to Chairman Kenyon of the Senate committee investigating the strike, an affidavit signed by two physicians, in which it is asserted that the Coroner's verdict in the case of Mrs. Canny Sellens, shot and killed near a coal mine at West Natrona, Pa., August 26, was not in accordance with the facts.

Mrs. Sellens was an organizer for the United Mine Workers. It was testified that deputy sheriffs fired at a crowd, at the time Mrs. Sellens was killed, in self-defense. Witnesses for the strikers declared she was killed while protecting children. The Coroner's jury verdict was to the effect she was killed by persons unknown during a riot.

The affidavit of the physicians, made after the body was exhumed and examined this week, avers the woman was shot three times—twice in the head and once in the back. The Coroner's finding shows death was due to a gunshot wound in the left temple.

The affidavit was sent to the Senate committee, it was announced, to show she was killed by a shot in the back, and that the other two bullet wounds were made probably after she had been killed.

INCREASED PRODUCTION.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Aside from the situation at Gary, Ind., where disclosures of Red arrests and revelations of the discovery of anti-government plots by Federal authorities yesterday attracted nation-wide attention, the industrial conditions in the Chicago steel district today showed no material change in the past twenty-four hours.

From many of the huge plants throughout the district came reports of increased production, with many striking employees returning to work after an absence of more than three weeks.

Strike leaders issued the usual statements that the strike had not been affected by the men who had resumed employment.

EATS DOG CHAINS, GETS INDIGESTION.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—Discovery of a "human junk heap" was announced today by officers of the house of correction at Deer Island today. Charles W. Buzzell of Montreal, serving a sentence of one year for forgery, complained of indigestion.

A surgical operation resulted in the recovery of two pounds of miscellaneous articles from his stomach. The collection, Dr. L. C. Rockwell said, included parts of a dog chain, two feet long; a safety razor blade, nearly whole; a suspender buckle, and 179 fragments or pieces of glass, hay wire, nails and screws. Relieved of these substances, Buzzell has almost entirely recovered, it is said.

The prisoner had been accumulating the collection with suicidal intent, according to Dr. Rockwell, since last December.

Reports were received yesterday that the movement of lava into the ocean had stopped.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 15.—Loaded to capacity, the steamship Point Bonita, which inaugurated the service of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company between Baltimore and San Francisco, via the Panama Canal, sailed tonight.

The trip will occupy about thirty days, it was said at the company's office. The ship will touch at various Central American ports, as well as at Los Angeles.

World War Legion Gives Up.

Screens Keep Out Flies—What Keeps Out Disease Germs?

Flies are a visible menace to health, therefore screens are used to keep them out.

But what about the invisible, deadly disease germs that float through open windows, that screens can't bar? Is it wise to ignore this dangerous menace simply because it is unseen?

Disease germs breed, thrive, and spread amazingly in warm weather.

Remember, it costs less and it's far easier to protect your health now, than to regain it later.

WHITE ARMY NEAR PETROGRAD KEY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 15.—The Russian northwestern army has pushed to a point just outside of the town of Gatchina, the fall of which was expected to take place Tuesday, according to a belated Helsingfors report reaching here today.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Gen. Denikine's anti-Bolshevik army has captured the important city of Orel, together with thousands of prisoners and enormous quantities of material, it was announced in advices received here today. Gen. Denikine's communique reporting the capture of Orel reads:

"Orel was entered after many days of fierce fighting, in which several regular divisions were defeated. The townspeople welcomed the troops, falling on their knees and calling out 'Christ is risen.' East of Orel our troops debouched on the line Preobrashensikowe-Turemoff."

Two batteries of Bolshevik artillery fell into Gen. Denikine's hands. The communique further reports a series of successes at various points along the front, in which some 4000 prisoners and a number of guns were captured, and in one instance an entire division was broken up. North of Pavlovsk, on the Done, 224 miles southeast of Orel, the enemy was flung across the Iserede River, and 1500 prisoners and eight machine guns were taken.

REDS ADMIT LOSS OF OREL.

A Russian soviet official statement, received today by wireless, admitted the abandonment of Orel by the Bolsheviki.

In official quarters here it is declared that Gen. Yudenitch, commander of the Northwestern Russian forces advancing on Petrograd, is working in close understanding with Admiral Kolchak, head of the all-Russian government, and Gen. Denikine, in a combined effort against the Bolshevik armies in Siberia, Southern Russia and on the northwestern front.

Gen. Yudenitch's troops are fully equipped now by the Allies, with whom the general is in constant touch.

CRISIS FOR REDS.

With Gen. Denikine's Cossack army advancing from the south and the Northwestern Russian forces almost within striking distance of Petrograd, the soviet government of Russia appears to be facing a crisis. Bolshevik headquarters at Petrograd were closed last Thursday, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Reval.

The northwestern Russian army has apparently crashed through the Bolshevik lines over a wide front. Pskov has been captured and it is believed that the forces under Gen. Yudenitch also have taken the important town of Luga, about eighty-five miles southwest of Petrograd. The capture of Yamburg, seventy-five miles from Petrograd, was reported on Monday, and latest dispatches indicate the line of advance to be nearly 125 miles in length.

TULA IS OBJECTIVE.

On the south of the Denikine troops appear to have approached quite near the town of Tula, which is considered the key to Moscow from that side. A dispatch received here says that if Tula falls to the Cossacks the Bolshevik commissaries will flee into Turkestan, taking advantage of a gap between the Denikine and Kolchak forces in the Volga Valley.

In connection with the report from Germany that England had invited Germany to co-operate in the coercion of soviet Russia, the correspondent of the Associated Press learns that a communication of this nature was made to Germany by the Peace Conference.

PETROGRAD'S FALL NEAR.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

STOCKHOLM, Tuesday, Oct. 14.—The northwestern Russian army is reported here to have pushed some thirty-five miles beyond Yamburg and to be within twenty miles of Gatchina, thirty miles southwest of Petrograd. The taking of 1500 prisoners and nine guns from the Bolsheviki is announced. Confidence is expressed among the officers that Petrograd will fall before this attack.

In fighting, the Red army is making use of mines to a great extent, blowing up the roads everywhere while retreating.

An armored train named Lenine and several armored automobiles, as well as eighty railway cars, were among the material captured at Yamburg.

BLOCKADE DISCUSSED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 15.—The Kreuz Zeitung learns from "well-informed quarters" the government will in all probability agree to join in the blockade of soviet Russia proposed by the Entente powers. It is said the government will lay down certain conditions, "and will primarily consider Germany's political interests when reaching a decision as to its final attitude."

[Word of the request to Germany to participate in a blockade of soviet Russia came first from Berlin, and was later followed by reports from neutral states, intimating that they, too, had been required to join in a blockade. No definite announcement of such contemplated measures, however, had been made from Paris or London, causing some adverse newspaper comment. It was stated in Paris yesterday that the United States did not join with the Entente powers in asking Germany to co-operate in such a blockade, and the American delegation there did not admit any American participation in an actual blockade against Russia.]

SHIPPING BOARD GETS FIVE GERMAN LINERS.

WAR DEPARTMENT TURNS OVER SHIPS DESPITE CLAIMS OF ENGLAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Formal custody of five of the eight former German passenger ships, title to which is now a subject of diplomatic discussion between the United States and Great Britain, was today transferred from the War Department through officials of the port of embarkation here to the United States Shipping Board. The ships transferred are the giant liner Imperator, the Mobile (formerly the Cleveland,) Pretoria, Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm and Zeppelin, aggregating 111,393 gross tons.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Consultations are in progress by cable between the officials in Washington and Paris regarding the disposition of the former German liner Imperator and other passenger steamers which were used for the transportation of American troops, but now are claimed by the British government under allotment by the reparations commission, and it is regarded as probable that the question will be settled by that commission.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—The Madawaska, formerly the German passenger liner Konig Wilhelm II, which arrived here today from New York, via the Panama Canal, has been added to the army transport fleet of the Pacific. The ship is one of the largest of the Pacific transports, having a length of 400 feet and breadth of fifty feet.

CHICAGO DISCREDITS PARIS YOUTH SECRET.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—"Absolute rot," said Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan, chief surgeon at the Presbyterian Hospital, today, when shown Paris cable dispatches telling of "a remarkable scientific discovery" by Dr. Serge Voronoff, whereby youthful vigor might be restored to old age.

The dispatches reported that Dr. Voronoff had transplanted "the interstitial glands" of an ape to the body of an 80-year-old French statesman, with the result that the patient became stronger, more interested in life and intellectually more vigorous. The transplantation was called "an enormous step toward the abolition of old age and decay."

"That is a faker's trick," said Dr. Bevan. "It is not new. It has been tried again and again. Every few years the thing crops up as a 'great scientific discovery.' It is rot. There is nothing in it."

"This Dr. Voronoff is doing nothing more than was done in Chicago five years ago by Dr. G. Frank Lydster," said Dr. Edwin Kuh. "Dr. Lydster has done the same thing, except that he used glands and tissues from recently dead human bodies.

"The transplantation does not increase life or intellectual vigor, however. When successful, as it has sometimes been, in a degree, it merely increases the functions of the transplanted glands."

Big Jewel Theft in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The theft of jewels valued at between $100,000 and $150,000 from the apartment of Mrs. Leyla Brandeis was reported to the police today. Mrs. Brandeis is the widow of Brandeis, who, with two brothers, founded the department store in Omaha, Neb., which bears their names. According to the list supplied by the police, the stolen gems included a large rope of pearls, a diamond necklace, several diamond pins, rings and other articles, which had been given to Mrs. Brandeis by her husband.

REFUSE TROOPS FOR ARMENIANS

Senate Committee Report is Against Intervention.

Military Expedition Finds but Unfriendly Comment.

No Objection to Raising an Army from Nationals.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The administration's request for Congressional authority to send American troops to restore order and maintain it in Armenia is doomed to rejection.

The Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee which has been investigating the Armenian case is prepared to make an adverse report within the next few days on the Williams resolution granting the President authority to use any part of the military or naval forces of the United States to protect the Armenians.

Members of the committee have come to the conclusion, it was stated today, that it would be most unwise for the United States to embark upon a military expedition in Armenia on the scale proposed by the administration. There are wide differences of opinion as to the number of troops necessary for the undertaking. There have been reports that the British government thinks the United States should send 300,000 men. Another report is that the American government offered to compromise with 50,000.

The committee recently received a cable from the American delegation in Paris urging the dispatch of a brigade, or about 5000 troops there at once to save Armenia from ruin.

Senator Harding, of Ohio, chairman of the subcommittee, said today there would be no objection to the raising of a legion of Armenians in the United States to undertake the Armenian mandate. He thought Congress would be willing to appropriate money for the equipment and maintenance of such a legion.

The report on the resolution has been held up by the committee for some time because members of the committee have been desirous of obtaining some information direct from the President.

They wanted to know whether it would not suffice to send a warship to Armenian waters ready to land marines to maintain order and safety at certain strategic points. In view of the unlikelihood of their obtaining such information from the President for some weeks they are now ready to make their report.

There is every indication that the whole committee will ratify the subcommittee's report. If the Williams resolution ever gets to the floor of the Senate it is predicted it will be defeated, as canvass of sentiment has shown little enthusiasm for accepting the Armenian mandate, even among some of the President's closest followers.

Just What She Needed.

"I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets some time ago, and they proved to be just what I needed," writes Mrs. Volta Bankson, Chillicothe, Mo. "They not only relieved me of indigestion, but toned up my liver and rid me of backache and dizziness that I had been subject to for some time. They did me a world of good and I will always speak a good word for them."—[Advertisement

MRS. LLOYD GEORGE IS A PROHIBITION WORKER

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Mrs. David Lloyd George, wife of the British Premier, is taking a prominent hand in the prohibition campaign, addressing a meeting of 2000 women at Glasgow yesterday.

Dispatches received here quote Mrs. Lloyd George as saying the success of the campaign depended upon women.

"It is the duty of women to help the victims of alcoholism at home as it was to help the victims of Prussianism in Belgium five years ago," Mrs. Lloyd George is reported to have said.

"Scotland is on the eve of a great campaign, and next year the eyes of temperance reformers throughout the world will be focussed on Scotland. If Scotland is won, the victory will be a great stimulus to the world to do likewise."

Tobacco Hardens the Arteries, Overtaxes the Heart and Shortens Life

Says Dr. Connor Who Suggests a Simple Test. If It Is Hurting You. Can You Stop?

New York.—Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital, says: Hundreds of thousands of men who smoke and chew and who believe themselves healthy are suffering from progressive organic ailments. They would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco and most of them would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco.

The best known habit forming principal of tobacco is nicotine, but the most deadly and demoralizing is furfural. Both are deadly poison, which, when absorbed by the system slowly, but surely, affect the nerves, membranes, tissues, vital organs and vitality of the body.

The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances and the individual. In some it causes general debility, others catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, cowardice and fear, mental confusion, etc.; in others it causes heart disease, bronchial troubles, hardening of the arteries, palpitation of the heart, tuberculosis, blindness, cancer and the common affliction known as tobacco heart.

If you use tobacco in any form you easily detect its harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read aloud a full page from a book. If your voice becomes snuffled, hoarse or indistinct and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of very serious catarrhal trouble. Next, in the morning, before taking your breakfast, walk briskly three flights of stairs and see if you can do that. If you are short of breath, if you have a tendency to cough, if you are troubled with tremulous of the heart, if you are a victim of a headache, biliousness or trouble. If you find you are a victim of any of these troubles, if you are a slave to the tobacco habit, if you are slowly poisoning yourself with the deadly drugs, nicotine and furfural, contained in cigarettes—keep on using them, in either case, you have only to continue the use of tobacco in any of its forms—keep on with the habit, in the regular manner in which you have been using it, and in a short time you will be a victim of one of the diseases mentioned above, or some other serious ailment. Then is the time to stop the use of tobacco. Don't wait until you are a confirmed victim of the habit, but stop now. Go to your druggist today and get a box of Nicotol. Take one of these tablets after each meal and in a few days, or at most a few weeks, you will have no craving for tobacco in any form. The craving will leave you entirely, your nerves will become strong and steady, your general health will improve.

Note: When taking Nicotol to relieve you of the tobacco habit, it is not necessary to change your habit. It is not necessary to stop using tobacco. You may use it as much as you have been using it, or more, if you desire, while taking Nicotol. In fact, you may smoke or chew to your heart's content. Nicotol will relieve you of the habit, whether you use tobacco in moderation or to excess. Nicotol is sold by druggists everywhere on a guarantee to relieve you of the tobacco habit in from 10 days to 30 days, or your money back. The manufacturers of Nicotol have such confidence in its merits that they will gladly refund the purchase price to any user of tobacco in any form who finds, after using one box according to the simple directions, that he still has the slightest craving for tobacco in any form. NEW SYSTEM OF FAT REDUCTION

Here's a newsway for all fat people to laugh together at that old bugaboo —Obesity. The saying that "there is nothing new under the sun" does not now apply to fat people any more. Here is something new for them—a new sensation, a new pleasure, a new and graceful figure, easily found by anyone who is passing beyond the limits of slimness. Everyone has heard of the Marmola Prescription; that harmless combination of fat-defying elements discovered by one of our foremost physicians. Now, from the same high authority, there comes another idea—the idea of condensing these same pure, harmless ingredients into a pleasant little tablet. Taken after eating and at bed-time, they help the stomach to dispose of all the fatty foods, converting them into compact, solid flesh of muscle and energy, without dieting or exercise. Marmola Prescription Tablets regulate the entire system—do for you what bodily exertion and self-denial can not do, and the fat, once routed, is gone for good. You can prove all this at a trifling cost. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists or sent post paid by the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. A large case—sufficient to bring lasting results—is but $1.

UNIONS INTOXICATED, SAYS TAFT.

Reaction From War Has Left Extremists in Power, He Asserts; Radicalism Leading Workers to Ruin; Hopes Steel Strike Will Prove Lesson.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

One of the phases of the reaction from the war has been the intoxication of power of the extremists of the labor group. These persons in every country have been caught by the Lenine plan of ruling by the soviets of workmen. The war emphasized the special dependence of society upon labor as a group and the Russian debacle gave opportunity to exploit that dependence as a means of subjecting all other groups, however much more numerous, to the dictation of labor. Many workingmen have been carried off their feet and into a vague but exuberant conviction that the millennium of labor is at hand. In the discussion of wages and hours the limit in their minds has been the "sky." No agitator, however extreme, has been unreasonable to them.

Level-headed labor leaders who have sought to moderate these aspirations have found their leadership imperilled and their authority and wise conservatism held for naught. In the reaction from the armistice local labor unions have not hesitated to break their contracts and this against the lawful orders of their chiefs.

Such lack of discipline and subordination to wise leadership is the most discouraging circumstance in the situation and threatens the usefulness and existence of labor unions. It can only be cured by some striking instances of successful resistance to this rapidly-growing tyranny by those against whom it is immediately directed and who shall be supported by the united public opinion of the whole community.

NEED OBJECT LESSON.

The feverish labor enthusiasts need object lessons to bring them to reason. They do not realize the strength of the conservative forces many employers who seem to feel in this country, which will rise to meet persistence in soviet methods. When they take some such lessons as Gov. Coolidge and Commissioner Curtis have taught the deserting police of Boston their ardor will cool. The failure of the British railway unions to overawe that nation, which has successfully defied their attempt to strangle and starve the people of England into compliance with their demands, is another good lesson.

The necessity for still other lessons of the kind makes the public as a whole wish the steel company to succeed in its present fight. The contest is not yet decided, but the company's resistance has already wakened a supporting public opinion, to which, in the end, the unions are likely to be compelled to yield.

This is not to say that Judge Gary was wise or right in his refusal to see and talk with the union chiefs who asked an interview with him. His attitude was typical of that of many employers who seem to feel that a mere conference with labor union chiefs is a damaging concession. It gave to the union chiefs, who were thus curtly refused an opportunity merely to present their views, a slogan which aroused their followers to indignation, and furnished them platform for their propaganda. Had Judge Gary seen these leaders and told them that he could only deal with committees of employees of his own, whether officers or not, and that he would consider, investigate and discuss such grievances as they might present, his position would have been much stronger.

EXPLOIT "NUISANCE VALUE."

But whatever mistake the company's head might have made, the union chiefs, Fitzpatrick and Foster, have rendered unimportant this circumstances in their wrong-headed course since. They refused to listen to the President's request to postpone resort to a strike until after the labor conference could meet and consider the issues that they presented. They were determined in their purpose to show their strength to give evidence of their "nuisance value" to the company and to the public. They would not be restrained. So they have brought on what they might have known would follow—riot, mob violence and bloodshed, inevitable when the agencies of society in self-defense and the maintenance of law and order defend that society against destruction.

It is well known that the steel company generally has been progressive in its wages and hours and that the strength of its position has been in the favorable terms it has given its employees. There was, therefore, no intolerable physical oppression in the nature of insufficient food or impossible housing which prevented a postponement of the issue between the company and the unions.

But Fitzpatrick and Foster could not brook delay. They knew that the union men in the steel company's employ were not more than 15 per cent., but they counted on the unrest and the fever which seizes bodies of workmen these days to enable them to rush the steel company men into a strike and into their unions.

RADICALS WEAKEN STAND.

This was most unwise and savors of a radicalism that has weakened the stand of the unions before the public. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the unions will be defeated in this present ill-considered, inconsiderate and violent forcing of an issue which must be and will be peaceably and fully discussed before the conference at Washington.

What is that issue? It is said to be the issue of the open shop, but this is quite indefinite because of the variety of definitions used to describe an open shop. The real issue is whether employers shall recognize the group system in industry as an institution that has come to stay, and shall permit as many of their employees as see fit to join labor unions and to act jointly with their fellows in those labor unions working under other employers, agreeing upon what they believed to be fair hours, fair wages and fair terms of employment, and dealing with the employers through the officers of their associations, whether those officers are employees of the particular employer or not.

Those who oppose the group system insist that collective bargaining should be confined to the limits of the single shop, that the employer should deal only with his employees and bargain collectively with them, but that no group dealing shall be granted. In this view it is insisted that if the employer and employees wish to have a closed union shop, which by express agreement shall shut out all but union men, it is not objectionable and that if the employer and employees agree that no union men shall be admitted or be retained in the shop, that, too, is permissible.

THE ULTIMATE ISSUE.

It is not within the limits of this article to discuss the merits of these opposing views. The latter view, the shop view, as distinguished from the group view, is set forth in the declaration of principles presented by Mr. Wheeler, the chairman of the employers' group. This is the ultimate issue between the steel company and its men.

One may agree with the men's attitude on this subject and still condemn the strike and earnestly hope that it may be defeated because of the way in which it has been conducted and the inconsiderate refusal of the immediate strike leaders to delay action until after the conference. The ordinary observer of Mr. Gompers's course and views, without being in his confidence, may be fairly sure that he did not advise this steel strike and deeply regrets in his heart that it was undertaken as it was.

CAMP DIX (N. J.) Oct. 15.—The first contingent of regular troops to leave Camp Dix since the armistice was signed will entrain tomorrow on the first leg of their overseas trip to Silesia, where they are expected to do police duty, it was announced here tonight.

Orders for the Fiftieth Infantry, the post garrison, to get under way, were received today. Col. F. J. McConnell will have charge of the contingent, which will consist of approximately 2200 men. Only three-year-enlistment men will leave with the contingent, it was said.

BIG CREDIT FOR BELGIUM.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Sale of machine tools, valued at approximately $2,750,000, to a co-operative society, composed of the heads of about 500 industrial organizations of Belgium, was announced today by the War Department. The Belgian government has arranged a credit of $50,000,000 in the United States and a portion of this fund will be used to pay for the tools.

SYMPATHISE WITH JUDGE IN HIS GRIEF.

FEDERAL OFFICIALS ADOPT RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF JURIST'S MOTHER.

As a token of the sympathy felt by local Federal officials with United States District Judge Bledsoe, by reason of the death of his mother, Mrs. Althea Bledsoe, at San Bernardino, Tuesday, the following memorial was yesterday forwarded to the family of the deceased:

"Whereas, in the order of things as He desires, our gracious Father has called from her earthly abode another of His children, Mrs. Althea Bledsoe, the beloved mother of Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe; and whereas, we, the undersigned officials and attaches of the United States District Court presided over by Judge Bledsoe, are desirous of conveying to him in this hour of sorrow our sympathy for the loss of a devoted mother, to whom we are indebted for the gift of him to us; and whereas, our hearts are the more stricken from a realization of the fact that in the loss of a mother the greatest loss is sustained—the Father gives us but one mother; and whereas, our love for our friend makes our own hearts feel that must rest upon the heart of him; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we pause in the midst of our daily task that our brotherly love, kindness and sympathy may, perhaps, sustain him while his heart aches so. A friend is the first person who comes when the whole world goes out, and so by token of this resolution may our friend and brother know that we are 'coming in,' while the whole world is going out."

The resolution is signed by United States District Judge Trippet, United States District-Attorney O'Connor, and his assistants, W. Fleet Palmer, Gordon Lawson, Thomas F. Green, Milton Bryan and B. B. Crane; United States Marshal T. Walton and his deputies; Special Agent Connell, of the Department of Justice and his deputies; and United States District Court Clerk Williams and his deputies.

Judge Bledsoe reached Los Angeles at a late hour Tuesday night, having adjourned his court at San Diego until next Monday, and immediately took an automobile for his old home in San Bernardino.

A magnificent floral piece, the gift of attaches of the offices of the United States District Attorney, Marshal and clerk, will be sent today to the Bledsoe home.

The funeral services will be conducted at the family home tomorrow at 11 a.m., and as a mark of respect there will be no session of the United States District Court tomorrow forenoon.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO "TIMES" Classified Advertisers.

8 p.m. is the closing hour for the receipt of classified advertisements for both Daily and Sunday Times.

Classified Liners.

CLASSIFIED RATES.

Minimum space, 3 lines or 13 words. No transactions of less than 25 cents daily or 50 cents Sunday.

Ten cents a line each insertion daily. Fifteen cents a line each insertion Sunday.

EXCEPTIONS—A rate of 15 cents a line daily and 20 cents a line Sunday applies to advertisements under the headings of "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Social Notices," "Books and Stationery," "Travel and Excursions," "Money to Loan, Salaries, Chattels and Automobiles," "Money to Loan," "Diamonds and Jewelry," "Medical," "Manufacturers and Dealers" and "Banks and Messages."

Minimum charge applies to each single and consecutive insertion. Count five average words for the first line, and seven average words for each additional line in advertisements not indented, lined or capitalized.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time. The indistinct omission of advertising will be rectified only by the cancellation of the charge made for the service. Orders for "Want Ads" will be made in accordance with published rules and regulations. Adjustments for errors will be made for advertising lines not affected by an error or errors which may occur in other lines in the same advertisement. The Times will not be responsible for errors of any kind in telephoned advertisements. The right is reserved to classify and properly head all appropriate headings, and to reject objectionable advertising.

"WANT AD" SUPREMACY.

The Times regularly prints practically all of the "Want Ads" published in all of the other Los Angeles newspapers in addition to thousands of exclusive ads not printed in any other newspaper.

ARMY TO QUELL MOB OUTBREAKS

Baker Promises Federal Aid to All Governors.

Administration Determined to End Radicalism.

Red Agitation Largely Blamed for Industrial Unrest.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—Secretary of War Baker, addressing the delegates to the convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs tonight, referring to the agitation and unrest in this country since the signing of the armistice, manifesting itself sometimes in race riots and mob disorder, but for the most part evidenced by widespread industrial controversies, said the administration in Washington is determined that Federal laws shall 5e enforced and Federal agencies shall be left unobstructed and that Federal troops will respond instantly to the call of any Governor to suppress riots and disorder in any State.

"The administration in Washington is determined that every Federal agency shall be maintained in the full performance of its functions," declared Mr. Baker, "We have an army of tried soldiers, of true Americans. They have seen too much disorder in the world to undervalue order in their own country. They will see to it that Federal laws are enforced and Federal agencies left unobstructed, and they will respond instantly to the call of any Governor to suppress riots and disorder in any part of the country.

"They are not partisans in any dispute except one, and that is the dispute between those who want order and those who try to create disorder in America. As between those two contestants, they are on the side of order."

After referring to the disturbed conditions in various countries of the world, Secretary Baker said:

"In our own country since the armistice there has been growing agitation and unrest, manifesting itself sometimes in race riots and mob disorder, but for the most part evidenced by widespread industrial controversies. Our newspapers are daily filled with accounts of violent agitation by so-called Bolsheviks and radicals, counseling violence and urging action on behalf of what they call a revolution.

PROMISES AID.

"American people will not exchange the solid foundations of their social order for any of these fantastic programmes. The relations of labor and capital are now being seriously considered in Washington by a group of representatives of the various interests and of the public, assembled by the President, and we can look with confidence to a spirit of justice and mature deliberation upon these grave problems from that body.

"In the meantime, the timid may take heart. Some time ago I telegraphed to the Governor of every State in the Union that in the event of any civil disorder which he found himself unable to control by reason of the demobilisation of the National Guard, the Governor should communicate directly with the commanding general of the department in which his State lies, and correspondingly telegraphed to every department commander to respond instantly with the aid of the Federal troops to any call from a Governor who found himself unable, with the means at his disposal, to suppress disorder and to enforce the local laws."

TREATY FIGHT DELAYS MEXICO INVESTIGATION.

EL PASO, Oct. 15.—The United States Senate subcommittee of the Foreign Relations Committee, which is investigating the Mexican situation, will not be ready with its report before April 1, 1920, Dan M. Jackson, secretary and legal adviser of the subcommittee, announced upon his arrival from Washington, late yesterday.

Mr. Jackson stated that the hearings at El Paso would begin about November 1. The list of witnesses to be examined has not yet been prepared. The work of the subcommittee has been delayed somewhat by the Senate debate on the peace treaty, Mr. Jackson said.

DOUGLAS, Oct. 15.—Merchants in the towns and cities of the Arizona military district contiguous to the Mexican border who, since March, 1917, have voluntarily submitted to a rule that prospective purchasers of arms and ammunition must first obtain a military permit were relieved of this rule late Monday by an order of Maj.-Gen. Dickman, commanding the Southern Department.

Capt. George C. Rockwell, district intelligence officer, recommended the change in the ruling, as he found it worked a hardship on the merchants in the border section who refrained from selling arms to anyone not having permits, while but a few miles north anyone could purchase munitions in quantities only limited by their purses.

WHEAT SITUATION IS TO BE INVESTIGATED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Favorable report was today ordered by the Auditing Committee on the resolution of Senator Owen, Democrat, of Oklahoma, providing for an investigation by the Agriculture Committee into the wheat situation.

Under the resolution's provisions the committee would inquire into the reasons for the embargo on wheat and into transportation facilities as to tonnage for shipment of wheat abroad.

"Cousins" After Wealth of Miner.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—"Cousins" from many cities of the United States have filed claims in the Superior Court here for parts of the $142,345 estate left by William Geistenberg, who, witnesses testified, starved himself to death rather than pay the high prices charged for food. W. Geisenhefer, a friend of the dead man, testified that Geistenberg had mentioned to him only relatives living in New Orleans.

ONLY ONE-THIRD OF GERMANS QUIT BALTIC.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—According to the Zeitung am Mittag, only about one-third of the German army in the Baltic states is obeying the evacuation order. It is assumed in political circles that these troops will complete the evacuation by the end of the week.

Of the other 25,000 men, says the newspaper, two-thirds have been transferred to the Russian side.

I.W.W. LETTERS FOLLOW BOMBS.

Three Explosions in Orange County Oil Fields.

Two Odd Notes to Companies Boast of Red Feat.

Missives are Patchwork of Newspaper Clippings.

Unsigned notes, composed of letters clipped from newspapers and reading, "I. W. W., the 1 Demonstration," were received by the Fullerton Oil Company and the Brea Canyon Oil Company, it was learned yesterday, only a few hours after three bombs, designed to wreck oil tanks, exploded early Tuesday morning in the Brea section of the Orange county fields. The explosions did relatively little damage.

The strange notes are in the hands of Federal operatives, who are investigating the affair.

It is believed the abortive attempts at destruction, which showed every evidence of bungling, were due to I.W.W. activity, as the odd notes indicate. No direct motive appears, as there have been no labor troubles or other causes for dissatisfaction in the affairs of the companies affected.

One bomb exploded in a tankhouse belonging to the Fullerton Oil Company, another on top of a tank of the old Puente company and the third on a tank owned by the Union Oil. There was no attempt against property of the Brea Canyon company and it is believed the patchwork letter was sent to that concern because the bombers mistook the property they had attacked.

The blasts came at 3:20 a.m. at the Fullerton plant, 3:40 a.m. on the old Puente property and 5 a.m. at the Union's tank. The two strange letters were both postmarked 11:30 a.m. Tuesday and were mailed in Los Angeles.

DETAILS OF LETTERS.

They were sent in plain white envelopes, on each of which had been pasted a clipping containing the name and address of the company for which the missive was intended. It is believed these clippings were taken from a telephone book, as they are plainly from some publica-

CALLS FLOWERS BUNKO STEERER.

Judge Denounces ex-Head of Auto Club of America.

Suit Shows He Tried to Sell Print Shop not His.

Court Commends Ugly Case to District Attorney.

In a scathing address from the bench, Judge Valentine yesterday characterized the methods shown by the testimony to have been adopted by J. M. Flowers, former president of the Automobile Club of America, to defraud Richard Rinker, an unsophisticated youth of Long Beach, out of $669, as the most infamous, fraudulent and false in his experience.

After giving judgment against Flowers, the court left the matter to the District Attorney to take such action as he may see fit.

Mr. Rinker answered an advertisement published by Flowers for a partner with $1000 to go into the printing business. He called on Flowers, he testified, and was taken by him to the printing shop at 729 West Ninth street, conducted by J. W. Martin, at a time, it appears, when Mr. Martin was not in the shop. Flowers showed the young man over the shop and told him he was selling a half interest in it, as well as a half interest in the Pythian Voice. An agreement was drawn up for a half interest for $1000. Mr. Rinker paid Flowers $215 cash and gave him a Ford automobile valued at $400.

The following day Mr. Rinker came to Flowers's office at 125 South Broadway to take over his partnership interest. The agreement also stated that both Flowers and Rinker were to receive $50 a month.

LOST HIS MONEY.

The evidence showed that Rinker never received a dollar from his investment. Mr. Martin testified that Flowers did suggest some kind of a proposition to him about his shop, but that he turned it down. Flowers had taken advantage of his absence to show Mr. Rinker his shop as though he had an interest in it.

Flowers told Mr. Rinker, the evidence showed, that Mr. Martin would not let him have the shop and he was looking for another printing outfit. He took the young man around, pretending he wanted to buy a shop, but he never made a deal at any of the places.

Finally, Mr. Rinker had to look for a job. Flowers told him he had better get something to do, as he was not the kind of a man he wanted, anyhow. It was also shown in the trial of the case against Flowers, in which his family were joined as defendants, that he tried to get Mr. Rinker's mother and sister into a partnership. They declined and thereby escaped the partnership obligation which would have been binding upon them. Flowers declined to refund Mr. Rinker the money he had invested and Rinker brought suit to recover it.

DENOUNCED FROM BENCH.

Judge Valentine said that Flowers's testimony throughout contradicted his statement made in a suit for an automobile and tried in the justice court. It was contradicted by his own sworn answer in the case just tried to such an extent that the court characterized it as "the most infamous case, reeking with fraud and false representation, that has come before me in my experience on the bench. It is to me a plain attempt, deliberately and designedly made, to bunco a credulous person out of what money Flowers could obtain from him. Flowers had added to that deliberate scheme to defraud by his testimony on the stand, the crime of deliberate perjury.

"I do not know what criminal action had been taken or would be taken in the matter, but from the testimony as it appeared to me in this case I know what ought to be done."

FIVE INJURED WHEN STREET CARS CRASH.

Five persons were slightly injured early yesterday as the result of a rear-end collision between two street cars near West Sixteenth street and Union avenue. According to the crews, failure of brakes to operate caused the crash.

The injured are:

Harry F. Wright, 36 years of age; lacerated hip and injuries to the knees.

FOX IS BACK AGAIN.

Frandist Once More is in Residence at County Jail.

George A. Fox, who was convicted of defrauding Mrs. Anna K. Walters out of $5106.25, again took up his residence in the County Jail yesterday. He was arrested at Healdsburg, having failed to appear in court after an appeal to the District Court of Appeal was denied. He was brought back to this city by Deputy Sheriffs Dennison and Cookran.

SLIPPERY :: LAD :: IS :: GONE :: AGAIN.

Fifteen-Year-Old Auto Thief Escapes for the Third Time.

Don Clauser, Who Plays Eel with the Police.

THE police are searching for Don Clauser. Again. It might be said, in fact, that the police are still searching for Don Clauser, because he has been in again and out again so many times since his first arrest on September 25 that members of the police juvenile bureau have been forced away from their easy chairs and roll-top desks and obliged to wander up and down Broadway looking for him almost night and day since he first came to their attention.

Yesterday Don Clauser, who is just 15 years of age and, according to the police and his own confessions, is a clever automobile thief as well as a first-class burglar, made his third escape from custody. The youth broke away from two police officers in Glendale and dashed into the heavy brush beside the road. Up to a late hour last night he had not been recaptured. He was seen at Virgil avenue and Santa Monica boulevard about 9 o'clock driving an Oldsmobile, according to a report to the police. Later he was seen going north on Commonwealth avenue.

According to the official reports of the Glendale police, the boy was taken into custody late Tuesday night following his escape that morning from the Juvenile Hall in this city. Clauser made his way to the yard of the Juvenile Hall and climbed over a high fence. He was arrested after stealing an automobile, turning loose several horses hired from a livery stable and attempting to steal a second automobile. Yesterday, about noon, two officers took the boy in charge and left the Glendale police station to visit the spot where the youthful prisoner said he had freed the horses. On the way the boy made a running high dive into the brush alongside the road and vanished.

BOY'S RECORD.

Young Clauser, according to local police records began his career of crime in 1917. He stole a bicycle, was captured and released on probation. In June of this year the boy burglarized a house at 1330 Fleming street, Hollywood. He was captured and again released on probation. Clauser did not again trouble the police until September 25, when he was arrested and confessed to the theft of five automobiles and told the police of burglarizing a number of houses. Following his arrest, he was turned over to the juvenile bureau at Central Police station.

The boy at once began to plan his escape. Locked in a wire cage in the juvenile bureau the boy was forgotten by the officers and allowed to remain there all night. In the morning he walked from the cell, through the police station, and after bidding good-by to several police officers encountered in the hallways walked from the station. Juvenile bureau officers did not know Clauser was gone until he was recaptured in Hollywood after having stolen another automobile and burglarized a house. When taken into custody the boy attempted to shoot one of the arresting officers with a revolver he had stolen. He was then locked in Juvenile Hall.

CLIMBS HIGH FENCE.

Walking to the rear of Juvenile Hall when turned into the main yard for an airing Tuesday morning, Clauser climbed over a high wire fence and again escaped. With him was Ben Garcia, also a prisoner in Juvenile Hall. They walked to the Los Angeles High School and stole an automobile owned by J. D. Rosefield of 1603 East Twelfth street, Oakland. The boys drove the machine to Glendale. There they left it standing on the street and, hiring two horses from a livery stable, rode to Van Nuys. They then turned the horses loose and caught a ride back to Glendale. The two were later arrested while attempting to strip an automobile, but Garcia escaped. Clauser was locked in the City Jail.

Following a full confession, young Clauser, about noon yesterday, was taken from the Glendale station by two police officers and was on the way to point out where he had released the horses when he again escaped.

Clauser, shortly before his first arrest, ran away from his home at 1343 South Flower street. According to his father, C. F. Clauser, an employee of a local drug company, the boy never returned to his home following any of his escapes.

TO HELP NEW INDUSTRIES.

Million-Dollar Underwriting Company Here, Business Men's Plan.

Financial aid for new industrial enterprises of merit in Los Angeles will be provided through formation of a powerful industrial underwriting corporation, with capital of at least $1,000,000, tentative plans for which were made at a meeting yesterday in the directors' room of the Chamber of Commerce, attended by two score leaders in business and finance.

The gathering was called by Watt I. Moreland, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who presided, to effect some sort of an organization having power to co-operate financially in establishing new enterprises. The meeting authorized the chairman to appoint a committee of ten to formulate details of organization, capitalization and incorporation, this committee to be headed by J. S. Torrance, founder of the industrial city bearing his name, who is one of the active proponents of the plan.

Mr. Moreland said last night that he would hold a conference with Mr. Torrance before announcing the personnel of the committee. It was planned, he said, to have not only men of unquestioned business ability and integrity, but to have represented as wide a range of constructive activity as possible. The decision to stimulate industry here through the influence of an underwriting corporation came after an extended discussion, during which were given the viewpoints of manufacturers, bankers, bond brokers, realtors and merchants.

ALL SUPPORT PLAN.

The sentiment in favor of such an organization was practically unanimous, the only differences of opinion being in the details, which were left to the committee to be appointed.

Mr. Moreland said in opening yesterday's meeting that special advantages are offered in Southern California for the manufacture of glassware, clay products, rubber goods and automobiles. He called upon A. G. Arnell, manager of the industrial department of the Chamber of Commerce, who explained how his department supplies facts relative to sites, climatic conditions, fuel, power, water, raw materials and also the limitations of the Chamber of Commerce in its ability to co-operate financially in the establishment of the proposed enterprise. This was the point, he said, where a corporation as proposed was needed.

The necessity for such an organization at this time to Los Angeles along industrial lines was emphasized by others. Instances were cited wherein promising industries have been lost to the city because there was no underwriting organization to which it could be referred for financial co-operation.

MANY WANT TO COME

Concrete evidence of the need of practical aid for new industries was given by Mr. Torrance, who said that more proposals for new factories came to his office in the past sixty days than in all the previous years

HIGH-LIVER HELD AS BAD-CHECK PASSER.

SAYS FATHER PRESIDENT OF LLOYD'S; GUEST AT LEADING HOTEL.

E. R. Becker, who claims to be the son of the president of Lloyd's, the London insurance company, was held to answer yesterday by Justice Hinshaw on three counts of a complaint charging him with passing checks without having sufficient funds to meet them.

Becker, according to testimony produced by Deputy District Attorney Hill, lived at one of the fashionable hotels in this city, and wrote checks promiscuously on the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco. He is accused of passing a check for $93.85 on Alexander & Oviatt, haberdashers, and later two checks for $50 on the same firm. He is also said to have passed bogus checks on the hotel.

Mr. Hill opposed a reduction of bail from $1000. He said that the young man's father had made good on checks aggregating $3000, and was reported to be "tired" of doing it again.

TREASURER SALARY LAW TO COUNCIL.

The draft of an ordinance providing for an increase in the salary of the City Treasurer to $5000 a year was before the Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday for informal consideration, but it was decided that it shall go through the regular Council channels, and then be referred to the committee. The City Treasurer at present receives $3000 per year.

STOKES IS INDICTED AND WILL PLEAD NOT GUILTY.

Grand Jury Formally Charges Slayer of Dr. Roberts with First-Degree Murder; Inquest Bares New Facts.

The grand jury yesterday afternoon returned an indictment against Charles L. Stokes charging him with first-degree murder in killing Dr. Ernest E. Roberts of Sawtelle. Earlier in the day a Coroner's jury at Sawtelle had reported its finding that Dr. Roberts had come to his death as the result of gunshot wounds in the brain inflicted by Stokes.

Capt. Stokes will in all probability be arraigned today before Judge Craig, in whose court the grand jury yesterday afternoon filed its indictment. It is expected that Capt. Stokes will formally plead not guilty and an early date will be set for the trial.

The grand jury heard as witnesses yesterday afternoon Autopsy Surgeon A. F. Wagner, who told, as he did at the inquest yesterday, of the four bullet wounds in Dr. Roberts's head, and Policeman William M. Littell, to whom Stokes surrendered, saying that he had killed Dr. Roberts because the physician had tried to break up the Stokes home; Deputy Sheriff Walter Anderson, who was active on the case at the scene of the murder, but who did not testify at the inquest yesterday, was also a grand jury witness. The facts were laid before the grand jury by Deputy District Attorney Powell.

THE INQUEST.

The outstanding feature of the testimony given yesterday at the Coroner's inquest, held at the undertaking rooms of Fred J. Finch at Sawtelle, was that though Capt. Stokes talked freely on the night of the shooting, he did not then and has not since explained the presence of the gallon can of distillate which was found near the car. Dr. A. F. Wagner, the autopsy surgeon, yesterday testified that he found that the upper part of Dr. Roberts's body had been blistered or burned, possibly with an oil or distillate, sufficient to burn away or destroy to a shred-like substance the upper layer of skin or tissue. That this was not done by flames from the burning automobile was shown by the fact that Dr. Roberts's oil-soaked clothing, which was brought to the inquest yesterday, but not introduced in evidence, was untouched by fire.

Deputy Sheriff William J. Bright, who arrived at the scene of the shooting soon after Capt. Stokes had surrendered, told at the inquest how he questioned Stokes at the jail the night of the shooting (October 10) and in the early hours of the morning, at the County Jail. Deputy Sheriff Bright told Stokes of finding the nearly empty can of distillate near the automobile, and of the fact that Dr. Roberts's clothing was thoroughly oil-soaked, but Mr. Bright testified that Capt. Stokes made no reply and offered no explanation of who owned the can of distillate, where it was brought from and the purpose for which its contents had been used.

That this feature of the case is considered most important was shown by the cross-examination which was given Autopsy Surgeon Wagner by Attorney LeCompte Davis, counsel for Capt. Stokes.

DEAD OR ALIVE.

"Isn't it a fact, doctor," asked Mr. Davis, "that if oil or distillate were poured on the body of a dead man, it would not blister, as Dr. Roberts's back and body were blistered?" Dr. Wagner replied that the body of a dead man would not have blistered. Mr. Davis next asked Dr. Wagner if it were not a fact that in the case of blistering by oil, an hour or more must elapse before the burning of the skin begins, and to this Dr. Wagner agreed. Mr. Davis did not pursue this line of questioning further, but it seems probable that, when the case comes to trial, the defense will attempt to explain away the burns on Dr. Roberts's body as possibly having been accidentally caused long before the shooting, possibly by the overturning of the can of distillate which may have been in Dr. Roberts's car. Mr. Davis declined to discuss this or any phase of the case, after the inquest.

Deputy Sheriff Bright gave the most interesting testimony of the inquest, for his interview with Capt. Stokes had not been made public before yesterday. Deputy District Attorney Powell, who represented the prosecution at the hearing, was desirous that the entire narrative be told so as to become part of the record, and Attorney Davis made no objection.

BRIGHT'S STORY.

Officer Bright told first of finding the automobile on fire when he arrived, and then after a search, of finding, across the ravine, fifty yards from the car, the body of Dr. Roberts, lying on its back in a slump of willows. In answer to a question by one of the jurymen, Mr. Bright gave as his opinion that Dr. Roberts either walked or dragged himself to the point where the body was found, and the officer said that he believed that on account of Dr.

What's Morbid in Moving Pictures?

Recent "Times" Editorial Prompts Movie Fans to Express Opinions Concerning "Broken Blossoms."

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Pray allow a scenario writer, who has not the slightest connection with D. W. Griffith's picture "Broken Blossoms," except like your own film critic, that of a sincere admirer of the work, to reply meekly to the astounding editorial appearing in a recent issue of The Times, entitled "Morbid Films."

Although "Broken Blossoms" is not directly mentioned in your articles by name, the reference to the picture is sufficiently explicit, and permit me to remind you that morbid or not, no paper was more enthusiastic in its approval of the picture than was the Los Angeles Times.

You say that in fiction the great classics are wholesome and natural. There is a distinct allusion to your own aversion from tragedy. But pray, sir, if by fiction you include the drama, call upon the ghosts of all the great dramatists from Sophocles to Shakespeare. It is by "Hamlet," "Macbeth," "Romeo and Juliet" and "Julius Caesar" that the Bard of Avon is remembered, or by the piffling "Love's Labor Lost," "Two Gentlemen from Verona" or "The Comedy of Errors?" The greatest American novelists, Poe, Hawthorne, Bret Harte, are remembered more for their darker, gloomier masterpieces than for their more blithe creations. What of Victor Hugo's epics — of Goethe's "Faust?"

Your writer, railing at the selection of subjects presented on the screen, exclaims: "Is it possible that the ways and manners of the wholesome and clean are devoid of all inspiration and interest?" I don't know, but I look in the Los Angeles Times of this morning vainly for items of interest inspired by the wholesome and the clean. Instead, I find that the most thrilling headlines are devoted to the suspended sequel of a playwright's fight with an actress; a young girl's attempted suicide; a host of love letters from an unmarried woman to a married man; white slave prosecutions; an extensive account of an ex-army captain killing a doctor; the illness of a man charged with contributing to a girl's delinquency; and what a man who killed his wife has to say about the crime. There is also the usual crop of divorce proceedings.

Fortunately, to divert our minds from these tragedies and morbid phases of life, there is Bud Fisher. There is also Briggs, Fox and others. So also in screen entertainment there are Chaplin, Sennett and the others.

Ask yourself how uninteresting The Times would be did it for a single issue suppress all news such as wars, strikes, crime. Then leave us alone with our ethics and we will leave you alone with yours.

Public Needs It.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I do not believe in waiting until a man is dead to do him honor and to scatter flowers over his grave. I wish therefore at this time to indicate to you that the editorial page of the Los Angeles daily Times is incomparably the ablest and best-written page of opinion printed in the great West, if indeed it is not the best published anywhere in America.

Your editorial of recent date, entitled "Morbid Films," was one of the strongest and most timely diatribes that I have read in many years. It is bound to wield a tremendous influence and do a world of good. More power to your strong right arm. The afflicted and long-suffering public needs just such education and moral uplift.

I am no great stickler for moral reforms, but I do admire that tone of wholesome sentiment that makes the world look brighter and better. I believe in sunshine and happiness, and I feel that hell is the only logical place for morbid, scorbutic, sordid, salacious and "muddy" films that you so incisively and drastically described for taboo.

Art is Everywhere.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Doubtless the man who wrote the editorial in The Times for October 11, called "Morbid Films" has expressed the opinion of the "general public" regarding the photoplay "Broken Blossoms" in calling it "grewsome and utterly dismal," but I would like to remind him of the sad, but all too well known, fact that the tastes of the "general public" are not always as fine as might be desired. The tragic, which he so bewails in Mr. Griffith's production, is not so sidestepped in literature as he seems to think unless, indeed, he excludes from "the classics" innumerable master-minds from the time of the ancient Greeks to the present day.

Strange to say, some of us still seem to appreciate the tragedy, especially when the characters are as finely drawn as the trio of the photodrama under discussion. To me, virtue is even more appealing when martyred, as it is in "Richard the Third" or "Othello," than it could ever be in the "Girl of the Limberlost" and various other tales of similar caliber. When, however, our friend remarks that the proportion of brutality is overbalanced I am ready to agree with him, but when he finds "Broken Blossoms" devoid of beauty, I am decidedly amused. Rather, then, than his cry for directors who will give the public what it wants, I wish to blend my voice with that small, but ever-present minority which has ever called for a few true artists who are deep-thinkers and who will understand the human heart with its various emotions, whether that heart beats under the finest silks or under the rags of the gutter.

Sincerely,
E. L. TAYLOR.

"Plug Ugly Stuff."

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Allow me to congratulate you upon your splendid and forceful editorial entitled "Morbid Films" in today's Times. It requires high courage from one in your position to arise and declare the truth about a picture reeking with fulsome praise and extravagant adulation. It is all you say and more. Personally I became so disgusted with the underworld and plug-ugly stuff that I could scarcely remain in my seat to see it through.

As you say, the majority of the people lead clean and decent lives. In actual life virtue and sunshine are the rule; vice and the murky depths are the exception. Why should our "master film makers" feel called upon to reverse a normal situation?

A riot of advertising resulted in full hooses for "Broken Blossoms." There is no other explanation except perhaps the morbid-minded wished to surfeit upon their favorite pabulum.

Two films I consider as representative of human life and endeavor. They are "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" and "The Miracle Man." Human nature, dwarfed, stunted and perverted, by degrees reached out to the sunlight of sweet and wholesome living, through the influence of a noble and lofty character. This is life, the actual happening of normal human beings.

All power to you on your stand for pictures free from the murkiness, salaciousness and bestiality that characterize the plays of one of our master film-makers.

Time to Wake Up.

GARDENA, Oct. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Don't you think it is about time for the American people to wake up? Are we going to have this country run by Americans or by a bunch of "Irish Micks?" It is getting so that a decent man cannot work and make a living for himself and family without some dirty "Mick" trying to beat him up. I noticed in today's Times where an American at the harbor was attacked by two "Micks" and a Mexican. It seems that he fought back and stuck all three with a knife. Well, he did just right! I wish we had a few more like him. My ancestors fought in the French and Indians wars. Another was a captain in the war of 1776. His son was a captain in the war of 1812, my grandfather, a Yankee soldier was killed in the Civil War. Look at the names of the strike leaders. Nine out of every ten are "Mick." Who blew up The Times Building? What is Mooney? The answer to all of this is they are "Micks." But what are we going to do about it?

President Wilson has a "Mick" as a private secretary. Mrs. Wilson while on the trip to France had "Micks" exclusively as her ladies in waiting, appointed by the Knights of Columbus. When the Legislature of this country declares in favor of home rule for Ireland it is enough to make any decent American almost ashamed of his country. I have noticed The Times always prints the news regardless of whose toes it hurts and I am sending this in with the hope that it gets before the American people. Let us try and keep this land what its founders intended it should be.

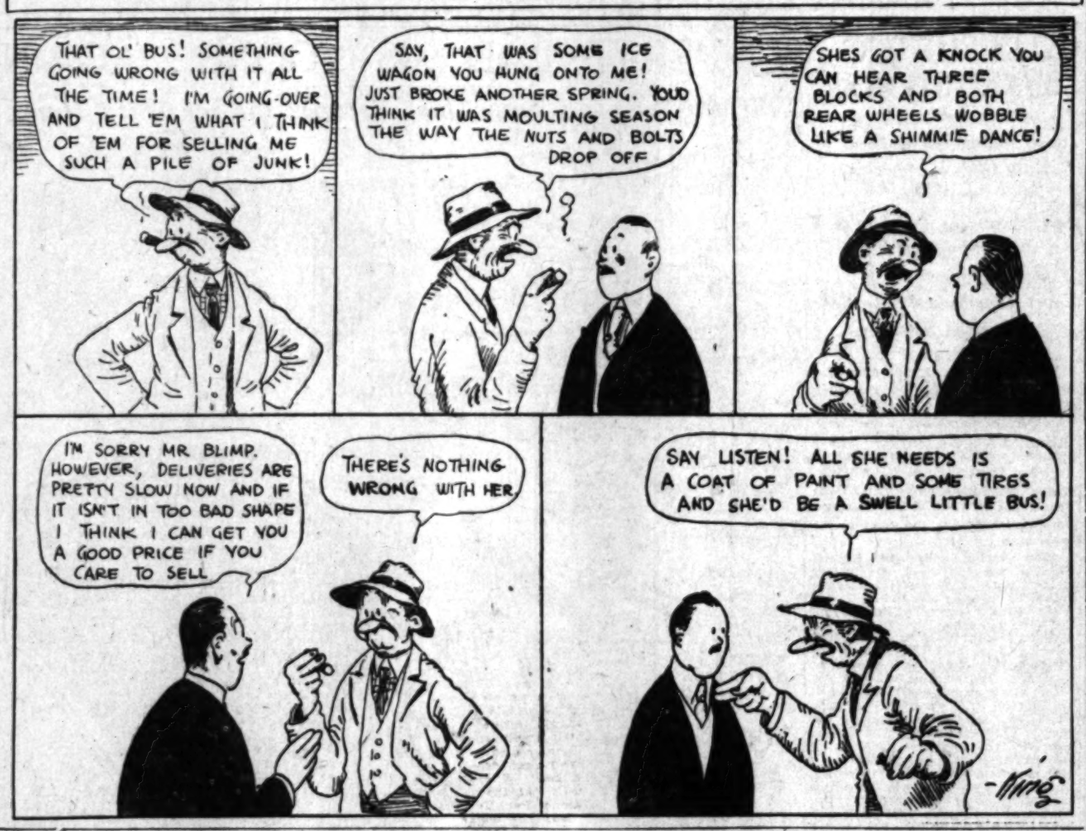
GASOLINE ALLEY—AVERY DIDN'T INTEND TO SELL, BUT—



Presents Argument Favoring League

Official of United States District Court Says Covenant Should Be Adopted Without Reservations or Reservations.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The covenant of the League of Nations contains twenty-six articles, which can be read in three-quarters of an hour. Nine of these articles contain ten lines or less, and none of them extends beyond two ordinary pages. The text is clear and concise. The document is simple.

There can be no doubt of the primary object of the covenant, nor of the plan therein proposed for the achievement of that object. Its principal purpose is to prevent future wars, and to prevent them by the combined effort of the civilized peoples of the world.

The covenant is open to revision and amendment only after its adoption, and cannot be made the subject of reservations. The only question before the Senate is whether the covenant shall be accepted in toto as it stands, or rejected, with the result that the United States shall be excluded from the league. The historical debates preceding the adoption of our Federal Constitution make this clear.

At the time the Federal Constitution was presented to the original thirteen colonies not one of them was in favor of adoption in the first instance. New York, Massachusetts and Virginia rejected it. New York favored a conditional ratification, dependent upon certain amendments, within six years. Many of the colonies to the very end refused to "approve" the Constitution, and merely "consented" to its adoption. Massachusetts' final vote for ratification was accompanied with a "recommendation" that certain amendments should be added. New York's objection to the Constitution and that State's insistence upon conditions and reservations was overcome only by the position taken by Washington, Hamilton, Madison, Jay and others, to the effect that the colonies were limited to acceptance in toto without condition or reservation, or to total rejection.

The purpose of the proposed league is clear. The details, including any amendments that the future may show to be desired, must be left to experience, and to the consideration of representatives of the members of the league. As to the propriety or legality of attempting to accept the league with conditions or reservations, the attitude of Washington, Hamilton and Madison in respect to the necessity for the adoption or rejection of the Federal Constitution as a whole seems conclusive. It is for the Senate to accept or reject the covenant as it is presented; with such recommendations, however, for amendment as it may seem fit to propose. Congress may, if it deems fit, at the time of the adoption of the covenant, serve notice of withdrawal in case specific proposed amendments are not subsequently incorporated in the covenant. The proposed amendments are not what they are in the nature of positive interpretations to be the meaning of the instrument. They would only be explicit what is even now implicit.

COURT AGAINST SISTERS' FIGHT.

Overrules Two Arguments on Extradition Validity.

Third Now Under Advisement for a Decision Soon.

Indicates McDonalds will be Sent Back to Spokane.

Two of the three objections to the validity of the extradition papers for Jewell Marie McDonald and Mrs. Helen Fay Wilkinson, her sister, were overruled yesterday by Judge Craig, who took under advisement a third objection and will render a decision later. The action of the court was taken to indicate that the sisters probably would lose their fight to prevent extradition on charges growing out of the murder of William H. McNutt in Spokane. The argument on the validity of the extradition papers yesterday was made before the court on a hearing of a writ of habeas corpus sworn out on behalf of the two women.

John L. Richardson, attorney for the defendants, appeared for him and Deputy District Attorney Fricke for the prosecution. The court held that the complaint accusing the two women and Ted and Will McDonald, their brothers, with the murder is sufficient to establish a cause of action, and that there was sufficient evidence to show that nor of the State

Louis F. Hart was the acting Governor of the State of Washington, when the papers were issued.

The court took under submission the third point at issue. On this Mr. Richardson asserted that the affidavit of the Prosecuting Attorney of Spokane county, applying for extradition, makes charges on "information and belief" that the two women were in Spokane on June 23, when Mr. McNutt disappeared. It should have been made as a statement of fact, he held. To this Mr. Fricke replied that as the two women were in court, their testimony was best as to whether they were or were not in Spokane at the time and that they could take the stand for that purpose. It was understood the court would hand down a decision in two or three days.

Jim Jeffries Adopts This Unusual Way of Sending Calf to Stock Show.

Here's good news for the children.

The directors of the Los Angeles Live Stock Show, which will be held at Exposition Park, October 18 to 26, yesterday voted to admit children, accompanied by their parents, to the big animal husbandry exposition free of charge on the opening day, Saturday, as well as Sunday.

In addition to the thousands of exhibits, which will be of untold educational value for the children, there will be plenty of special amusements and entertainment furnished for the youngsters. An attraction in which they will be very much interested will be the arrival by airplane of a prize Holstein calf from the Jim Jeffries ranch at Burbank, accompanied by a greased pig from the Baldwin Park Hog Raisers' Association and a flock of chickens that will be turned loose for a free-for-all chase. Any of the children who captures a pig or the chickens may carry it home.

On the other days of the show children must pay admission.

OBJECT TO NAME OF JONESBORO STREET.

In the recent change of names of the streets of Sawtelle, Sixteenth street was changed to Jonesboro. Now comes to the City Council a protest from property owners on this street. They are willing to give up the name of Sixteenth street, but they want the name of Brockton substituted for that of Jonesboro. The protest has been sent to the Council's Public Works Committee.

IN FRAUD CASE.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Orchard will be witnesses today in Justice Palmer's court relative to the loss of jewels valued at several thousand dollars, for the loss of which a claim was made against Lloyd's on an insurance policy. They will testify in the case of W. S. Jeffreys, accused of obtaining money under false pretenses by representing to a representative of Lloyd's that he had evidence to show that the jewels were not lost, but merely concealed.

TWO TRY FISTS AS WORDS FAIL.

As Result Battling Lawyers Draw Pair of Fines.

However, Judge Accepts Their Apologies Later On.

All Started Over Sale of a Package Delivery Line.

Failure of two attorneys to find words and argument of sufficient avail resulted in a lively fistic bout in Justice Summerfield's court, yesterday, and in the court's fining Richard Dunnigan and Louis P. Russell, the participants, $25 each for contempt of court. Though the fines were remitted later, this was not until the two attorneys had duly apologized to the court and to several women who were in the court at the time.

According to witnesses, Attorney Dunnigan, after many legal disputes, hinted that his opponent lacked the proper qualifications for a member of the bar, stating that as soon as court was over he would give a physical demonstration of his opinion of Mr. Russell. This met with the response from Mr. Russell that there was no time like the present, and the battle was on.

Mr. Dunnigan, witness stated, landed the first blow, squarely in Mr. Russell's left eye and the latter was knocked down. He was up in a flash and landed one on the jaw. Mr. Dunnigan got in another blow and Mr. Russell reached to the bench, it seemed, and grabbed a copy of the Statutes of 1915, which he hurled with force, but missed Mr. Dunnigan.

Mrs. Lola McKee, who was a witness on the stand at the time, screamed, and, rushing to the bench, besought the aid of Justice Summerfield.

A well-aimed blow of Mr. Dunnigan's fell short when a constable arrived, in response to an insistent bell being rung by the court. The constable grabbed the attorney's coat, which ripped up the back.

The court cited the attorneys to appear and show cause why they should not be fined for contempt, and resumed the case. When they appeared later, the court listened to their apologies.

The argument arose over the case of the J. E. Vestal Tire Company vs. W. W. Payne, for the recovery of $150 said to be due. Mrs. McKee, testimony showed, had sold a package delivery service to Mr. Payne and asserted that he was to assume all indebtedness, while he declares he was to assume only such debts as were scheduled. The court took the case under advisement.

"Broken Blossoms," the picture Charles Hanson Towne, famous editor, called the "eighth art," will continue one week more. The public demanded it.—[Advertisement.

Dr. I. S. Kirkwood of 3405 South Hoover street has returned after a month spent in the White Mountains and in the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Mrs. Nellie Grauman Kahn of Louisville, Ky., a niece of D. J. Grauman, is spending the winter here and is domiciled at the Stowell Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Elbe will leave this week-end for a motor trip to San Francisco and will be gone two weeks.

Miss Maude Porterfield, who recently returned from the Orient with Miss Helen Craig, is at the Ansonia apartments for the winter, and Miss Craig is her house guest.

COUNCILMEN TO SEE THE CITY FIREBOAT.

WILL INSPECT COSTLY PIECE OF PROPERTY AND PLAN CREWS' QUARTERS.

The painful subject of the city's fireboat, which has cost such a figure that no one around the City Hall likes to mention it, is again to the fore. All members of the City Council are to go to the harbor immediately after the Council session this morning, to make a thorough inspection of the boat, see that all the things for which appropriations have been made from time to time are on the craft and then participate in a trip on the thing and see it in action.

At the same time the Council will look over the situation regarding the housing of the crews. At present they have quarters in the second story of the pilot house at the foot of First street and, although an appropriation of $4500 has been made for the erection of a bungalow-type building for their permanent accommodation, some of the Councilmen are of the opinion that the city could save this money and have the men continue to use the present quarters.

IN STORES AND HOMES.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

By Olive Gray.

Up-to-Datest:

Those Parisian novelties: black velvet foot pillows, lamp-shaded boudoir gem cases, and novelty of novelties, padded silken fruits for wall decoration!

Short gloves — terminating at the turn of the wrist—worn with short sleeves, in quaint revival of ye olden tyme. With these should be worn the bracelet bequeathed by grandmother. The saucy, short, square train upon the evening cloak!

To embroider the frock dansant with real flower petals.

The evening decolletege so very decollete as to leave nothing to the imagination, in re as to the wearer's back. This mode remains, for the present, in gay Paris.

Now is the Time to Buy:

Sheffield plate. Despite the furore of buying there still remains a full quota of those bargains with which the week opened.

Halloweenery. More than ever tempting are the novelties for this gay goblin fete. For house decorations and for the table, the papery novelties are striking, amusing and novel.

Gloves in that anniversary sale, wherein are offerings to testify to the reason of successful building of business, during thirty-eight long years.

Are You Blousy?

That is, have you considered the value of the blouse, in woman's dress and properly availed yourself of its benefits?

This season, as never before, the blouse has become an article preeminent in feminine attire.

At one time, a blouse was merely a waist—modest, unaspiring, merely useful; but now a blouse is more than a waist, and upon occasion, it becomes a blowse, or a blews. I examined, yesterday, in that store not seventh in popularity, some of the recent imports in blouses, which are indeed, things of beauty. One was of black net, in finest texture, beaded in iridescenta, shimmering from black and opalescent shades, to blues and steel tones. Oh, beautiful! Again, a paulette, fringed from the lower hem, about the hipline, to near the skirt edge—a perfectly stunning garment—more of a costume than a mere blouse. Indeed, that is characteristic of many of the new numbers. Worn with a simple, long underslip, which as it emerges, becomes the dress skirt, these blouses are sufficient unto themselves

Traveling "Linen Bargains."

Mrs. B— is a chronic bargain hunter; and recently she came over to boast of an acquisition. "Just think! A pure linen tablecloth, an imported one, for only $6," and she arched with triumph. "Too bad you were not at home yesterday, or you might have had one also!" Aunt Jane is a judge of linens, and after close inspection, she said but little, so we thought she had her ideas on the subject of Mrs. B—'s wonderful bargain, although she was too polite to make any remarks. We questioned her, later, and although she was reticent, we gathered that, in her estimation, the "bargain" was wanting in some essential qualities.

A few days later, Mrs. B— came scurrying over, her "bargain" in her excited hand. "What do you think," she said, "I took this cloth down to C—'s, naming an old reliable firm, "to match it in napkins, and they told me that it is not linen at all, but merely cotton with a certain sort of filling which makes it look and feel like linen! They declared they had practically the same thing for $2. Did you ever hear of anything like that? And I don't believe they know what they are talking about!" "I am certain," replied Aunt Jane, mildly but firmly, "that firm is well versed in such matters. They have an exalted reputation in such matters, and are reliable in every way." "Then you think?" asked Mrs. B— almost tearfully. "Yes, I do," replied Aunt Jane. "As a matter of fact, there are many such peddlers around in the eastern cities. They take that way of robbing—for it is nothing less." "And you thought the cloth was not linen when I first showed it to you?" "I think it never pays to purchase anything of importance from irresponsible persons," Aunt Jane replied, gently. "Local houses put more than the value of any single ware, into what they sell. They put their entire reputation into each article; for they have built honorable standing by years of fair dealing."

Ram's Horn Coiffure.

Have you seen the "ram's horn" hairdress? Fearfully and wonderfully combed, the hair parts exactly in the middle of the head and each half is brought down and curled into the semblance of a ram's horn over and below the ear. Becoming? Yes, to rams. And, of course, to some girls. To those who can wear just anything becomingly.

Wool Hose.

Many women are buying woolen hose, instead of silk. Just why? Well, there are several reasons. These stockings are fine and soft and wearable, and since silken hose are so expensive and do not always last as long as—well, as the price might call for—the choice of many discriminating buyers has fallen upon wool.

All A-dangle.

Whatever it is—finish it with a tassel. Such seems to be the rule. Tassels terminate hand bags, girdles, blouse tabliers, tunic draperies, scarfs. They ornament furs, evening cloaks, street frocks, house gowns, negligees. The more ingenius the placing of these ornaments, the more intricate their designs, the more luxurious their materials—the better do they suit Madame la Mode.

Green Tomato Mince for Pies.

Wash and scald one-half peck green tomatoes. Remove skins and cores, and cut into small pieces. Place in preserving kettle and add one cup of water. Boil rapidly for ten minutes, stirring frequently, then add: two pounds brown sugar, two packages seeded raisins, two-thirds cup vinegar, grated rind of two oranges, grated rind of two lemons, one-half cup of candied ginger, cut into bits, one pound dried peaches or apricots, one pound beef suet, cut fine. Bring to a boil and cook slowly for one-half hour. Pack in sterilized jars, adjust the rubber and lid and seal. Then process for twenty minutes in a hot-water bath. Remove and allow to cool, then store for winter use.

Vamps and Lamps.

The "vamp" veil is a fad which must be confined to the youthful and the pretty. The artful fall of lace, or hand-embroidered net, extending to just below the eyes, gives a most coquettish and almost wicked expression to those designing members; but woe is to her of advancing years who attempts such a device!

On Leaves of Fashion's Volume.

A circular cape of ermine has a lining of Chinese blue chiffon brocade.

A suit of sapphire blue duvetyne is trimmed with bands of gray chenille.

Some tie-on blouses open over elaborately figured or embroidered vests.

Fancy voile can be made up charmingly in the draped surplice fashion.

Short sleeves to be worn with long gloves, appear on some street costumes.

The full skirt is the newest line, but the straight-line silhouette is as good as ever.

Brocade is being used more than any other material for wraps and elaborate gowns.

Some suit coats are not only embroidered, but have heavy cord girdles around the waist.

The skirt with extended sides has so much prettiness that Fashion is loath to give it up.

A very smart coat is the box style, buttoned straight down from neck to knee and worn with fur.

It is said that the dangling and elaborate neck chains will go out all at once, like all over-done fashions.

The afternoon gowns are becoming more and more important.

Some throw-ties on voluminous wraps are finished with fringe.

A charming tie-on model has the extension of its skirt on one side only.

GETS ART COLLECTION.

Paintings for Museum Include an Etching of Roosevelt.

Frank S. Daggett, director of the Museum of History, Science and Art, informed the Board of Supervisors yesterday that the collection of paintings and etchings of Wallace L. de Wolf has been donated by Mr. De Wolf to the museum at Exposition Park. The donor is connected with the Chicago Art Institute. Etchings by Zorn include one of Theodore Roosevelt and another of Grover Cleveland.

The characters live for you in "Broken Blossoms." If you do not see it you will miss the art triumph of film history. Next week is the sixth and last.—[Advertisement.

A CLUB NEOPHYTE'S CHATTER.

October 15, 1919.

Dear Aunt Sophia:

It is so jolly to have all the women's clubs opened again and talking about lots of other things besides nasty old war, and everybody handing everybody else nice little compliments, and Mrs. O. Shepherd Barnum, of the Friday Morning Club, and the other new presidents feeling and being treated like happy and triumphant prima donnas, and the second-term presidents, like Mrs. Mathew S. Robertson, of the Ebell Club, being extra sweet and looking awfully nice when one angles for pointers on who are going to be their successors.

Mrs. Herman S. Darling, president of the Woman's City Club, with just a soupcon of a ghost of a leaning towards genteel socialism, is keeping her club in a merry flutter as to what she may or may not do next, because anything might happen after Job Harriman. Especially as an anti-League of Nations programme is scheduled for next Monday, minus the club's usual opposition speaker, by which both sides of a controversial question must always be heard. Mrs. Richardson's lone voice on the board on behalf of the league appears to have been drowned in the main.

It was just like old times to have Dr. Jessie Russell and Mrs. M. E. Johnson hopping up to object at the last meeting on the frightfully vital proposition that dues be paid half-yearly instead of quarterly. Clubs would be awful dull without their quota of conscientious objectors.

Mrs. O. Shepherd Barnum, at the Friday public affairs committee meeting, gave proof of super-independence of character, albeit she does seem so refinedly acquiescent sometimes. It was when that precocious little Mrs. Thomas Ashley started to read the portion of her City Council report referring to Mrs. Leslie Sloan-Orcutt's little controversy on the Park Commission anent a returned soldier. Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt was in the audience, and Mrs. Barnum quietly, but effectively, ruled that paragraph out. At the close of the report, Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt's polite applause stood out alone in the isolated silence. Our lady Park Commissioner is quite a pet in clubland.

Ebell's opening day was likewise its twenty-fifth anniversary, so, of course, the usual reminiscing was quite in order. All the same it was a little shocking to delicate sensibilities to have Mrs. H. W. R. Strong mention, with a certain beaming satisfaction, that, while Ebell had sprung from modest beginnings, it had since been called "the rich women's club." It was so distressing to hear anything so vulgar as riches mentioned in connection with so eminently refined an organization as Ebell.

The Vermont P.-T.A. seems to be in for a jolly little flutter since Mrs. C. B. Bowling, its president, inaugurated her "hymn of hate" against England. Mrs. Bowling knows where her duty lies, and poor, dear, battered, old Britainnia may as well look out. All her age-old sins are to be trotted out and exploited in the noble cause. There is nothing like hate to keep the blood circulating. How awful if anybody felt it their duty to keep our individual ancient sins in the limelight.

Of course, things can't be really lively in clubland unless somebody or something is being righteously investigated. Just at the moment culpable sinners seem scarce. However, there is a jolly movement on foot to investigate the Masons—you know auntie dear, those close masculine corporations who keep secrets from their wives. There must obviously be something very fishy about them, when there is so much it would be improper for their better halves to know.

Oh, and talking of the dear men. You know the men's City Club is getting quite interesting. It has copied so many ideas from the women that it is beginning to thrive prodigiously. It is really nearly as efficient as the Woman's City Club already, and often quite as lively.

Mrs. Pantages has become a Big Sister. Last Monday she played the violin down at the Training Home, really beautifully. There are great possibilities about Mrs. Pantages as a Big Sister, and she is going to receive almost more encouragement than she can stand presently.

Those two adorable Parsee ladies from Poona, India, have made no end of a hit. They are to be luncheon guests at the Friday Morning Club tomorrow, and look so picturesque in their silks and jewels. Mrs. Cama, who will give a talk, is quite audaciously bright and rather upsets our idea of the cloistered Indian dame. She is quite deliciously up-to-date, smokes with piquant dash, and tells us that divorce is quite au fait among her people, as also is birth-control. "We learn so many things from the West," she murmurs sweetly.

Mrs. Mehta does not talk very much, but she looks volumes. She is on her honeymoon tour, only having been married eight months. Mrs. Cama has expressed her willingness to answer all the questions she is asked, no matter how impertinent or personal, and she is well informed too, having enjoyed an education that many an American dame might envy.

When they were guests at a tea at the Alexandria, Tuesday, Prince Paul Troubetskoy was very much in the offing. He was most interested in them, and begged an introduction. It is obvious he intends making their visit more interesting. They have two most impressive-looking husbands.

And oh, auntie dear, there is quite a vogue for skinned faces just now. I know at least three very prominent clubwomen who have had their faces skinned for $50, with a view to recovering their complexion's pristine bloom and shedding the wrinkles. The effect is a little ragged at first, but the final result is very frisky, with the aid of a veil de luxe. What with this new interstitial young monkey gland Dr. Voronoff is grafting onto elderly gentlemen of 80, by which they become frisky Don Juans of 30, and these new skinning operations, by which the ladies shed the years, we girls and boys are going to be up against some frightfully experienced competition. If Uncle John buys the gland, auntie dear, you go right off and buy $50 of skinning.

So long, darling; more next week.

BETTY.

MOVE TO HELP NEW INDUSTRY.

Torrance had been established as an industrial town. Some wanted only locations, while others wanted financial assistance, he said. He added that underwriting corporations for industries had proved most effective in eastern cities, and that there should be a powerful organization of the kind here to supplement the work being done by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Torrance laid particular stress on the future of iron and cotton production in this section. He believes that these two industries offer a wider field for development in Los Angeles than any others. He asserted that steel can be made in Los Angeles now cheaper than in Gary, and that a new process practically has been established whereby the use of coal may be eliminated. He said that even with coke brought from Utah, steel can be made here $10 a ton cheaper than in Pittsburgh, and that the prospects for iron and cotton-manufactured products will not allow this field to remain unfilled, and will result in a huge influx of new industries.

He explained that the Pacific Coast consumes the output of eight tinplate mills, yet Los Angeles is making no tin plate. He said that the functions of an underwriting corporation should be not only to provide capital and encourage new enterprises that are worthy, but also to educate local investors to the advantages of industrial stock. At present, he said, local industrials are selling below actual value, because investors of this section had been taught to utilize other channels of investment, and do not know the value of industrials.

Such a corporation, he said, would supplement the work of the Chamber of Commerce, would inspire confidence in the commercial world and would attract attention of local investors to new enterprises. He said that quantities of leather, wood, wool and other raw materials in Southern California are inviting manufacturers to locate here.

Others giving hearty indorsement to the plan were: Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific Electric; R. N. Bulle, William May Garland, who declared the realtors realize the importance of encouraging new industries, and others representing bond dealers and banks.

Those attending the meeting included Paul Shoup, E. C. Sterling, L. L. Sheldon, J. E. Jardine, John A. Knight, J. S. Torrance, R. B. Hardacre, W. F. Howard, H. S. McKee, William May Garland, Leo S. Chandler, J. S. Riley, E. S. Pauly, Shannon Crandall, William Lacy, Clinton B. Miller, Watt L. Moreland, Maynard McFie, William Mead, F. Q. Story, W. T. Bishop, D. F. McGarry, Alfred Bayer, Joseph Specht, J. A. Burton, J. W. Kemp, James H. Hill and R. N. Bulla.

TROPHIES ON DISPLAY.

The four silver trophies which were won by the Los Angeles Lodge of Elks at San Diego may be seen in the windows of Harris & Frank on South Spring street. The local lodge's military band captured two of the prizes and the famous drill team the other two.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY LADY JANE.

Friday Morning Club.

The Friday Morning Club has resumed its full tide of activity, not only by offering its regular Friday programmes, but with meetings of its public affairs committee and in the numerous other departments.

Music held the floor last Friday, and tomorrow Mrs. Randall Hutchinson, art chairman, will be responsible for the main programme. It promises to be particularly interesting, in that Francisco Coinejo is to give an illustrated lecture on the Aztec and Maya civilizations, with clever application to modern trends and conditions, particularly as applied to art.

The luncheon speakers will also be particularly interesting, in that one of them is to be Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes, one of our four first California Assemblywomen. She was appointed chairman of one of the most important legislative committees, that of education, and won unstinted eulogies for her work.

Other guests of honor will be two charming Parsee women from Poona, India, Mrs. T. N. R. Cama and Mrs. J. K. Mehta, who are visiting with their husbands in this country. Both women wear their picturesque native costumes of silken veils and flowing draperies, incrusted with jewels, but in other respects appear peculiarly well versed in western ways. Mrs. Cama will make a brief talk, and has promised to answer questions galore. This will be their first introduction to women's clubdom, which has not yet found a home in India.

On Saturday afternoon the clubhouse will see the big annual meeting of the Juvenile Protective Association, of which most of the large clubs are members. In view of the unostentatious, but valuable work the association does among the unfortunate little children of the city, whose natural protectors for various reasons have failed them, it is an organization commanding the special interest of the club women. Reports of the past year's work teem with human-interest stories of pathos and tragedy, rescue, hope restored and youthful smiles recovered.

Ebell Club.

A programme to which all Ebell's fathers, husbands and sons will want to be invited is scheduled for that club next Monday afternoon, when Baldwin M. Woods, Ph. D., one of America's leading authorities on aeronautics, will lecture on that most thrilling of modern subjects, the airplane, tracing its fascinating history down the ages from the time when Leonardo da Vinci, artist and sculptor of ancient Italy, drew his first hopeful, ingenious, but not quite practical designs for a human flying machine, thereby bringing down vast ridicule on his luckless head, to the present day, when we are contemplating our next trip to Europe by airship.

It is a fine, ambitious programme. Moreover, it is insisted that women are quite as capable of appreciating the thrill of engineering achievements as are their men folk.

South Side Ebell.

A debate on the League of Nations is included in the programme for the meeting of the South Side Ebell Club at 8 p.m., today in the branch library at Central avenue and Forty-fifth street.

Woman's City Club.

That unruly children and the law should be divorced was the consensus of opinion at a luncheon given yesterday noon by the Woman's City Club, which was attended by the foremost social workers of Southern California, in honor of Judge Willis Brown, author and founder of the parental court system of the United States.

"The correction of children should be a part of the school system; that part which is called compulsory education," declared Judge Brown, who opened the discussion following the luncheon by citing a number of cases which had come to his attention during the years he was associated with juvenile work.

"As it is now, a child may not have the correction which is due him unless he is first submitted to the disgrace of arrest, after which he becomes the charge of the State. And while the work of the juvenile courts is most commendable, the work of molding and correcting growing children is the province of our school system and no other. The law does not recognise children except to arrest or 'correct' them. Their testimony is of no worth until they are of age and yet they are arrested and placed into State institutions quite the same as some acknowledged to be adults."

"The teaching force is better equipped to handle boys and girls than the law," stated Ernest J. Lickley, who is in charge of the compulsory education work for the schools of Los Angeles.

Deputy District Attorney Becker added his confirmation to the statements and theories of Judge Brown.

Among those attending the luncheon were Judge McCormick, Fred Nelles, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Lickley, Deputy District Attorney Becker, Dr. Dana Bartlett, Miss S. R. Connell, attorney and Juvenile Court worker of Salt Lake City; Mrs. O. P. Clark, Mrs. Hester Griffith, Miss Elizabeth Chamberlain of Sacramento, Mrs. Shehi, Mrs. J. T. Anderson, Mrs. Elizabeth McManus, Mrs. J. D. Taylor, Mrs. Herman Darling, Mrs. Robert Brain, Mrs. E. H. Noe, Mrs. John Coleman, Mrs. R. H. Richardson, Mrs. Harriet H. Barry and Miss Joy Bennett.

WOULD POPULARIZE "SKY-LARKS" HERE.

Aviation as an all-year California recreation will be exploited in Los Angeles as never before, according to the plans which are just now being put into effect by the Mercury Aviation Company.

"Southern California the coming season will be filled to overflowing with visitors from all parts of the world, and we are going to do our best to popularize 'sky-larks' as one of the sports enjoyed here at its best," said G. H. Flebba, manager of the Mercury company, yesterday in discussing the company's plans."

GOING TO HAWAII.

Postoffice Inspector Ranger, accompanied by Mrs. Ranger, expects to sail tomorrow from San Francisco, on the transport Sherman, for Honolulu, where Mr. Ranger will be engaged indefinitely on postoffice work. The task of the inspector will take him all over the Hawaiian group, wherever a government postoffice is established, it being his job to improve the service wherever possible.

IS YOUR SKIN ABLAZE WITH FIERY ITCHINGS?

Don't Continue to Suffer Because of Wrong Treatment.

If you are one of the thousands who are afflicted with any form of irritating skin disease, verily you know what real torture is. You know well enough what it means to lay awake at night, rubbing and scratching your raw and irritated skin, in a vain endeavor to get relief from the fiery burning.

Of course, the most serious phase of skin disease is the almost unbearable suffering caused by the fiery itching and irritation of the skin. In addition, the disease often causes unsightly roughness and discolorations, disfiguring and spoiling the complexion, and leaving its blighting marks in its wake. Many a beautiful skin has been marred by these disorders which first appeared as tiny red pimples.

At last science has determined the real source of all skin diseases, and with this enlightenment comes the reason why the prevailing treatment heretofore used has proven such a complete failure. It has been proven that impurities in the blood cause millions of tiny disease germs to set up their attack on the surface of the skin, and in the form of pimples, boils, scaly eruptions and itchy, burning irritations, begin their disfiguring and destructive work.

Being in the blood, these disease germs can be reached only through the blood, and local applications have no effect whatever. That is why salves, ointments, lotions, washes and other remedies applied to the skin can do no more than give merely temporary relief. Soon the fiery itching breaks out again, for such treatment cannot reach the source of the trouble.

If you want genuine relief from the tortures of skin diseases, lose no time in discarding all local remedies, and begin taking S. S. S. today. You will be delighted with the results, and when you are thoroughly rid of your trouble, you will praise the day you got on the right treatment. You can get S. S. S. at any drug store. Begin taking it today, and if you write to our physician he will gladly give you full instructions about your own case. Address Medical Director, 402 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

AN ICE QUESTION.

It seems odd to read in the paper where people in one section of the country are in peril from an ice pack while in our own sunny section the palpitating citizens eagerly await the coming of the iceman.

SENIOR WRANGLERS.

It may be necessary for the government to provide some plan of compulsory arbitration to dispose of the industrial conference now in session at Washington. But John Spargo can be relied upon to even hold out against that.

HE'S DIFFERENT.

Practically all the bulletins from the Presidential bedside report the temperature, pulse, respiration and blood pressure of the patient as normal. This might be reassuring were it not for the fact that the President is not a normal man.

TESTING THE BREW.

Professors of Columbia University have had a "poison squad" made up of students who have been spending some months testing out this 2.75 per cent. beer. They wanted to find out whether the stuff was really intoxicating or not. It is interesting to note that the general judgment seems to be that it is not. Nothing is said of the manner in which this forlorn hope, this battalion of death was selected, but the impression is out that the average college student from a New York environment might be a prejudiced juror. A youth who has been lapping up the embalming fluid that went over the rail as bar whisky would think this 2.75 per cent. brew was about right for nursing bottles. If the test brew was made up of unfledged stomachs the reports might be of value; but otherwise they would be under suspicion. We will say this, however: If the 2.75 per cent. brew will intoxicate a man now it will not next month—if the man keeps at it. The longer he drinks the soberer he will get, and, therefore, the government and the prohibitionists are both foolish to make much of a fuss over this dinky little percentage. If they would let the wets have all they wanted of it they wouldn't want it very long and it wouldn't hurt them if they did.

THE REAL WORKERS.

In connection with the literature of the steel strikers appears what purports to be a proclamation of the Communist party in America. In the course of a lot of incendiary stuff demanding the extinction of capital comes the declaration: "The workers must capture the power of the state."

That is the very thing the workers will do, and they will do it without any array of class against class. But it will not be the workers who strike for a six-hour day and the elimination of all who decline to wear the union nose ring.

The workers who will have authority in the affairs of state will be those who are glad to put in their ten hours and to work for others as well as themselves and who can see beyond the narrow confines of their organization. They will be those who love work for the work's sake and find joy in a worthy task worthily accomplished.

The Lord have mercy on a land controlled by men who cannot think beyond a four-hour day at four dollars an hour. The men who have brought greatness to a nation are those who were too busy to hear the whistle blow for quitting time. They wouldn't quit.

Men who spend their time fighting and striking for the greatest possible reward for the least possible work have a selfish argument on their side, but will get nowhere—either in this life or the life beyond.

PHOENIX AND TUCSON.

The other day in Phoenix, Ariz., was held a conference between contractors and labor-union leaders to discuss a demand for the closed shop in all Phoenician industry. A committee of business men acted in the capacity of referee. The laborites set forth the condition of peace and felicity attained by any community that places itself under the closed-shop rule. Tucson especially was named as a city that had attained a sort of millennial calm, solely due to the fact that its every branch of industry was under strict union rules that prevented any possible trouble. This argument was accentuated a few days later, when 800 unionized Southern Pacific shopmen struck at Tucson because seventeen of their number refused to work under a roundhouse foreman who had been faithful to the company for some time or other in the past and who had been given his job back when he returned from the war. It is understood he was called a "strike-breaker." As a postscript, it might be added that the Phoenix business men's committee decided for the open shop. As as second postscript, is information that building still appears active in Phoenix, with no labor shortage, and that nothing has appeared in the press concerning and retaliatory strikes in that city. From all of which might be evolved a moral: Giving the child all the candy he can eat doesn't always bring peace to the family, for the family may be excessively annoyed by the results of the consequent tummyache.

A GRAND LIVE-STOCK SHOW.

The greatest live-stock exposition in the history of the West will open its gates to the Southern California public at Exposition Park next Saturday to continue until the evening of October 26. The superlative is used advisedly, for all reports indicate that no such aggregation of fine cattle, hogs, horses, goats, sheep, poultry and rabbits as that assembled for the Los Angeles Live-stock Show has ever before been gathered together west of the Rocky Mountains. The exhibits are coming from a dozen States and the best that California, north and south, has to show will be on hand in competition for prizes, which, including those for the wonderful series of racing events, run well over the $50,000 mark.

The breeding of high-class live stock has become one of the most important factors in Southern California agriculture and the Los Angeles show will be an expression of a movement that is gaining in volume and momentum almost from month to month in this section. Gone is the day when Northern and Central California, or indeed any other region of the country, could assert, let alone believe, that this end of the State is merely a vast citrus grove fringed with bathing beaches and dotted with pleasant communities to which retired persons of means were wont to come to live and take their ease. The established live-stock breeders of the Southland have dissipated that amiable fiction by taking animals bred on Southern California farms and ranches and fed on Southern California feeds to the biggest breeders' shows in the country and walking away with the coveted prizes. And that the live-stock world knows and appreciates the fact that stock-raising in this section has a future of almost unlimited possibilities is attested by the eagerness with which breeders from other sections near and far have welcomed the opportunity to ship the best animals they have produced for public display in the Southwest metropolis.

The influenza epidemic of last fall put a damper on the plans for the great Liberty Fair live-stock show, causing both management and exhibitors to lose money on this initial stock-show project. The Liberty Fair show was a big success, however, in everything but attendance; and the breeders, business men and public-spirited citizens who worked so hard to give the Southern California live-stock movement expression in that exposition swallowed their disappointment and resolved to try again. And strong as was their faith that they were on the right track, they have been forced to acknowledge that the general enthusiasm for a great annual Los Angeles stock show has in live-stock circles exceeded even their own optimistic expectations. Not only are the breeders, who were forced to keep their stock cooped up for months at Exposition Park last year waiting for the lifting of the "flu" ban, all coming back, but there were so many more entries that, after filling all available exhibit space with show buildings, the management was compelled to turn down a waiting list wanting to come in.

If the Los Angeles Live-stock Show falls short of being the complete success it should be it will not be the fault of the exhibitors or the exhibits, for the live-stock men are entering into the thing with an enthusiasm such as has never been exceeded in a great public movement in this city and are bringing to the exposition an exhibit of stock of which any city in the land would have reason to be proud. No agriculturist in Southern California who can possibly get to the show can afford to miss it and no one in the city or country who takes any interest in the progress and development of the section should miss it. As a public attraction it is decidedly of the stellar order and one in keeping with the size and importance of Los Angeles as a city. All who fail to attend, therefore, will be denying themselves the opportunity of seeing something big, important and worth while. Furthermore, the question of whether this stock show is to become a permanent annual fixture, destined in time to develop into one of the greatest exposition events in the United States and to wield a tremendous influence in the upbuilding of the all-important live-stock industry in this section, depends to a considerable extent upon the patronage enjoyed by the show which opens next Saturday.

Don't miss the Los Angeles Live-stock Show!

WILL THEY STAND UP?

To those school teachers of the city who may be wavering on the question whether or not they should join the Schoolteachers' Union of the American Federation of Labor is respectfully referred for earnest consideration the following undeniable statements of fact, made by the Chamber of Commerce, as applying to the policemen and firemen of Los Angeles:

"It is the duty of the Mayor, exercising the authority vested in him by the charter, to forbid the members of these departments (fire and police) to join a labor union. The principle of the right to strike and cease employment in a body is one of the tenets of labor-union organizations, and such a right, if claimed and exercised by guardians of the public safety, would destroy our security."

The chamber rightly takes the stand that the public servant, by his speech and conduct, must open no opportunity for the reproach of partisanship. And this rule of conduct for policemen and firemen applies even more strongly to the teachers of the children of Los Angeles. For the schoolteachers of the city hold a sacred trust, give a solemn obligation to the parents of all of the children of the city. That trust is shared by the Board of Education, which, like the Mayor in the case of the firemen and the policemen, is given powers of control in order that the rights of all the public may be safeguarded.

Policemen and firemen guard lives and property. The school-teachers guard the most precious possession of the citizens of Los Angeles—their children. Again we say, the schools are the soul of the city and the real treasure-houses of its citizens.

Will the members of the Board of Education exercise their rights as trustees? Will they show that they appreciate their tremendous responsibility by keeping the schools free from union-labor propaganda, designed to bring about class control of the schools, by, for and of the labor unions? Will the members of the Board of Education, like the fearless Police Commissioner of the city of Boston, tell the teachers that to join a labor union means instant dismissal from the schools of Los Angeles?

The Smile on the Face of the Tiger.

WHO ARE THE LETTS?

The war, with its aftermath of small conflicts, has introduced to Americans a number of nationalities with whom they were not familiar before the Germans set the world ablaze. Just now the Letts, defending Riga against the Germans and Russians, are occupying the front pages of the newspapers. The average person knows no more about the Letts than he does about the Hairy Ainus, if as much. They were casually mentioned at the time of the Brest-Litovsk treaty and when Russia went to pieces they set up a new republic of their own and claimed recognition from the Peace Conference at Paris. They now have a government with its capital at Riga, the famous Baltic city which the "insubordinate" German troops are attacking.

The Letts leaped into the limelight with dramatic suddenness. Although for months they have been battling to maintain their republic against the Russians, who latterly have been assisted by the Germans under Von der Goltz, the world has had little attention to spare to them. What with strikes in Europe and America, forensic battles over the peace treaty and the League of Nations, the Fiume incident and Balkan broils, few people have been able to bestow much notice on the Baltic provinces. Yet these peoples, long ground down by German barons and Russian bureaucrats, have been conducting a wonderful battle for recognition which at last, through German duplicity, has drawn to them the sympathy of the world's greatest republic. It is to be hoped that the great powers will now act quickly and adequately to allow this little nation to keep "its place in the sun."

Before the war Russia had a population of over 150,000,000, of whom about 1,500,000 were Letts. They occupied Livonia and Courland, two of the three Baltic provinces, the other province being Esthonia. Today the Letts and Esthonians are comrades in arms against the German-Russian forces. The Letts are not Slavs. They are of Finnish origin and have little love for the Russians and less for the Germans. They have suffered oppression at the hands of both and now are determined to be rid of the tyrants.

Livonia, in which the Gulf of Riga, mentioned so often during the war, forms a deep indentation, is about four and one-half times as large as Los Angeles county. It is a land of lakes, marshes and peat bogs, with a climate which has no attractions for anyone used to the delights of Southern California. Despite this, its capital, Riga, was one of the principal cities of Russia and, as a Baltic port, ranks second only to Petrograd, from which it is distant 360 miles.

Although Riga is the chief city of the land of the Letts, it is more a German than a Lettish town, or was before the war. It was founded by German merchants and in 1914 nearly one-half the population were Germans, 25 per cent. were Russians and 23 per cent. Letts.

Riga is not unused to warfare. After the Germans built it the Slavs from the south and east cast covetous eyes on it and it was only saved from them by being practically handed over to the Poles. For one hundred years it was a bone of contention between Poland, Russia and Sweden and finally fell to the latter when they gained the whole of the Baltic provinces.

While Livonia is distinctly Lettish, Courland is more pronouncedly so. Eighty per cent. of the people are Letts, 8 per cent. Germans and the others Russians, Poles and Lithuanians. In size about two and one half times as large as Los Angeles county, it has 100 rivers and many lakes and in consequence is marshy and damp. Until recent years most of the land was owned by German barons, or nobles of German descent. The mass of the people was under the heels of these nobles and the landless laborers were described as "occupying a low position in the social scale."

This sad position was due in no small part to the treatment meted out to them by their conquerers. In early days the Letts were a wild and warlike people, but they were first subdued by the Brethren of the Sword, a German military order, and then by the Russians. They made a desperate effort during the Russian revolutionary days of the nineties to break away from the grasp of Petrograd. In 1907, when Russia was rocked by internal disorder, the Letts wreaked vengeance on their hated masters, the German barons, burning their houses and seizing their land. For a time they were so successful that they declared their country a republic. But the revolutions were put down with an iron hand and the Letts suffered severely.

Naturally, when the fortunes of the world war enabled them to re-establish their republic, the Letts hastened to proclaim their freedom and now they are battling strongly, but against odds, to maintain themselves as a free and independent people.

THE SHORTENED HOUR.

Among the many resolutions before the labor convention at Bakersfield was one demanding that forty-five minutes constitute an hour for night work. Why forty-five minutes? They used to think that an intolerable time to wait for a drink. Why not make it thirty minutes? That would be half time, and at time and a half it would be easy to remember. The organizers are chopping the eight-hour day to six or the forty-eight-hour week to forty-four and now the thing is to shorten up the hour. With a six-hour day the hours certainly should not be more than thirty minutes long! The enterprising agitator who comes out for a four-hour day and a ten-minute hour can get himself elected to the fattest job in the organization. Then he will have no hours at all except those devoted to refreshment purposes. By chopping off fifteen or twenty minutes from the hour every now and then we shall presently have a condition wherein the employers would be paying the men for staying away from work. The man who remained away longest would have the most money coming to him. Then when the men had a grievance they would have a strike—that is, they would go back to work, as that would be the only way they could cut their money off. Of course a man who had been cutting the minutes from his hours in this way would remonstrate down at the billiard hall if he found that his first hour was up while he was chalking his cue, but, after all, the idea is worth carrying out. We are strong for the forty-five-minute hour—or shall it be twenty minutes? Then when we have to wait an hour for the wife to dress it won't seem so long.

MUSIC AS MEDICINE.

In Pennsylvania they are curing diseases with music and in several hospitals in the Lehigh Valley a regular system has been worked out through the department of musical therapy. The inspiration largely came through the experience of the Yankee doughboy at a reconstruction hospital, who was cured of shell-shock and had his memory restored through the playing of "The Little Gray Home in the West."

Now even the department stores and musical houses are advertising certain phonograph and player records for special diseases. There are serenades, lullabies and Ave Marias for insomnia and neurasthenia, and there is a Bach fugue that is said to be swell for lumbago. Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" and MacDowell's "Wild Rose" are sure cures for hysteria, as also is the Barcarolle from the "Tales of Haffmann. "Schubert's Serenade" and the "Schutt Reverie" are great for rheumatism and a patient will forget his twinges under the soothing influence of Traumerei.

Carrying this thing to its logical conclusion, a jazz band record of "I Can't Behave When You're Around," ought to be a wonderful counter-irritant for an attack of St. Vitus' dance. Likewise the "Dill Pickles Rag" should be swell for the mumps. After while every hospital will be having its concert programmes and when the band played the anvil chorus the patients would know that they were getting iron in the blood.

If some music can start a fight it ought to be also good for getting up a little perspiration.

NEWSPAPERS OF THE NATION SPEAK (O

Wonderful Change of Attitude on the Question of [illegible] Tyranny; "The Times" no Longer Alone.

STARTLED because the radical elements of the unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor are seeking to seize by force the industries and the government of our country, scores of leading publications and politicians are beginning to seriously question the tenets and motives of labor unions. For thirty years violence and lawlessness have characterized almost every strike conducted by these unions. For thirty years they have been controlled by agitators who boldly preached defiance to the law. The Bolshevist menace by which the country is now confronted is not something of sudden birth; it is not a condition created by the world war; but it is the logical result of the campaigns of terror that the labor unions have waged for a generation through the medium of industrial strikes.

It is no new thing for rioting strikers to destroy life and property. It is no new thing for high officials of the American Federation of Labor to instruct members of unions to disregard court injunctions. It is no new thing for the so-called business agents of the labor unions to preach sabotage and violence. President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has himself been convicted of conspiracy in connection with strikes and boycotts. But it is a new thing for the daily press of the great American cities, for Cabinet officers and for United States Senators to denounce those responsible for strikes and boycotts as enemies of the republic.

There was a time, and it is not far remote, when the voice of The Times was raised almost alone against the machinations of the walking delegates, against the lawlessness and violence which officers of the law permitted to reign wherever strikes were called. When The Times condemned the closed shop movement, thirty years ago, denouncing its proponents as preachers of human servitude—when The Times took its now historic stand for industrial freedom and against labor-union bondage—it found itself fighting almost alone. It encountered an opposition similar to that met by the early abolitionists. Its position was willfully misrepresented; its great builder was calumniated. The tongue of slander wagged fast; boycotts were organized against The Times; a bomb, placed by a walking delegate, destroyed its plant and killed a score of its faithful workers; but the cause that it espoused endured and progressed. Its great leader passed beyond; but not before his prophetic eyes had envisioned the promised land.

During almost the whole of this period the press and politicians of the country joined in the outcry against The Times, or remained silent. They saw in the menace of a labor-union boycott a sword of Damocles hanging above their heads; but they could not see that the point was blunted and the thread by which it was suspended was in reality a wire of steel, forged by the founders of the republic.

Socialism grew out of the labor union movement as readily as weeds in uncultivated soil. The International was organized, forming the labor unions of Europe and America in a single body, accepting for its tenets the socialism of Karl Marx and preaching direct action. The whole movement was founded upon false doctrines; and for that reason it spread quickest among the uneducated classes. It was the gospel of the proletariat; the red flag was its emblem and the torch and the bomb were its favorite weapons.

But while this ugly octopus was spreading its tentacles to crush the free institutions of two continents, the gospel of industrial freedom, which The Times supported by precept and example, had taken root. Like all truth, this gospel could be distorted, misrepresented and maligned, but it could not be destroyed. No true apostle of American liberty has ever been refused a hearing by the American people, provided he possessed the courage to persevere. Like the movement against human slavery has grown this other movement against industrial servitude. The truths which The Times was once uttering alone are now voiced by a million throats. Read the following:

> The principle of the closed shop is so un-American, so completely opposed to all our conceptions of individual freedom, so tyrannous and so damnable, that no man of honest convictions can defend it. It is a denial to the citizen of the rights guaranteed by the Constitution and laws and sanctified by the recitals of the Declaration of Independence.

That paragraph is not clipped from a former editorial in The Times; it is taken from an address delivered by Senator Thomas of Colorado on September 24 in the American Senate. Senator Thomas represents a State that has been torn by violent labor disturbances occasioned by the attempt of the walking delegates to fasten the closed shop upon its industries.

Now read this:

> The steel strike is foredoomed to failure because it is tainted with the false spirit, the traitorous leadership and the un-American doctrines of the I.W.W. . . . Organized labor is losing the sympathy of the general public and, unless its attitude and actions undergo alterations very soon, the union movement will suffer a serious reverse.

That utterance came from the lips of Secretary Redfield of the President's Cabinet. The strike which he was denouncing is one approved formally by President Gompers and the Executive Committee of the American Federation of Labor. It has been waged under the immediate direction of the Executive Committee. And who are the individual representatives of the committee who organized it and are directing it? Read this:

> Defense is being made of the Bolshevist secretary of the American Federation of Labor steel strike committee because his work on overthrowing society was a boyish venture. The fact that his explanation is utterly untrue will not be discussed here. His actions today comport with his little red book teachings. . . . No man denies the right of labor to a just share of the joint product of labor and money, but it requires no Delphic oracle to proclaim that this share will never be obtained through a refusal of labor to produce.

That quotation is taken from a recent editorial in the Cincinnati Enquirer, a paper that does not permit the threat of a labor-union boycott to bind its mouth when the liberties of the country are threatened. The Enquirer is but one of at least a hundred American daily publications that have denounced editorially the steel strike and the apostles of Bolshevism who are directing it. The following appeared last week in the Louisville Courier-Journal:

> William J. Foster, who, with John Fitzpatrick, organized the steel strike, is the same anarchist today when he assumes to lead union labor that he was when he was an I.W.W. propagandist, and his admissions and boasts to the committee prove it. He has been really the organizer of the steel strike, having more brains than Fitzpatrick. It is the leadership of such as he that constitutes the greatest peril to organized labor today. Unionism can never attain the results to which the workman is entitled so long as it submits to the leadership of fanatics and adventurers of the Foster type.

Yet "anarchists and adventurers of the Foster type" form the class from which walking delegates are recruited. We have them here in Los Angeles at the present time; we have had them here for a generation. There are walking delegates in Southern California right now who have allied themselves secretly with the I.W.W. One, at least, exhibited a red card lately when he thought he was sure of all those about him. And by doing so he gave a member of a local union a glimpse of the abyss towards which radicals such as this red agitator are dragging organized labor.

Other journals are now taking up the insistence, voiced originally and repeatedly by The Times, that the labor unions are not and should not be the sole custodians of the cause of labor—for the good and sufficient reason that only one workman in ten in this country belongs to a labor union. In an editorial on the labor conference now in session in Washington the New Orleans Times-Picayune asserted that independent workmen should have equal representation, at least with the labor unions, at its sessions; and quotes with approval the following sentiment:

> The right to remain at work where others have ceased to work is part of the personal liberty of a citizen that can never be surrendered.

The Times-Picayune further says: "The defeat of the general strike movement carries with it the temporary defeat, at least, of the movement towards anarchy and Socialism. Achieved by the powerful aid of an aroused public opinion, the outcome will be welcomed by the friends of law and order and democratic government everywhere."

Nowhere, outside the Hearst papers and other Socialist and Bolshevist publications, did there appear any commendatory comments on the recent Boston policemen's strike. It aroused the indignation of patriotic Americans everywhere. Yet that strike was engineered by high executives of the American Federation of Labor, and the Boston Transcript charges President Gompers with personal responsibility, as the following editorial comment shows:

> Mr. Gompers has himself to blame for instigating the desertion of the police; he has himself to blame for slandering the loyal people of this city because they refuse to sympathize with that crime. There will be no control of this or any other city by the American Federation of Labor. . . . This country will never be safe for democracy while the striking labor unions, in securing their ends, feel that they have a right to smash things which the public must pay for mending. According to Mr. Gompers, an officer who performs his sworn duty in enforcing the law is an "autocrat." If this is true, give us more autocrats, that they may make the country safe for democracy. . . . There is a little too much red in the leadership of the labor unions and not enough of the red, white and blue.

The New York Times does not hesitate to condemn the soviet policy of the railroad brotherhoods and miners' unions. It says editorially, "The psychology of the strike [coal strike] is as interesting as that of the steel strike. The testimony before the Senate committee left no doubt that the object of the steel strike was to dominate industry in the interest of public or soviet operation. The miners now threatening to strike formally resolved that a movement should be started for the nationalization of the mines and that a new labor party should be organized . . . All the world, or at least some in all parts of the world, are possessed with the idea that the remedy for unsatisfied wants is less work and more pay." Commenting on the steel strike the New York Times also says:

> So far as the public is informed, the threatened strike in the steel trade is simply and solely to bring the steel strikers under labor union control. It is not a strike to improve the conditions or add to the wages of the men. It is a strike for power . . . We should have supposed that the threat of the strike or the order for strike would have been preceded by a very full statement of the causes of the strike. That is one of the many reasons that have led a large part of the public to conclude that it is not a strike to improve the conditions of labor, but to extend the power of the American Federation over the steel corporation men. IT IS A NOT FOR THE WORKERS, BUT FOR AGGRANDIZEMENT OF LEADERS.

he American

poration men. IT IS A STRUGGLE NOT FOR THE GOOD OF THE WORKERS, BUT FOR THE AGGRANDIZEMENT OF THE LEADERS.

The Times is pleased to note that the truth of that last is finally being driven home to the press and the public of the country. It could be written as an epitaph over the dead remains of the strike that has been called in Los Angeles at least, during the last thirty years. Some of the daily papers and publications are now realizing to the extent of demanding that nothing shall be made a penal offense. The Times is not inclined to go that far. It has always sanctioned workmen have the right to organize, to form themselves into unions, to cease labor when dissatisfied with their job. These rights are fundamental and should not be abridged by law. The public has no more right to be autocratic than the labor unions. But when the latter has opposed, and will hereafter oppose, the assumed right of a few workmen to resort to intimidation or violence to keep others from accepting employment from taking their places, The Times has opposed, and will continue to oppose, the assumed rights of certain labor organizations to break the laws of the land or to counsel others so to do.

The Times opposes today, as it has in the beginning, any movement, by whomever conducted, that has for its aim to put the red flag of anarchy above the Stars and Stripes, or causes men to enter into conspiracies to overthrow American institutions. And The Times is grateful that its labor of love has not been in vain.

Wise heads in the labor movement have themselves taken the lead. The following extracts from the recent report of the advisory committee of thirty of the American Federation of Labor show that they are fully aware of the untenable position Gompers, Tobin and their colleagues occupy:

> The best thought of the country is unanimously of the opinion that the high cost of living can be reduced only by increased intensified, increased production. We hold that during these dark times the union that goes on strike without full consideration of the most extreme necessity is guilty of moral treason to the government and to the best interests of the United States, to the cause of human conduct, to the struggling people of the world, to the helpless countries.

But it was after the receipt of this report that the Executive committee of the A. F. of L. met and took charge of the steel strike. The conservatives in labor circles in the American Federation of Labor are faring worse than the Girondists under Danton during the French revolution. They are likely to be overthrown by the Red forces that they themselves have aroused. American public opinion will in turn be overthrown, and, arousing backward through the past twenty-five years to the memorable action of 1894, The Times is constrained to marvel that the spirit of industrial freedom has survived so long.

DRIVEN OFF?

... of this testimony, ... by officers who have ... case, is, that if John- ... is sound, then it ... portion of Stokes's ... Dr. Roberts's car running off the road, as a result of Dr. Roberts's blow on Stokes's arm. According to Johnson's testimony, the automobile was deliberately driven off the road, which would tend to bear out the prosecution's contention that Dr. Roberts's murder was deliberate, that he was probably in the car unconscious from blows, when Stokes drove the car into the ravine to set it afire with the distillate which he had brought from his garage.

Policeman William M. Littell told of meeting Stokes at the corner of Washington street and Hobart boulevard, where he had agreed to wait when he telephoned the police that he had killed a man. Littell testified that Stokes said that he had killed Dr. Roberts because he had tried to "break up my home." Stokes's story, as he told it to Littell, was about the same as told by Deputy Sheriff Bright, except that to Littell Stokes said that he ran after Dr. Roberts, caught him, and Roberts had said, "I guess it is all over, but I won your wife's love, anyway." Deputy Sheriff Bright testified that Stokes told him (Bright) that after Roberts had jumped out of the car, he stopped on the further side of the ravine, and taunted Stokes, telling him to "come over" (the ravine) and Stokes followed. In the encounter which followed between the two men on the further side of the ravine, Roberts either became tangled in the underbrush and fell or was knocked to the ground.

While Roberts was there, Roberts said to Stokes, as told by Littell, "Well, I guess it's all off, but I won Josephine's (Mrs. Stokes) love anyway." Then, Littell said Stokes told him, "I shot Dr. Roberts."

In questioning Officer Littell, Attorney Davis asked, "Capt. Stokes talked to you freely and answered your questions, did he not?" The officer replied that Stokes had done so, and that Stokes had volunteered information concerning the tragedy.

WOMAN ABSENT.

Mrs. Stokes did not attend the inquest yesterday. Attorney Davis said that he told her that her testimony would not be needed. Coey Dunkelberger, brother of Mrs. Stokes, arrived at the undertaking rooms soon after Capt. Stokes had arrived from the jail in an automobile with Deputy Sheriffs Anderson, Hotz, Johnson and Bright. Mr. Dunkelberger said that his mother and his sister were naturally in a nervous state as a result of the tragedy, and that he was spending as much of his time at home as was possible. He shook hands with Capt. Stokes and sat by his side in the adjoining rear room where Stokes could hear all the testimony, though he was not in view of the room which was filled with people, most of them elderly veterans from the Soldiers' Home, and half a dozen women. In passing to the room where he sat during the inquest Capt. Stokes walked by the coffin where the body of Dr. Roberts lay, but though he could not help seeing it, Stokes was apparently unmoved. He seemed more cheerful and at ease yesterday than at any time since the tragedy.

The body of Dr. Roberts was viewed by a large number of his Sawtelle friends yesterday afternoon at the undertaking parlors. It was shipped late yesterday to Aston, Iowa, where the funeral services will be held. No further word had been received yesterday from Mrs. Roberts in addition to her first telegram, directing that the body of her husband be sent.

County Supervisor R. F. McClellan, who lives in Sawtelle and has long been a friend of the Roberts family, yesterday confirmed the statement made by Mrs. Roberts that, to his knowledge, there had been no estrangement between the doctor and his wife.

JURY NOW GETS HIS LOVE NOTES.

"Sweetest Sunbeam," "Gypsy Queen," Monro Wrote.

Miss Barker Says She Took Poison to End Misery.

Testifies He had Revolver and Threatened Her.

The story of Miss Clara Eunice Barker's love affair with Charles W. S. Munro was interrupted in Judge Monroe's court yesterday afternoon to introduce mash notes Mr. Munro wrote her. The notes were filled with protestations of love. One retails a dream wherein the writer found Miss Barker untrue to him and made a dream threat to kill her.

This threat became a reality, Miss Barker testified, when she tried to break off their relations. She asserted he drew a revolver up that time and she fled for safety into a closet.

When Munro failed to carry out his repeated promises to divorce his wife and marry Miss Barker, the latter said she swallowed poison in an effort to end her misery. She said she still suffers from the effects of the drug.

Attorney Byron Hanna read the letters. Remembering that she had secreted a bundle of these notes in the attic of the Glendale love nest, Miss Barker went there with a constable and recovered them. Mr. Munro told her, she said, that all his, as well as her own, notes had been destroyed.

READS HIS LETTERS.

On Christmas, 1913, Mr. Munro penciled this note to Miss Barker:

"My dear sweet queen: Oh, honey, I do miss you so much. I want your sweet presence all the time. My love is so true and sweet, dearie. I am so happy when we are near each other. I forget everything else but my love for you. I must be near you all the time. Nothing can keep us apart. Your loving husband."

In February, 1914, he wrote:

"All I promised you will be yours. It is my true love for you that gives me pleasure. I am yours, body and soul, and I am so glad. Oh, honey, I will be so glad when that day comes when I can hold you in my arms and say, 'My wife, you are my own dear wife,' and, dearie, I love you all the time and I want you near me forever."

In March, 1914, he said: "We are having a great battle, you and I, dearie, but we must win out. I feel we shall."

TELLS OF LOVE.

His love for her was the one bright spot in his life, he wrote, a few weeks later.

"I cannot wait, I am so nervous," he said. "I want you, sweetheart, by my side every second. Life without you, dearie, would be a mockery. My love is burning my brain."

In another letter he said:

"If you were here now I would smother you with all my love, hugs and kisses."

Again it was:

"My Precious, I would certainly do a lot of loving if I had you with me now. I simply must have you, for I cannot live without you."

"I think I am in Holy Land when you and I are together," he also wrote in April. "I will never waver in my love for dearie."

Other extracts from his letters are:

"I am writing this letter out in the works, as I do not want anyone to look in at me through the office door. Oh, darling, take the best of care of your dear self, as I want nothing to happen to you; it would surely kill me darling. Your dear big baby and and loving husband."

"I can feel your arms around me, honey, and your sweet lips to mine. And then, dearie, I hold you close to me, and press you to myself. Honey I am happy."

"SWEETEST SUNBEAM."

"You are the sweetest sunbeam."

In this letter he calls her "My Darling Wife and Most Precious Little Gypsy Queen in all the world."

"God knows my love for you, and he even dare not break it. I fear no one. I belong to you, sweetheart."

"I am having a hard battle, dearie. Sometime will tell you all about it, but I must win out."

"I cannot understand why love like ours should be kept parted. I am not satisfied. I will make the laws, and then, honey dear, no one can part us."

"Everything was o.k. when I arrived back; found the wise one in bed, suffering great pain. I am getting her a mustard plaster."

"I pray for you and your baby every night, and ask to have you in my arms forever. If I could not see you again, I would kill myself."

"SOON BE TOGETHER."

"I know, darling, you are not made of stone, and that you cannot wait very long, and I am pushing everything to the limit so we can soon be together."

While she was living in Plainfield, N. J., Mr. Munro addressed Miss Barker as "Miss Jane Reynolds, 1120 Myrtle avenue.

"I dreamt you were not true to me; you have been going out with someone automobiling and going to the theater," he wrote in another letter. "After the theater you did not return to the sanatorium, but went on a long trip. I said I told you if you were not true, I would kill you. But I changed my mind as I wanted to see you suffer. I woke with the most awful yell, and was laughing. But, oh, what a laugh."

SUIT IS DISMISSED.

Plaintiff in Action Over Garden Crop Fails to Come to Court.

When J. M. Sizelove failed to appear in Judge Wellborn's court yesterday in a suit against John W. Schroeter over a crop of horseradish the court dismissed the action. The complaint showed that in June, 1918, Mr. Sizelove leased land in Long Beach to Mr. Schroeter, the latter agreeing to care for a crop of horseradish then growing. Mr. Schroeter was alleged to have plowed up the crop. Mr. Schroeter asserted Mr. Sizelove neglected the horseradish.

HE'D GO, BUT NOT TO MEXICO.

Chinese, Who's Said to Have Decamped with Gamblers' Gold, is Scared.

Immigration Inspector in Charge Burnett, yesterday forwarded to Secretary of Labor Wilson the request of Lee Suey Wah, that he be sent back to China, instead of to Mexico.

It is said by Federal officials that Wah crossed the Mexican border to this country with $18,000 in gold that belonged to the Chinese gamblers in Mexicali, he having been connected with a Chinese gambling concession in that city.

Wah, though he weighs more than 200 pounds, is said to have crossed the border disguised as a woman. His arrest followed for being illegally in the country, and an order for his deportation is now pending before the department.

Wah says he is willing to pay his own fare back to China, but is afraid that if he is sent back to Mexico the Chinese gamblers will get him. It is probable that his wish will be gratified.

SUED NEIGHBORS.

Woman Loses Action Over Chickens She Said Were Killed.

A suit growing out of a neighborhood quarrel came to an end in Judge Avery's court yesterday, when he decided in favor of the defendants and against the plaintiff, Mrs. Rose Blum, who asked $5060 damages. Mrs. Blum alleged that her neighbors threw ground glass in her yard which killed twelve chickens. She then lived at 1418 Mohawk avenue. Mrs. Margaret Hunt lived on one side of her and Fehr Pearson on the other side. Mrs. Blum asked $60 damages for the loss of her chickens, expenses in moving to another house, and $5000 for a nervous breakdown she said was caused.

HELD AFTER THREATS.

Former City Employee to Psychopathic Ward Following Arrest.

After reported threats against Judge Sidney Reeve, Mrs. Reeve and Dr. Rebecca Lee Dorsey, J. E. Hunsiker was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Dennison in the Hall of Records. He was believed to be on his way to Judge Reeve's court when arrested.

Hunsiker was formerly an employee in the Assessor's offices. He was recently sent to the County Farm, but escaped. Because of fear expressed by his wife, her residence at 1527 Girard street was guarded Tuesday night. Hunsiker was taken to the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital.

McCOY ESTATE.

Thomas J. McCoy, who died in this city on September 30, left an estate of $81,620, according to a petition for letters of administration filed yesterday in behalf of the widow, Mrs. Lillian T. McCoy. No will was left, it was said. The heirs mentioned are the widow and Earl T. McCoy and Virginia Ethel Harper, a grand daughter.

SCHOOL DRESS PUT UP TO COMMITEE.

SAME BODY WILL REPORT ON VEXED QUESTION OF FRATERNITIES.

By unanimous vote, parents of the students at the Los Angeles High School yesterday approved the recommendations of Principal W. H. Housh regarding the sending out of quarterly reports, the need of promptness and punctuality in attendance by the students, home study, recreation and supervision of the students at home and in the school.

The recommendations were mailed the parents several days ago in the form of a letter, and the parents were asked to meet the faculty Tuesday afternoon at the school auditorium to consider these and other matters. A large number responded and showed great interest in the meeting.

A committee made up of some of the faculty members and a number of the parents was appointed to consider the matter of dress as well as the question of the students holding membership in the school fraternities, with instructions to report later.

Former men of the battery who are out of town are requested to get in touch with Paul Thompson, 745 South Broadway, or Charles Lewis, room 713, 430 South Broadway.

TAR-COAT CASE BOILS AFRESH.

Attorney of Mobbed Brawley Man Beaten up; Sues.

Prominent Citizens Named in Two Damage Actions.

Adds to Mass of Litigation Started by Assault.

Echoes of the sensational tarring and feathering of J. Edgar Ross more than a year ago by citizens of Brawley in the Brawley public square re-echoed yesterday when Frank Birkhauser, attorney for Mr. Ross during the early aftermaths of the case, filed two suits in the Superior Court at El Centro against a large number of Brawley citizens for damages aggregating $87,000 as the result of an attack on him while he was Mr. Ross's attorney and also for what he terms a "conspiracy" to injure him and his law practice.

In his first suit Mr. Birkhauser names J. R. Ballist, Cecil Franklin, Henry Jernigan, Lon Reynolds, F. M. Bates, Elmer Waters, Jeff Waters, F. S. Lack, A. J. Kalin, J. D. Fox, Elmer Sears, C. C. Munsey and twenty-two other men and women, designated by fictitious names, and asks damages aggregating $30,000.

He charges in his complaint that the defendants uttered accusations of pro-Germanism against him during the war, when he attempted to enter the service of his country and was refused, while many of "said defendants were slackers," and he charges them with a conspiracy to hurt his character and his business.

For the injury to his feelings he desires $15,000, for loss of business and damage to it he asks $10,000 and for general damages, $5000.

ANOTHER CASE.

In the second suit, filed against Cecil Franklin, Henry Jernigan, Lon Reynolds, F. M. Bates, Elmer Waters, Jeff Waters, F. S. Lack, A. J. Kalin, J. D. Fox, C. C. Munsey and several persons sued under fictitious names, he desires a total of $27,118.

In this complaint he states the defendants assaulted him on the street and he was so injured that he has not yet recovered. He further states that his wife was recovering at that time from nervous trouble and the excitement retarded her recovery for a long time. For this he asks $20,000.

Sundry and various other smaller charges bring the total desired up to the sum mentioned.

Many of the defendants named are prominent in business and social life in Brawley.

Feeling in Brawley over the occurrence has never entirely died as the incident split the town's people into factions. Those who did not approve of the tar-and-feather coat have never expressed their feelings very openly and, according to a well-known resident of the town, "Brawley is a powder keg, with the fuse lighted, whenever the question of Edgar Ross is brought up."

MORE LITIGATION.

Several earlier law suits have been the outgrowth of the original tar-and-feather coat. Frank Birkhauser, a prominent Brawley attorney, was retained to act for Mr. Ross and after he had returned from a trip to Los Angeles feeling ran so high against him because he had accepted Mr. Ross's case that he was assaulted in the streets of Brawley. This personal attack resulted in the suits filed yesterday.

Later, Mr. Birkhauser declined to act further for Mr. Ross, but, according to his complaints, he was not then let alone.

B. D. Irvine, prominent Brawley rancher and president of the farm bureau of Imperial county at the time, was one of Mr. Ross's bondsmen. Several suits resulted from his action. He went into court in a suit against Cecil Franklin, then employed in a Brawley butcher shop, and charged Franklin with stealing a piece of meat from his automobile. According to the testimony introduced by Mr. Irvine, he purchased the meat of Franklin and then, because Franklin found out the status of Mr. Irvine, he went out and took the package from the car.

DAMAGES FOR ARREST.

Later, Mr. Franklin sued Mr. Irvine for causing false arrest and was awarded $1000 damages.

In the suits filed yesterday Mr. Birkhauser declares that Mr. Franklin later paid a fine for the assault on him.

Mr. Ross himself recently filed suits in the Los Angeles courts against fifty Brawley citizens, asking $100,000 damages for the tar-and-feather coat.

The matter, it is understood, has been investigated by Federal authorities more than once, but no public action has been taken by them.

Recently, advertisements signed by Mr. Ross appeared in Imperial Valley papers, offering to sell his 700 colonies of bees, but whether he intends to leave the valley is not known.

LIBEL ACTION.

Another case growing out of the affair is a $75,000 libel suit filed against the San Diego Tribune by several Brawley men. The plaintiffs declared the Tribune had damaged their reputations by using their names in connection with the original story of the episode, as related in the Tribune. The article in the Tribune stated they were in the crowd present at the tar and feathering. This suit has never been brought to trial.

Imperial Valley papers have never used any names in connection with the suit, with the exception of Mr. Ross's and those that appeared in suits filed in the courts.

Ross was tarred and feathered because of alleged pro-Germanism, but his answer to this is that his assailants used the cloak of patriotism to cover the venting of a personal grudge. He was covered with tar and feathers and chained to a post in a small park in the center of Brawley and left there for two hours. Later he was escorted out of town.

Some of the persons named in his suits were members of the Brawley Liberty Loan Committee during the Fourth Loan drive.

BUCCANEER GOES ON REEF.

Passengers on ex-Pirate Ship Saved by Breeches Buoy at Balboa.

the vessel at that time, so the shipwrecked party was marooned. There was no supper, there were no dry clothes and the supply of smoking materials was soon exhausted. It was a miserable night and the landsmen aboard many times wished they were safe ashore.

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning, Van Downing, an ex-soldier, risked his life and damage to his boat by going out to the Fremont with a small supply of "grub." Later in the morning another boat arrived and a line was carried to shore. A heavier line was soon strung from the bowsprit of the craft to rocks on shore; a breeches buoy was rigged up, and by this means the shipwrecked party was rescued, each person receiving a final dip in the surf as he was carried to land.

WOMAN IS GAME.

Jane Talan, the only woman aboard, was the gamest person of all, it is reported, and, wearing a bathing suit, swam ashore after being carried part way in the breeches apparatus.

Pete Brockovitch, a Newport fisherman, refused to go ashore like the rest, preferring a boat, but, as no boatman would yesterday try to reach him, he was still aboard the barkentine last night.

Some means of salvaging the vessel may be found, but the loss probably will be $10,000 to $12,000.

In the party were thirty-two motion-picture employees, Neal Hart, leading man of the Capital company, and Miss Talan of Hollywood. No shipwreck was provided for in the story being filmed.

The Fremont comes to grief after sixty-nine years of service upon the sea. Built at Philadelphia in 1850, she was first used in the slave-carrying trade, bringing negroes from South Africa. Later she was a pirate ship and at one time was seized by the United States government. Still later she was in the cargo-carrying trade until condemned and sold to be used only for moving-picture purposes. She had been in Newport Harbor several weeks and was recently used in the filming of "Treasure Island" by the Maurice Tourneur Company. The vessel has been in charge of Capt. Peter B. Linberg.

FESTIVAL TO BUILD CHURCH

Beginning this afternoon and lasting until late Saturday night, the spirit of joy will reign supreme at La Ramada Park, formerly known as Casa Verdugo, in Glendale, when Rev. James Stephen O'Neill and the members of the Holy Family Church will hold a festival for the purpose of raising funds for the building of a $100,000 church at Lomita avenue and Louise street, in Glendale. The 700 members of the church, together with many individuals and organizations not connected with the Holy Family parish, have made elaborate preparations to make the festival and "county fair" one of the most brilliant entertainments ever held at Glendale.

Popular society girls and women of Glendale and Los Angeles have been appointed to take charge of the various booths, in which many things will be sold to the generous buyer, from ice cream to antiques, from Persian rugs to genuine Gypsy fortunes. Among the interesting articles to be sold to the highest bidder will be two beautiful dolls, made by Lillian and Dorothy Gish. These popular motion-picture actresses recently visited Mrs. John Green, who is very ill at her Glendale home, and Mrs. Green told the girls of the efforts of the pastor and his flock to obtain a new temple of worship.

"We are going to have a big fair to help raise money," said Mrs. Green, "and I wish you'd do something for the cause." And the Gish girls agreed to help and remained up the following night until 2 a.m., making and dressing dolls.

Twelve years ago the late Bishop Conaty sent Rev. Mr. O'Neill to Glendale with the brief instruction, "Hire a hall."

The first service at which Rev. O'Neill officiated was held in the old G.A.R. Hall, with about sixty people present. Services were held in the G.A.R. Hall for nine months, at the end of which time Mrs. Estelline Childs donated to the church a vacant lot on what is now East Lomita street, in "old town." Upon this lot a little wooden church was erected, but the old building, hidden away among the big trees and the chicken coops has become so dilapidated that the motion-picture producers often choose it for a "set" when they desire to film a real old-fashioned country church.

About two years ago the parishioners became ashamed of the old building and decided to purchase a new site and build a fitting home of worship thereon. As a result of their energies in this direction, the church now owns an entire block near Elks' Hall, purchased a year ago at a cost of $5500. In addition to this, there is now about $10,000 in the church treasury and the first unit of the new structure, which will be the church proper, will be started within a few months.

The festival to be held at Casa Verdugo will include entertainments every afternoon and night until Saturday night, with special entertainments for the children in the afternoons, under direction of Miss Pearl Keller, a professional dancer and teacher of the Terpsichorean art. There will be dancing, too, at night for the grown-ups. Friday night will be Elks' night, with the Glendale lodge and Lodge 99 of Los Angeles in attendance.

The men and women who will be in charge of the various booths and features of the affair are as follows: Cooked foods, Mrs. John Quinn and Mrs. A. Burr; candy, Misses Susan Wendell, Annabelle and Pauline Hupprecht; apron booth, Mmes. Peter L. Ferry, John O'Brien, Jesse Chappius and A. R. Townsend; grab bag, goose game and fortune telling, Mrs. Charles Norton; dancing, Mmes. Frank Selencia and T. K. Keleher; ice cream, Mmes. C. Farrell, Walker Dotson and Henry Barlet; coffee and "hot dogs," Mmes. C. M. Streit and J. Bishop; rag rugs (made by the children,) Mrs. Setright; decorations, Mmes. H. M. Doll and John Ewins; punch, Mrs. J. A. Stiles; fancy work, Mmes. John W. Lawson and George Duffet; Knights of Columbus, James Mullen. Also, there is to be a country store, called Hickville Emporium, in charge of John J. Monahan, who will have a blazing bunch of rube clerks assisting him. The entertainment committee consists of John H. Mellish and Miss Viola Yerba.

AUTO NOT HERS BUT FINE WAS.

Headlights Wrong, She Pays; Judge Tells Her Got It Back from Owner.

It makes no difference whose automobile you are driving if the headlights are not adjusted in accordance with a new section of the State Motor Vehicle Act, according to Justice Hinshaw, who yesterday fined ninety drivers of cars and issued bench warrants for ten persons who failed to appear.

Miss R. Smith, of 211 East Fourth street, Long Beach, explained that she was driving a friend's car. The court fined her just the same, and advised her to get the money back from the owner.

The fines imposed were from $2 for cutting corners to $25 for speeding. Most of the fines were for failure to have headlights properly adjusted.

WILL START SCHOOL INQUIRY HERE TODAY.

LEGISLATIVE BODY TO MEET IN SUPREME COURT ROOM TO STUDY SYSTEM HERE.

The legislative committee appointed to investigate the needs of the State school system will meet today in the Supreme Court rooms in the Union League Building, Senator William J. Carr announced last night. The personnel of the committee has not been announced. Herbert C. Jones of San Jose is in charge of the investigation. The first session of the committee will be at 10 o'clock a.m.

The committee was appointed by a resolution adopted at the last session of the Legislature, to get first-hand information regarding the needs of the State educational institutions. Dr. Shiels, superintendent of city schools, and a number of residents of this city have been asked to appear before the committee to explain the local school needs. A number of educators prominent in this section of the State will also be heard. Representatives of taxpayers associations, persons interested in vocational training and others are expected to attend the meetings.

SAYS THEY'RE WED.

Police Too Hasty With Arrest, Is Sawtelle Man's Claim.

Charles T. Norton of Sawtelle, first arrested by the police on a statutory charge and later accused of failure to provide, yesterday decided that there was any cause at all for his detention and asserted he was arrested without sufficient reasons to warrant the action.

That he and 17-year-old Vera Vincent, granddaughter of Mrs. Emma J. Anderson, of 223 Blaine street, Sawtelle, were legally married, and that he always provided her with everything she needed, was the statement made by Norton in answer to the charges of Mrs. Anderson, whose complaint resulted in the man's arrest.

"I will be able to prove that all these charges are unjust," Norton said. "The police acted without making a complete investigation." An inquiry into all the circumstances in the case will be made today, it was said at Central Station.

APPEAL IS COSTLY.

Conviction for Careless Auto Driving Results in Heavy Fine.

R. Matsumata, who was sentenced to serve 100 days in the County Jail by Police Judge Crawford on a complaint charging that he operated an automobile in a careless manner in South Vermont avenue, was before Judge Craig yesterday in an appeal from his conviction. Judge Craig changed the sentence to a fine of $400 with an option of spending 200 days in the County Jail if it was not paid.

MEANS BIG SAVING.

Thomas Extols Budget Bill at Dinner of Local Accountants.

A great saving will result if the national government adopts the budget system of estimates and expenditures, H. Ivor Thomas declared at a dinner given in his honor at the Jonathan Club, last night, by the Los Angeles Chapter of Certified Public Accountants. Mr. Thomas was recently elected vice-president of the American Institute of Accountants, the first Californian to be given this distinction.

Mr. Thomas explained what a budget system is, and compared it with the present method of making appropriations in sundry bills. This system has caused considerable duplication of expenses, Mr. Thomas said. He explained that in Europe most of the countries use a budget system, and added that the proposed system of the United States was similar to the British system. A bill was introduced in the House last Saturday providing for the adoption of the budget system.

MUNICIPALITIES LEAGUE.

The Finance Committee of the City Council today will recommend that the Council designate next Thursday as Los Angeles Day at the convention of the League of California Municipalities, to be held in Riverside during the week, and that three delegates be appointed to represent Los Angeles officially in this convention, attending the daily sessions. Heads of city departments will be urged to attend as many sessions as possible.

FIND POOLROOM MAN VIOLATED MANN LAW.

Daniel Steel, a former pool-room proprietor at Kansas City, Kan., charged with violation of the Mann White Slave Act, in bringing Miss Helen McCabe, his step-daughter, to Los Angeles for an immoral purpose, was convicted by a jury in United States District Judge Trippet's court yesterday, and he will be sentenced Monday afternoon.

The testimony showed that after Steel and the girl had been criminally intimate he took her from Kansas City to Denver, thence to Ogden, then to San Francisco and from there to Los Angeles, arriving here on the evening of July 3 last, the sixteenth anniversary of the birth of the young woman.

Steel was tried on this charge some weeks ago, and the jury disagreed. On the second hearing Jack McCabe, brother of the girl, an ex-soldier, who spent a year or more in France, Mrs. E. Y. Dosier of San Francisco and Mrs. Cora Nelson of Denver, who conducted apartment-houses in those cities, where the couple were registered, were witnesses in behalf of the government.

GOT RID OF IT?

While being pursued, Ray Ford threw a pocketbook he is accused of stealing from C. J. Kunkel, 3475 Lee street, into a moving street car, according to testimony yesterday in Justice Hinshaw's court. He is accused of grand larceny. His case was continued until Wednesday next.

DELL TO PUT ON FINISHING TOUCH.

In an effort to wind up the the series, Bill Essick will send Wheezer Dell to the firing line against St. Paul this afternoon.

Mike Kelley, desirous of staving off the decision, and evening the series, had picked Dan Griner. Griner defeated the Tigers twice, not allowing them an earned run in eighteen innings. He has proven a tough customer for Vernon, but under the law of averages is about due to lose.

UNBEATEN KEEL KLUB TO PLAY WHITTIER.

COACH MERRELL HAS A BUNCH OF GRID ARTISTS WHO PLAY CLEAN GAME.

The undefeated Keel Klub football squad will line up against the Whittier College eleven on Saturday afternoon on the Quaker gridiron. This will make the fourth game of the season for the Klubbers, and local pigskin dopsters look for another victory for the Long Beach lads.

The Keel Klub surprised a couple of thousand football enthusiasts when they held the Redlands University squad to a 0-0 score on October 4. A few nights later, they walloped a team from the battleship Vestal to the tune of 24-0. And last Saturday, weathered by the experience in the first two games, the Keel Klubbers trounced the Throop College eleven 11-0. The Long Beach boys hope to come through with a clean slate in the Southland so that they may attempt an invasion of the north.

The Keel Klub aggregation is a collection of former college gridiron artists, and play a clean brand of football. Coach Merrell formerly starred with the Pennsylvania eleven in the quarter-back position, and holds down the same job with the Klubbers. Capt. "Scow" Curry played with the U.S.C. varsity for a couple of years and plays a consistent game at right tackle. Opponents just simply can not penetrate the Keel Klub line, for Homer Pike plays the other tackle. Pike was chosen for the All-Pacific team last year for his work with the Marines in the Pasadena game on New Year's Day.

Following is the line-up which will be used by the Keel Klub team against Whittier College on Saturday:

Signs of Life on the Sage-Hen Gridiron.

The Freshman-Varsity Scrimmage at Pomona.

Two teams were selected from the freshman and varsity football candidates yesterday afternoon by Coach Nixon and instructed to mangle each other until further orders. The varsity obeyed the instructions a little the best. The workout was a speedy affair. Ed Covington (below) is one of the big half-backs being counted on to do a large portion of the ground-gaining in the coming conference struggles.

POMONA SIZES UP WELL.

A spirit of forced gloom hung over the Pomona football field yesterday afternoon.

When asked how the team stacked up, Covington, the big right half, shook his head and growled "None too good."

Coach Nixon hastily overcame a contented grin when approached on the subject and allowed a haunted and worried look to take possession of his face.

As a matter of fact, the Pomona varsity looks like one of the niftiest aggregations seen around these parts for a long time.

TOOK TURNS.

Yesterday afternoon the freshman squad and the varsity took turns mangling each other. The scrimmage lasted for an hour and was full of action, thrills and hard work. The freshmen had the ball most of the time and about the only thing they could do well was to bounce back off the stonewall regular line. Once in awhile one of them would get through, but a sensational run never developed. A big back-field gent would nail the runner before he was well under way.

The Sage Hens have both a line and a back field that must be figured. Clarey Stover at quarter, Ed Covington and Ed Chambers playing half-back positions and Chuck McClain at full gives a rather dangerous appearance to the scoring end of the team. Stover is a well-set-up individual, who seems to be able to run with the ball as well as call signals. Covington runs largely to weight and speed, which is not a bad football combination. McClain and Chambers both have a pretty clear idea of the rudiments of the game.

CHOICE ENDS.

McClellan and Bell are the choicest-looking ends. Bell is also a stong pinch hitter as a tackle. Bruce Elliott and Gerald Denebrink played tackles through most of yesterday's scrimmage. Greathouse and Rich did the guarding. Baker passed the ball.

There was no fumbling in the play. Apparently Coach Nixon has drilled the knack of holding the pigskin into his men. Many forward passes went wrong, a great many plays were busted up before they started, and there was plenty of early-season crudeness exhibited.

A REAL MACHINE.

But on the whole the varsity gave the impression that it was a real football machine, with perhaps a few adjustments yet to be made.

Pomona will get its first taste of blood Saturday when it hooks up with Redlands in the second conference game of the season. The Sage Hens don't want to be overconfident, but they don't expect to get licked. Redlands will have to put over some high-class stuff to jolt those expectations.

The line-up at the start of yesterday's scrimmage:

Varsity.		Freshmen.
McClellan	L.E.R.	Ewart
Rich	L.G.R.	Dyer
Baker	C.	Cliff
Greathouse	R.G.L.	Pike

BENNY LEONARD PUTS IN ON PHIL BLOOM.

DETROIT (Mich.) Oct. 15.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, easily outfought Phil Bloom in a ten-round no-decision bout here tonight, in the opinion of newspaper men. Apparently, Leonard all but stopped his opponent in three of the rounds. It was the champion's final go before his title match with Johnny Dundee at Hartford, October 27.

Pal Moore of Memphis was given the newspaper decision over Jabez White of Albany at the end of ten rounds of fast boxing.

DAVIS CUP MATCHES TO INCLUDE WOMEN.

It is proposed that future Davis cup matches, the blue ribbon event in lawn tennis play, in future not only be confined to men's singles and doubles, but also women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles as well, thus making it the great tennis feature extending over three or four weeks' play.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Should St. Paul win today, sending the series into nine games, Rex Dawson and Dick Niehaus probably will battle it out in the deciding contest. The ninth game, if played, will be under Coast League rules.

After their lifeless exhibition on Tuesday, the Tigers displayed all kinds of pep yesterday. There were weird rumors of certain athletes having broken training rules earlier in the week. If true, the lapse probably was due to a natural relaxation after a hard race with a close finish.

Tom Hughes, formerly of the Braves, whose attempt to come back with the Angels failed, is now an automobile salesman. Tom is specializing in used cars.

Mousel injured himself in the first inning. He pulled a tendon while running out a hit. He limped through the next two rounds, and then retired.

Don Rader is back in the city from Portland and will pass the winter selling automobiles.

Boone blasted a triple in the eighth, but he might as well have saved it as two were out.

PRINCETON CAPTURES FREE-FOR-ALL TROT.

ATLANTA (Ga.) Oct. 15.—Two neck-and-neck finishes featured the Grand Circuit races here today. One was the free-for-all trot, which was won in two straight heats by Princeton, driven by Cox, against Mabel Trask, piloted by Murphy. In the other, a 2:12 trot, Murphy, driving Mollie Knight, won over Geers, piloting Wikiwiki. Only two heats were necessary also in this event, which was confined to three-year-olds.

The best time of the meeting so far was made today in the first heat of the 2:03 pace when Frank Dowey, driven by Cox, made the mile in 2:01 3-4. It finally took four heats for this horse to be declared the winner.

U.S.C. "FROSH" MAY ENGAGE PIONEERS.

Provided Varsity Coach Henderson can land a practice game for his squad the U.S.C. "frosh" will tangle with Los Angeles High School tomorrow afternoon. The game, if it is played, will take place on the prep school field.

Henderson has had difficulty in lining up practice games for the Trojan varsity. None of the high school teams want to tackle the college men. Consequently it has become the almost nightly task for the U.S.C. yearlings to furnish the opposition for the varsity. Freshman Coach Herd wants games for his men. The freshmen also want games. But Henderson says the freshmen are for the varsity.

SPORTSMEN'S SMOKER.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 15.—A smoker for all men interested in cricket and soccer is to be presented tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Santa Monica Cricket Club. The top floor of the Majestic Theater Building, Los Angeles, will be the scene of the gathering. It is anticipated that some important decisions will be reached for the coming soccer season.

IT'S THE MAN BEHIND THE GUN

Big Gala Day for the Duck and Quail Hunters.

Imperial Valley Best for the Game Birds.

Many Wise "Don'ts" for the Scatter Shooters.

With the opening of the season just before sun-up this morning the annual hegira of duck and quail hunters is on in earnest. Never before in history have so many scatter gunners left the city in search of the feathered prey, say hunting authorities.

One big sporting goods house yesterday sold a carload of ammunition. That means approximately 500,000 rounds. The same store had 300 rental guns on hand when the rush started. They were all gone three days ago.

More quail hunters will be in evidence today, it is said, than duck hunters. The water birds are flying south all the time, and they will be as thick a week from now as they were reported to be today. On the other hand, quail become gun shy after the first few days, and it requires expert stalking to stir up a good covey.

The Imperial Valley is held to be the best duck-hunting ground. This on account of the natural feeding grounds for the birds. The southern region is rich in all forms of head grains, and it has also received more irrigation than other localities.

The upper reaches of Balboa Bay, however, are said to offer just as great possibilities as the Imperial. The water of the bay is declared to be literally covered with wigeons and sprigs.

LIMIT IS EASY.

Bob Rohne, who has a club in the Balboa neighborhood, avers that it is a lamentably poor shot who cannot get the limit there. Rohne has something new to offer the quackster hunters in the way of rule splitters which he claims cannot be beaten.

Here are some of the don'ts for duck and quail hunters, a violation of which is punishable by law:

Don't shoot any kind of game from a power boat, sailboat automobile or airplane.

Don't use a shotgun larger than a ten-guage.

Don't sell wild game, except cottontail and bush rabbits.

Don't shoot migratory game between sunset and one-half hour before sunrise.

Don't take more than twenty-five birds, eight geese per day, or fifty per week.

Don't hunt without a license.

FLYING PARSON EATING UP AIR.

Lieut. Maynard Almost Half-Way Home Today.

Two More Deaths Mar the Big Aerial Derby.

Plane Crashes to Earth at Castle Rock, Utah.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Four airplanes were on their return trips today in the army transcontinental air derby. The leader, Lieut. B. W. Maynard, was almost halfway across the continent tonight, having stopped overnight at Sidney, Neb., in his eastbound flight. Lieut. Alexander Pearson was three States behind him, having left California for Nevada today, while Maj. Carl Spatz and Capt. Lowell Smith began their homeward trip from Mineola, N. Y.

The death list in the race was increased by two today, Lieut. French Kirby and his observer, Lieut. Stanley C. Miller, losing their lives in a crash at Castle Rock, Utah.

There were two arrivals at San Francisco today from Mineola, Lieut.-Col. J. N. Reynolds and Lieut. H. W. Sheridan, who reached here within a minute of each other after racing from Sacramento almost neck and neck, Reynolds being the winner.

LEFT RAWLINS.

Lieuts. S. W. Torney and J. P. Moulett, west bound, were reported to have left Rawlins, Wyo., this afternoon, while Lieuts. W. C. P. Brown and J. B. Wright checked out of Cheyenne. Lieuts. T. Hynes and H. H. George, and Lieut.-Col. H. E. Hartney, were other westbound flyers last reported at Cheyenne.

Another army flyer to leave here today, but not one of the transcontinental race entrants, was Lieut.-Col. R. S. Hartz, who is circumnavigating the country in a Martin bomber in order to compare it with other types of planes. His route is from here through Southern California Arizona and New Mexico to Texas. He stopped for the night at Fresno, Cal.

WEATHER DELAYS.

MINEOLA (N. Y.) Oct. 15.—Maj. L. C. P. Bartholf, sixth of the San Francisco starters to reach the Atlantic Coast, landed at Roosevelt Field this afternoon at 5:28:03 after being held at Binghamton for more than twenty-four hours by inclement weather.

Oxy Varsity is Ribbed up in Good Shape to Meet California Next Saturday at Be TIGERS READY FOR THE BEARS.

Coach Stanton to Take Bengals North Tonight.

To Play at Berkeley Next Saturday Afternoon.

Oxy to Go into Battle Full of Zip and Pep.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Seventeen Occidental varsity men, Coach Stanton and Manager Harold Dryden leave on the Lark tonight for Berkeley, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 the Tigers will face the Bears in the first intersectional game of the season.

The Oxy players will reach Berkeley tomorrow morning. They will be taken to their quarters at the Shattuck Hotel and then on a short sight-seeing trip. In the afternoon they will practice on the turf of California field in order to accustom themselves to the feel of the greensward under foot. There is a vast difference between a dirt field and turf, and the local players will, no doubt, find themselves at a disadvantage.

MAKING MISTAKE.

Some believe that Stanton is making a mistake in sending his men against the heavier and more experienced California eleven. The Occidental followers are afraid the team will come home so bruised up that it will be unable to get in shape for the hard U.S.C. and Pomona battles that follow. Stanton merely smiles and says that the contest with Andy Smith's pupils will be the best little eye-opener in the world for his proteges. The "Fox" believes that one hard game is worth a week of practice.

Occidental certainly ought to get all that she is bargaining for in tackling California. Coach Smith last year had one of the best teams in the university's history. "Brick" Morse, an old-time Blue and Gold athlete, who has followed the destinies of teams at Berkeley for years, has declared that the 1918 varsity was the best since the famous elevens of '98 and '99. This year the Bear adherents claim a better team than last season's Coast championship winner.

NO EARLY STRENGTH.

In spite of these rosy predictions, the Bears have not shown any early-season strength, if scores are a criterion. Their first game with the Olympic Club resulted in a 13-6 victory. The second game with the Winged O, substituting for Whittier, was a 6-3 tie. Last week's game with St. Mary's was won by California, 13 to 9. There was no scoring in the first half. Not until Murray, a substitute half-back, who is a ten-second man in the hundred, was sent in did the Bears get near the Catholics' goal line. Two flashy runs by Murray were responsible for the first two California touchdowns.

Critics in the north have begun to sing a swan song for Andy Smith if he doesn't turn out a winner this year. The material is there. All that is needed is a coach to bring it out.

NOT IN LINE-UP.

If reports from the north are correct Bryan Sprott the former San Diego boy who is about 50 per cent. of the California scoring power, will not be in the line-up against Occidental. The star half-back has bruised his shoulder and Smith wants to save him for the game with Washington State the week following.

Occidental is not going north with the expectation of trampling on the Bears on their own door mat. Oxy hasn't a duplicate of that famous team of 1916 which turned the trick. But what the Tigers may lack in skill this year, grit and pure determination will offset to a large degree. Those battling Orange and Black jerseys won't shame the honor of the school.

On paper the University of California figures to annihilate Occidental. Every man is a veteran on the northern team and a veteran in the strict sense of the word, with two or three years' experience as a college player. Some have absorbed a couple of years of service football. Eels, a substitute half-back, is the only sophomore with a chance to make a position. He played on the S.A.T.C. eleven last year.

Considering the four pointers which Stanton is taking north with him are seven backs, three ends, three tackles, three guards and a center. All of the men, with one exception, who played the Olympic game, are going to Berkeley. Herr, who started at left guard against the Winged O, is the exception. Stanton and Reid have shown superior form the past week and Adams will start one at the other against the Bears.

Mellor and Kendall, neither of whom played in last Saturday's contest, will be the only Tigers who

THROOP WILL PLAY ARCADIA SATURDAY.

Throop College will play the Arcadia Balloon School Saturday at Pasadena. Following last week's practice game with the Kool Klub eleven of Long Beach, won by the latter, 14 to 0, the Throop grid men are putting in some hard licks.

Coach Ray Call expects to pick the men who will play against Whittier after the Saturday game. The contest with the Poets will be the first conference game of the season for the Pasadena eleven. Following is the Throop schedule:

October 25 — First conference game with Whittier at Whittier.

November 1—Sherman Indians at Tournament Park.

November 8—Occidental at Oxy.

November 15—Pomona at Tournament Park.

November 29—Redlands at Tournament Park.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, Oct. 14.—Arthur Sterling, manager of the local indoor baseball club, is an ardent Vernon fan. Bill Johnson, a little further down the street, has St. Paul leanings. As a result one of them is going to pay a unique wager in public. The loser must give the winner a free ride up the main street of the town in a wheelbarrow at high noon the day following the deciding game. Both of them have started to practice with the wheelbarrow so as to be prepared for all eventualities.

FLYING PARSON EATING UP AIR.

Smith put off in the afternoon at 2:28 and 2:31, respectively, on the return journey to San Francisco. Capt Smith is reported to have reached Buffalo tonight at 6:22:20.

Lieuts. Kiel and Worthington both expect to get away tomorrow on the return trip, it was said. A new motor is being installed in Lieut. Worthington's machine, but he expects to hurry things along and get away tomorrow.

AWAIT ARRIVAL.

Maj. Bartholf was greeted upon landing at Roosevelt Field by his wife and mother, who all the afternoon anxiously awaited his arrival. Col. Archie Miller, commanding officer at Mineola, other officers of the field and newspaper reporters gave the aviator a rousing welcome as he brought his machine gracefully to earth. He was congratulated by Col. Miller for his commendable flight across the continent.

Maj. Bartholf, who is a former Harvard man, was given permission to fly to Boston on Saturday to see the Harvard-Brown football game. He will return to Mineola on Sunday.

WANTED OLD 'UN.

When asked by Col. Miller if he wanted another machine, Maj. Bartholf replied:

"No, I have got a friendly feeling for this old bus."

Col. Miller asked Maj. Bartholf if he wanted to fly back across the continent, and he replied that he did, and then asked how the other flyers felt about going back.

"After they have been here a day or two they are 'rarin' to go," Col. Miller said.

KILLED INSTANTLY.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 15.—Lieut. French Kirby, pilot, and Lieut. Stanley C. Miller, observer of airplane No. 44, in their transcontinental air derby, were killed at Castle Rock, Utah, late today, when their plane, traveling westward, fell a distance of approximately 300 feet.

Lieut. Kirby was killed instantly, according to the manager of the Kirby ranch at Castle Rock, where the accident happened. Lieut. Miller died about 6:40 tonight.

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Oct. 15.—The airplane in which Capt. L. H. Smith arrived here from New York this evening was destroyed by fire at the local landing field tonight. Capt. Smith was the leader in the return flight of western aviators in the cross-country air race.

BOWLING NOTES.

The officials of the Pacific Coast Bowling Association announce that the telegraph tournament scheduled for October 22 is postponed to Sunday, November 9.

This is a very happy change, as the entries from Los Angeles will be larger when the date falls on a Sunday, for the reason that most Los Angeles leagues have the "no postponement" clause in their bylaws, and as there are no league games scheduled for Sunday, November 9, the change of date works out very nicely for local bowlers.

Secretary Waldo T. Tupper attended the all-day tournament at Anaheim, and in a talk made to the bowlers stated that up to this time he had received fifty-three entries from teams covering the territory from Denver west. By present indications he will reach the mark he has set, 100 teams.

The Mackenzie Colts is the first team to enter the tourney from Los Angeles. Other local teams that will likely enter are the Majestic Ponies, Fred Barman Cigar Company, Siegit Ranch, Del Monte Cafe, Fahy-Atterbury, Pringle Roof of Ocean Park, and Long Beach.

Games are bowled on the home drives of the various contestants under the supervision of officials appointed by the Pacific Coast Bowling Association. Total pin count and games must be completed before midnight of the 9th.

The final meeting before the opening of the Mercantile League will be held October 20, at 8:00 p.m., in the room of the Southern California and Major League at the American Bank Bldg., corner of Second and Spring streets.

The enthusiasm shown by the participants this year surpasses any of the former years of the Mercantile League. Already ten teams have been organized, representing different firms in Los Angeles. Captains or their representatives of teams expecting to bowl this season must be at this meeting.

L. A. TEAMS IN TWO GAMES.

Lincoln High School and the L. A. Junior College will tangle in a practice game this afternoon on the former's field. The Pioneer seconds of Herb White have a game scheduled with the Hollywood seconds at the same time on the local lot.

The Way to Get It.

The other day a man of the "old maid" type entered a downtown bakery. He announced his intention of buying a cake. One after another the obliging saleslady showed him, only to be told that this one was "too coarse," this one too yellow and the others wrong in some way or another. "What I want," he finally said, "is an honest-to-God home-made cake. I don't mind the price, just so I get the cake."

"Then if you don't mind the price," retorted the weary saleslady, "why don't you get married and have a wife to make you one?"—[Indianapolis News.

Relic of Lincoln Parade.

Monett (Mo.)—Don Arnold, who lives five miles north of here, recently brought to a local blacksmith shop a set of wagon wheels which were used in President Lincoln's first inaugural parade. Arnold's father owned the wagon to which the wheels belonged and drove the vehicle in the parade. The outfit was painted red, white and blue, in honor of the occasion. The wheels have been lying around the farm for several years, and Arnold decided to have them repaired and repainted and will preserve them as relics.—[St. Louis Republic.

YOUNG SANDOW AFTER BOUT.

The one and only Young Sandow arrived in Los Angeles a few days ago looking for the winner of the Miller-Gotch wrestling match. He had heard that the show was to be staged early in September and expected to find one of the young men a champion by the time he landed on the scene.

But the Miller-Gotch battle has run to postponements, talk and inaction to date with nothing very much better in prospect. So Sandow has settled down to play the waiting game. If a winner is ever decided in the affair he will come to life with a bang. He wants to meet the winner himself.

UNIQUE.

Young Sandow stands as a unique figure in the wrestling game. He walks up and admits that he has been licked more than once and shows records to prove it. He doesn't even claim to be the champion of the world at his weight, which is decidedly unusual. All he says is, that he thinks he can handle anything in his class around these parts and that he would like to try it.

It's refreshing to talk to a wrestler who isn't a world champion and who hasn't defeated every man he ever ran up against.

Back in 1898 Sandow started his career in the boxing game. He won strenuous bouts from Dolly Laina, Italian Griffo, Joe Bernstein, Tom Reilly, Willie Louis, Leo Martin, Joe Shaffer, Harry Mansfield and Young Denny. During the same period he was scientifically walloped by such as Charlie Sieger, Phil Kelly, Dave Hally, Harry Lewis and Black Burns.

In 1905 Sandow switched to wrestling and defeated Young Harley, Leo Bardelo, Max Winter, Demotral, Joe Atlas, Young Multon, Black Nelson, Joe Bernstein, Jim Galveston, Young Sharkey, Young Turk, Joe Lusteig, J. Swanson, Young Hackenschmitt, Joe Lee, Joe Milly, Linzy Carson, F. Martinson, Markencock, Peterson and Max Rafel.

REVERSE ENGLISH.

Some of the wrestlers that Sandow tackled during this period pinned his shoulders to the mat with ease and dispatch. But the biggest percentage of the matches went the other way.

Sandow is 40 years old, in better physical shape than he has ever been in his life and carries around one of the most expensive noses in the wrestling profession.

It seems that Young Sandow was wrestling in France several years ago, and in the excitement of the bout had his nose pushed out of place. The gent that performed this rough stuff on his nose did a thorough job and Sandow entered a hospital. The French doctors took a look at the misplaced beak and immediately became interested in the case. They had never seen a nose which had been moved so far from the place where it really belonged.

So they got to work and for ten months Sandow's nose was punctured, moved around, sewed together and adjusted and at the end of the ordeal Sandow payed $1700, and walked away just as good as new.

To look at his nose one would never suspect that it was such an expensive affair. It looks very much like the common or garden variety and gives no hint of its really cultured education.

PERFECT DEVELOPMENT.

Sandow is a perfect physical specimen and has posed for many famous sculptors in Europe and this country. He is not over-developed as are so many wrestlers but has long rippling muscles that give little indication of their power until they are snapped taut.

Sandow usually steps onto the mat at 145 pounds, he could throw on either [illegible] them the run same. REDLANDS TO C WITH FOR

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Oct. 15.—Redlands high school football team will open with the Pomona high on the local field Saturday. Taking the data into consideration of the hard fought game between the Redlands and Santa Ana high school teams last Saturday, Redlands defeated Pomona on the same score that they defeated Santa Ana, so the two teams are well matched.

The local team has Coach Daniels will hold its finals for the season as he did last year, and up well in the backfield with Bob Allen, who played fullback last year, Simpson, Stoddard, Thompson, Hartman, three of the backfield men last year, are on the squad and working hard for positions.

SILVA STRING HERE.

The Eastern stable of the million-dollar owner, Charles F. Silva, of Sacramento, arrived at the park yesterday where they joined the Capital Park Man's California steeds. Silva will have entries in almost every running event and is confident he will carry away a good share of the rich purses.

Among his horses are the sterling pacer, Little Jack, 2:07½; Columbia, 2:09 1-4, and Bondello, the winner of the free-for-all pace at the Liberty Fair last year. J. H. Ragsdale of Winnipeg, Can., has arrived yesterday with Daley, 2:07½, the winner of the Chamber of Commerce purse at the recent Salem (Or.) fair. C. C. Jones of Stockton is on the grounds with his celebrated eastern campaigner, Miss J., 2:02. W. G. Durfee of Los Angeles has Barbara D., 2:08¼; Bonnie Bon, 2:09 1-4, and Alhambra Boy, 2:06¼.

FROSH TO MEET THE MANUAL ARTS.

[illegible] should be one of the best football games of the season staged next Friday afternoon when the fast Occidental freshman team is scheduled to tangle with Sid Foster's Manual Arts combination, on the Purple and Gray field.

Manual boasts one of the strongest prep teams in the south this year, and the big scores rolled up by their team in some of the early season games gives evidence that their claims are not unfounded. The Oxy frosh rolled up a 54-0 victory against Covina High last Friday, and followed this up with a 26 to 13 victory over the Hollywood high eleven on Monday. Since that time there has been a feeling that the Tiger cubs are not so bad after all.

Coach Jesson has built up a team for the Oxy freshman class with plenty of weight and strong line and a high-powered aggressive backfield. Corey and Jones at the tackle berths, Morgan and Roberts at halves and Gaines at full are making themselves regularly feared. Osborn, former quarter for Santa Ana High, is calling signals for the frosh, and is handling it in an eminently satisfactory fashion.

Packard Trucks For All-Winter Transportation

No More Guess and Gamble in Trucking Costs—
Packard Figures Based Upon Severest Service

WHAT does it mean when thirty cities report demands for more housing construction and increased industrial building? What does it mean when members of the National Association of Builder's Exchanges promise to "attempt to carry on building all winter regardless of weather conditions"?

It means that if demands and plans are carried out, motor trucks must do their bit.

And motor truck users must know how big a bit they can do when cold is extreme and going is hard.

Winter building has always been more or less a gamble with the contractor. A man cannot work a system when the weather deals the cards.

In winters gone by, transportation has fallen down first. Materials were delivered behind schedule or not at all—expensive workmen were forced to slow down—costs were increased accordingly.

Replacement of horses by motor trucks helped to an extent. But reliable figures on winter motor truck performance have been hard to obtain. Consistent figures have been even harder.

Now the gamble is being taken out of winter hauling by Packard transportation figures.

Records of Packard trucks during last winter and the winter before are available.

Many of these trucks did not lose a trip or a minute's time during the winter.

Gasoline and oil consumption and repairs run at the same low average that Packard owners expect to find—

Average loads were hauled, even where they consisted of cement or gravel or other materials whose weight and bulk increased where wet or frozen.

Trailers and special dumping and loading equipment were kept in use according to schedule.

Packard transportation figures and Packard trucks necessarily go together.

For it is the extra margin of strength and stamina that enables the Packard to meet the emergency when it comes.

And it is that same margin—that extra factor of safety—which has kept Packard trucks in continuous service, some of them over ten years. We have yet to hear of a Packard truck going out of active service.

Building contractors and others will find valuable help in solving truck transportation problems by calling upon the Freight Transportation Department of the Packard organization in this city. Its services are without charge.

Hayman has officiated at practically every racetrack in America during the past twenty years and is looked on as one of the best judges of pace and endless ability in the business. Both Judge Smith will act as starter and judge for the nine days of racing.

REDLANDS TO CLASH WITH POMONA

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Oct. 16.—The Redlands high school football team will clash with the Pomona College eleven on the local field Friday afternoon. Taking the dope it will be a hard fought game. The Pomona team held Santa Ana High to a 7 to 0 score, while the Redlands defeated Orange by the same score that Santa Ana did, so the two teams to meet here are well matched.

The local fans believe that Coach Daniels will land his team in the finals for the south section championship as he did last. Given a fast field to play on, Redlands will do well in the backfield with Bob Allen, who played the same position last year, Simpson, Sturtevant, Hartman, three of the backfield men last year, are out again this season and working hard for their positions.

Coach Daniels has two of his players out with injuries now, and Captain Oedick, the 216-pound fullback of last year, cannot play because he has not returned to school yet. Two weeks after school had started last year Oedick was out for practice and was playing a star game at the end of the season. He weighed around 215 pounds when he reported for practice last year, but he could throw a 210-pound man on either Gotch or Hackenschmidt with the same. He doesn't expect to get into condition as quickly this year as he did last year, but he expects to get into condition as fast as he did last year.

"A Young Gotch-Hackenschmidt" wrestling match could be a mighty thriller from every point of view. Both men would fight to win, and the world would have a new addition to the vocabulary of wrestling terms. If the Minor-Gotch match continues in the same manner much longer the wrestling world will be furnished with a little more excitement in the other match.

But Sandow prefers to see two gents fight it out among themselves until one is declared the winner. "And then," he says, "I'd like to get a good look in the vocabulary at either."

FROM GLOVE, HOOF AND BALL.

BY ED O'MALLEY.

The finishes in the Los Angeles and Ascot derbies were about as gripping as we have ever witnessed. As both fields swept down the stretch with each thoroughbred fully extended, our thrills were accelerated by the ecstatic shouts of joy from the aerried masses in grand stand and bleachers. It was a spontaneous outburst of pleasure from 20,000 throats attesting their love for a pastime that had not been seen in Los Angeles for a decade.

Nothing quickens the pulses and gladdens the spirits more than the racing of high-class thoroughbreds, and already in Paris, London and Australia the sport of kings has enjoyed a success it has never known before. The same may be said of the big New York and Saratoga meetings this year. California has produced some of the grandest race horses the world has ever known, and for a number of years in Chicago, the American Derby, one of the bon-ton classics of all times, saw the famous black with a magenta Maltese cross on the back colors of Lucky Baldwin flash across the wire in front.

No higher class steeds ever pranced to the post than The Emperor of Norfolk and Rey El Santa Anita. They were pictures of equine kings that will long live in the memory of all that had the pleasure of seeing them in action. Fair winds whisper the news that the noble thoroughbred is to come back into his own. However, judging from the two derbies ran at Ascot Park last week, it really looks as if that time has already arrived.

Ye Uncle Tom McCarey makes few mistakes on world's series. He had Cincy all the way. After the Sox had won several games Tom was not in the least perturbed. He simply told his partner, Al Greenwald, that Moran was merely lending Gleason a game or two for old time's sake, but that when things got too close, Pat would let loose a wrap or two and the agony would be over. By the way, Uncle was pretty sweet on the Braves when they ran through Connie Mack like a comet broke loose from its moorings.

The Ascot meeting lacked one real kick—the husky voice of Paul Browning and his famous Roseben bleat. Time was when the summit of earthly bliss consisted of a hot dog in one hand, Roseben in the other and a raucous cry of "Come on, Smithy Kane, the whole darned family silver plate is down on you."

Dustin Farnum has a record at Jack Doyle's boxing pavilion that will probably never be broken. He has a Tuesday night's attendance in auction that almost runs back to the first night the big arena was opened. George Goldsmith is running him a close second for the honor.

Will Wyatt is again getting the boxing fever. He seldom is absent a Tuesday night at Doyle's. Of course, he misses his old side kick, Billy Crane, dean of American actors. Will used to sit beside Bill and do some tall rooting. It was Crane's delight at times to lean over to Wyatt and chuckle in that inimitable way of his after a strenuous round was over, "Say, boy, I'm younger than you. I can root all night without tiring, but after you go about a round and a half you are all in."

Was Gus Bowery out at Ascot last Sunday? Might as well ask did the tide come in the same night. After the Derby finish Gus's features wore a beautiful suffusion of pink as he burbled, "Say, Ed, that's the first real thrill I've had in Los Angeles in ten years."

Charley Eyton was out at Jack Doyle's last Tuesday night, and was still there with his running chatter of gibes dished up to surrounding friends. We'll bet right now that Doyle would give half his ranch to have Charley as the third man in the ring. Shall we never forget it?—They brought some fellow down from Frisco to referee the Rivers-Wolgast entente cordiale named Walsh or Welsh with Charley among the spectators. Well, they certainly rubbed the cat's back fifty-seven ways but the right way, and a more beautifully balled-up affair never jarred a winner or loser at a ringside—and Charley among the spectators. Can anyone imagine Eyton stooping over and helping a pugilist to his feet while he was telling off the count on the other man. Oh indeed! It was a classic picture to look upon and the howl that followed it has been reverberating even to this day.

George Bentel is a regular Busy Jimmy when it comes to covering ground. Last Sunday at Ascot Park he seemed possessed with a magic carpet, and like the Irishman's flea was here and there and everywhere before one could say Jack Robinson. As a hustler, George is some persimmons, and as a promoter he really appears to be in a class by himself.

If they ever pull off a thirty-day meeting in Los Angeles it is as sure as taxes that Al Monroe will surround himself with a high-class stable of thoroughbreds. Horses first for Al, and boxers next. If Al had a few more Little Jakes in the stable he would about pull up stakes and beat it for the big tracks around New York.

Cy Myrick tells a good one on himself and Nat Goodwin, when they were in Paris some years ago. They went up to a meeting near the French capital, but when they arrived every room, cot and bed had been pre-empted at the small town where the meeting was to take place. They finally were billeted in a pool-room, and slept on a billiard table all night. The next morning both lurched about as if stricken with locomotor ataxia, and were so stiff and sore that they had to hike back to Paris without delay to get the cricks ironed out of their systems.

of Toledo in place of Dressen, who was unable to come West.

In this, St. Paul's request was granted, with the understanding that Vernon could do the same under similar conditions. Kelley maintained that Vernon was given permission to use Fournier, but had failed to include him in the list of eligibles submitted. He also maintained that Fournier could not be substituted for Borton, as he had previously permitted Vernon to substitute Willie Mitchell for Borton. The four members of the commission present sustained Kelley by a unanimous vote of those present after a protracted discussion of the situation.

WOULDN'T PLAY.

This was followed by a short talk between Essick and Ed R. Maier. A little later Essick announced that he would not play the game without Fournier, who was already in a Vernon uniform. St. Paul refused to play under these conditions, while Vernon, equally stubborn, refused to go ahead without the Angel first-sacker. Finally, after a long period of futile wrangling, Umpire Toman announced that under the ruling of the commission he had no alternative except to forfeit the game to St. Paul, 9 to 0.

The fans were informed that they could get their money back at the office and the big crowd started filing out of the park. However, rather than disappoint the public, Essick, after a further talk with Maier, receded from his stand and had it announced that the Tigers would go ahead if St. Paul would renounce the forfeit. Kelley demurred for a minute and then stated that he would forego the forfeit so that the game could proceed and be played on its merits. The bugs then settled back in their seats and the Tigers proceeded to defeat the Saints without the able services of Mr. Fournier.

ONLY ONE RIOT.

The combat was comparatively quiet after it started, only one riot call being sent out. In the eighth inning the services of three policemen were required to quell a disturbance at the plate which started when Marty Berghammer took violent issue with Umpire Toman on a third strike. Both clubs gathered at the plate en masse, but the cops arrived before the uprising had reached the stage of positive anarchy.

Prohibition was not in effect yesterday, and the game was as wet as any of the pitchers cared to make it. However, only home brew was used, Houck providing the prescription.

Mr. Kelley did not appear on his camp chair yesterday. Either some furniture thief had purloined it from under his person, or he decided that the empty beer case brought better results. He occupied the latter in his usual urbane manner, and lent a distinct dignity to the beer case.

THE EMPTY CASE.

Mr. Hickey's nose had not yet abated, and the skeptical continued to believe that they read in it the secret of how the beer case came to be empty. Mr. Hickey didn't empty it, but had he, it would have been done solely to accommodate Mike, who needed it to sit on. But it has been demonstrated that every time Mike sits on a beer case he does not hatch out a flock of runs, and he may try a morris chair this afternoon.

To make up for the long delay, the Tigers started quick. Mitchell started the first round with an infield hit, Chadbourne forcing him at second. Meusel singled to right, Chadbourne circling to third. Fisher flicked a Texas Leaguer in center, Chadbourne scoring and Meusel dashing to third. The throw to get Bobby at that base was late. McDonald, in an effort to get Fisher off first, threw wild. Meusel counted on the fling, and Fisher went to second.

Edington poked a grounder to Boone, whose throw to get Fisher at third arrived late. Tommy Long ended his long period of self-denial by stinging a single to right, Fisher making fast to the plate and Edington edging down to second. Long's single was the torpedo that found a vital spot in "Steamboat" Williams, and the latter was towed into port. Merritt stopped the Tigers, Beck flying to Duncan and Brooks grounding to the box.

St. Paul held a full house in the second, but it proved to be a hand that could be beaten. With one gone, Hargrave doubled, and McDonald walked. Berghammer shot a single to left. Hargrave could have scored, but was held at third. With the bases loaded, Houck fanned Boone. Corriden, the red-headed pinch-hitter, batted for Merritt. Sunday, Corriden forced in a run with his head. Houck, remembering this, refused to shoot at his head, and so Red grounded to Mitchell.

STARTED WOBBLY.

Hall started the second rather wobbly, and walked Houck, who was forced by Mitchell. Chadbourne placed a fly in short center. Miller, Boone and Berghammer surrounded the ball and then walked away from it. Each one of them seems to have expected the other two to pick it up. Observing that all three had coldly turned their backs on the pill, Mitchell galloped along to third. He scored on a infield hit by Fisher after Meusel had walked, and Edington released Chadbourne with a length fly to Miller. Long forced Fisher.

Doubles by Hyatt and McDonald, bracketed with errors by Mitchell and Beck, gave the Saints their two runs in the fourth. Mitchell tripled in the seventh, and was squeezed in by Alcock. The Tigers hope to finish it by putting the crusher on Griner today. The score:

LONG BEACH TOUGH TEAM.

Coach Frel of Whittier State says he will be willing to call it quits for the season if his team is successful in defeating Long Beach High School next Saturday. Last year's contest resulted in a Long Beach victory, which Frel attributes to the plowed-up condition of the field and the subsequent slowing down of his speedy backs.

There is a clause in this year's contract with the beach high school which calls for no game if the field is plowed up.

There are varying reports as to the weight of the Long Beach eleven. The manager of the team is reported to have told Frel that it would average about 165 pounds. Then came Kienholtz with the statement that the figure was too high. On top of this is the assertion of a Southern California mentor in the City League whose team is soon to meet Long Beach that Kienholtz's squad will average not less than 173 pounds.

Kienholtz is keeping his team's movements shrouded in secrecy. He refused to give Frel a line-up, and also has denied the information to the newspapers.

That he has a powerful eleven there can be no doubt. Last Friday "Bo" Wilson took his Whittier High team to Long Beach for a practice game, and when the first half ended the scoreboard read—Long Beach 61, Whittier 0. Tiernan, Lefebvre and Dolley raced up and down the field for touchdown after touchdown, and Wilson refused to let the slaughter go on.

Frel believes that State boys can beat Long Beach if Maxwell is able to play. The speedy little half was released from the hospital Monday, and if his bum leg will stand the strain he will start the game next Saturday. The Whittier coach is counting on him and Paschal to do most of that team's scoring.

If Long Beach averages 173 pounds it will mean that Frel's team will be outweighted some twenty pounds to the man. Lawrence Johnson, who plays right tackle for Whittier, is probably the heaviest man on the squad, and he only weighs 170 pounds. The heft of the remaining members of the team ranges down to the 113 pounds of Quarterback Lyle. The team average is about 152 pounds.

TRAINING IN PHOTOPLAY WRITING

Develop Your Natural Creative Gifts — Read How This New Art Can Be Easily Mastered

CECIL B. DE MILLE, Famous Director, Famous Players-Lasky Corp., says: "I have no doubt that the amateur country mind can be trained and developed under proper guidance and will have more success than the trained city writer. I am heartily in favor of the Palmer Plan. I regard it as eminently fair from all points of view, and I wish success for the movement in every possible way."

LOIS WEBER, Famous Producer, Director and Author, says: "It is with pleasure that I learn of your efforts to help talented and ambitious people to develop the great field of photoplay writing. Your plan seems to me a most practical one for the purpose, and I wish you success in your efforts."

THE public is clamoring for better motion pictures. Producers are frantically searching the country for new plays. Thousands of new stories are required each year by the various producers—more than all the big fiction magazines publish in two years!

The motion picture has brought forth a new and more direct language—a language of acoustic expression and action. Unfortunately, few people have been given an opportunity to learn this new language because producers hitherto offered no means outside the studios for practical training in photoplay writing. This has resulted in a story famine so serious as to threaten the future stability of the country's fifth largest industry.

Talented men and women must be found and trained for this new work at any cost. They must be taught to think and write in this new language if the screen is to secure the fresh plot material it demands.

The Palmer Photoplay Corporation was founded one year ago to meet this demand. In that short time we have become the foremost clearing-house for original film-story material. Many of our students have sold their plays through us, some for as high as $1000. A number already have taken scenario positions in the studios. Producers are continually calling on us for plays written by writers who have trained themselves through us.

The Palmer Plan of Photoplay Writing offers to men and women of creative ability a real short-cut to the name and fame and money rewards this fascinating profession brings. You can now obtain this training in your own home during your spare time. Our money-back guarantee is proof of our confidence to train you successfully.

If you have good ideas for screen plays and would like to know how we can help you develop and sell them for big prices, mail the coupon below or call personally for full information.

Will Fill a New Field in the Great Automobile Industry

THINK of the appeal in a Six Cylinder Car, built for the motorist of moderate income! The car must be one of unusual economies.

Only big quantity production can make such a car possible—and quantity production is not possible without a revolution from old principles of construction.

The Willys Corporation has produced exactly such a car. It is a revolutionary Six—and is one of the few great forward steps in automobile history since the invention of the pneumatic tire. It fills a great gap in the industry—and has a field all to itself.

Behind this revolutionary car is the Willys Corporation, one of the biggest and strongest manufacturing concerns in the automobile industry. At its head is John N. Willys, president also of the Willys-Overland Company, who has successfully built and sold over 650,000 automobiles.

The business of the Willys Corporation, exclusive of the building of the new Six, is the manufacture of Electric Auto-Lite, starting and lighting systems, and New Process Gears for transmissions and differentials of automobile trucks and tractors.

The Electric Auto-Lite business is the largest in its class in the industry. More starting and lighting sets for automobiles are, and have been made by this company than by any other two concerns in the business. Production is now at a rate of over sixteen hundred complete sets per day, and orders for future deliveries are on hand for four thousand sets per day. This company supplies the principal automobile builders.

The New Process Gear business was organized in 1912. Today it is one of the largest in the industry; and, because of the high quality of its products, the demand is constantly expanding. The factory covers a seven acre site and employs from 1800 to 2000 highly skilled operators.

In addition, the Corporation is producing the Willys Light for the lighting of country homes and farms. In the month of August alone, orders were received for 20,000 Willys farm-light outfits.

The extensive plants of these units are located at Toledo, O., Syracuse, N. Y., and Poughkeepsie, N.Y. They will be sources of supply for the construction of the new Six.

For the building of the new car the plant of the Duesenberg Motors Company, at Elizabeth, N. J., was purchased and is being enlarged to give a capacity of 400 to 500 complete motor cars per day.

The new Six has many new and outstanding features—an entirely new, but thoroughly proven, type of spring suspension being one of them. The car is of remarkably light weight—approximately 2,100 pounds and has notable road-holding, non-skidding and easy riding qualities. It has extraordinarily low gasoline consumption—17 to 20 miles per gallon. The chassis is a marvel of simplicity. The details are all noteworthy.

Anyone desiring further information about the plans and car program of the Willys Corporation should write for our booklet.

MISS MYERS ON STAGE.

AND BROTHER ZION SEES THREE MUSICAL PLAYS.

By Grace Kingsley.

Take a nice long sip of coffee now, and prepare to listen to the success that has come to three well-known Los Angeles young folks away off in the wildly beating heart of New York. It's all just like a story from the pen of Hans Christian Andersen. Or no, come to think of it, Andersen's a bit slow for these times. Well, anyway, not to keep up the suspense any longer, the three youngsters are none other than Carmel Myers, former Universal star, her talented and brick-topped brother of 21 years, Zion Myers, both children of Rabbi Myers of this city, and I. B. Kornblum, formerly a young attorney who owns scenes from no less an authority than Zion himself.

"I know," writes he of the blazing mane, "that you will be interested to hear that Carmel is safely launched on the legitimate. She is now rehearsing in 'The Magic Melody,' a romantic play with music, by Romberg, author of 'Maytime.' She has one of the principal parts, and it looks as if she is going to get across very nicely. The play opens in New Haven, Ct., two weeks from now, and will be brought into a Broadway house the following week. She has been taking singing lessons every day, and has quite developed the voice of a prima donna."

That's all concerning the brilliant Carmel, but Myers has a budget of news concerning himself and his partner, Kornblum, and their success in the writing of musical comedies. It seems that it's not one musical comedy they have written, but three, and not only have they written them, but what is far more to the point they have sold them, and last of all, have some advance royalties in their jeans, so that if they want to spend their evenings in the now more or less denatured Greenwich Village they can do it without hearing the howling of the wolf at the door of their apartment.

"We have three shows placed, waiting for production," saith Zion, "but when production will come we don't know, as New York contains but forty or so theaters, and there are two shows waiting to come to each of them. However, they have turned so darn much money over to us in advance royalties that we are sure that something is going to happen pretty quick, if for no other reason than in pursuance of the law of averages. We owe all our success to no other than Joe Howard, with whom we started, and with whom we hope to stick until the time comes when we can retire and return to the only place in the world. You know very well I mean Los Angeles.

As a postscript, Mr. Myers conveys the important news that there is a rumor afoot on Wall street that Charlie Puhr is going to look up his collar and run for President on the the prohibition ticket.

Helen Ferguson Arrives

A new and lovely face is seen on the Rialto. It belongs to Helen Ferguson, one of the most beautiful of the younger picture players, who has come on from New York to play a leading role in Rex Beach's picture, "Going Some."

Bessie Love to Flit.

If every little girl had the treat to look forward to that Bessie Love has, she'd be willing to be good any number of days in succession. Bessie is going to visit no less personages than Gov. S. R. McKelvie of Nebraska, and his wife, who used to be Miss Martha Groves, a well-known magazine writer.

Miss Love met Mrs. McKelvie, who was then Miss Groves, about four years ago, when Bessie was just bursting from the chrysalis small-part actress into stardom. The two became great friends, have corresponded ever since, and a few days ago Miss Love received an invitation to visit the Governor of Nebraska and his wife right at the Gubernatorial mansion. So Bessie is having a lot of smart frocks made up, and is explaining to all local adorers that she really will come back to them soon, and that honest, cross her heart and hope to die, she won't get married before she returns.

Anyhow, Bessie says she's "watching to see how she turns out," and that's quite enough to occupy one's mind without waiting to see how one's husband turns out. For, you see, her backers are buying for the Bessie Love Productions Company any number of excellent books and plays, and on these she will start work as soon as she returns from Nebraska.

Poor Little Mabel.

Mabel Condon is suffering from abscesses in both ears. Whether the line of conversation she had to listen to from clients had anything to do with her illness she doesn't state.

Harold Lloyd Improving.

Harold Lloyd, star of Rolin comedies, showing at Pantages, who suffered double misfortune all in one week by losing his comedy partner, Bebe Daniels, who signed up with Lasky, and also the thumb and finger of one hand in the making of a comedy scene, is recovering finely. It is said the comedian's missing thumb and index finger can easily be camouflaged and he will shortly resume productions with Mildred Davis as his partner.

"Broken Blossoms" Retained.

So great has been the success of "Broken Blossoms" at Clune's Auditorium that the film is to be retained yet another week following this. Naomi Black has replaced Carroll Dempster, who has gone to New York, in the prologue.

Santschi Health Bulletin.

The powerful physique and splendid health of Tom Santschi have stood him in good stead during the past fortnight. He is recovering rapidly in the Spokane hospital to which he was taken after he had been kicked by a vicious horse while working in scenes with the Catherine Curtis company in Idaho.

Daily Meouw.

So Kitty Gordon has deserted the films. That's good. She is returning to the speaking stage. That's good. Jack Wilson will play a leading role with her. That's good.

Sid Grauman to Return.

Sid Grauman, famous film impresario, will return to our midst from New York today, according to telegraphic announcement just received. It appears he will have some important news to give forth.

Among other big undertakings, it seems likely, according to a well-authenticated rumor, that Mr. Grauman intends to present, as supplementary to his pictures, a number of one-act plays, or even pieces of greater length, at his house, with some of the best actors in the country. Some of these actors, indeed, may accompany him West. This is in line with certain innovations introduced in a number of theaters where Paramount-Artcraft pictures are shown, and will, no doubt, make the Grauman more popular than ever.

Concerning next week's premiere showing of Mack Sennett's latest special production, "Salome vs. Shenandoah," comes a bit of news that should immensely please devotees of laughter. Charlie Murray is going to present an act in conjunction with the production, in which fourteen comedians will appear in dancing, all garbed in the same attire as that which Phyllis Haver wears as Salome in the film. In addition to this, Murray, Ben Turpin and Charles Conklin will wear the same costumes as in the film and will sing and play on the lyre an original song composition of Murray's.

Charlie vouches for the information that Ben Turpin will positively wear nothing but a tiger's skin and a shepherd's staff. As for himself, his innate modesty forbade him making any statement regarding his own appearance further than to state that he will wear something. He also states that for his "male ballet" he has secured one dancer standing seven feet, six inches, and weighing 135 pounds, and another dancer four feet, ten, who weighs over 200.

Invitations have, of course, been issued to Hans Linne, Ernest Belcher, Theodore Kosloff and others

Here's a New Charmer.

Miss Nancy Chase, the young English stage beauty who scored success last spring in Daniel Frohman's London revival of "Everywoman," arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from New York to begin work on her initial motion-picture contract.

The details of Miss Chase's film affiliation are being withheld at present, but it is known that her backer is one of the foremost producers in the industry. Before playing Youth in "Everywoman," Miss Chase supported Sir Forbes-Robertson and co-starred with Albert Chevalier in several Strand successes. She has a large following across the water and by reason of her beauty and peculiar talents will, it is believed, prove equally popular with the picture-goers of America.

How was He to Know?

Kathleen Clifford, the little artiste of musical comedy, who is playing an engagement opposite Douglas Fairbanks in his current United Artists production at Brunton, possesses a pincushion which is in the form of a huge corsage bouquet, with a heavy satin center. A gold cord is attached by which the ornament is tied to the wall. At the Virginia Hotel one day, Miss Clifford decided to go for a stroll on the sand with Eugene O'Brien and his wife. 'Gene rushed up to Miss Clifford's suite to get her hat for her, and careering down again, with the pincushion in hand, he exclaimed:

"Someone's been playing a trick on you, Kathleen. They had nailed your hat to the wall. I wrecked all the hangings to get it down, but here it is! It's all stuck full of pins too!"

No Longer Boniface.

After rubbing elbows with such celebrities as President Wilson, William G. McAdoo, Josephus Daniels, princes, paupers, kings, queens and jacks, Raymond D. Montirichard of the Linnard hotels has left the fold and ventured forth upon the uncharted seas of motion pictures. Monti was with the Linnard system for some time at the Green in Pasadena and more recently at the Alexandria here. It is rumored that he could stand it no longer; he saw King Albert coming and he determined to become a king himself. He resigned and began his jitney travels to Universal City. He says that it is the only life, etc., etc., etc.

Kerrigan Puts One Over.

Imagine being given a job as extra in the same picture in which you are starring!

You say it couldn't happen?

Just listen to this.

During the filming of "Live Sparks," J. Warren Kerrigan's latest Brunton production, the star spent many of his off hours roaming about Old Sonoratown, the Mexican district of Los Angeles, gathering material for a film play which he is writing. When on these excursions he was generally rigged out to match the scenery, in a battered Stetson, flannel shirt and heavy work shoes.

One morning he stood on a street corner talking with a group of Mexicans. Down the street an auto bus backed up to the curbing. A man jumped out and entered a pool room. A minute later he emerged with a small army of Mexicans at his heels. The Mexicans climbed into the bus and the man ran toward Kerrigan and his friends.

"You boys want to work?" he demanded.

"What kind of work?" asked one of the Mexicans.

"Big picture," said the man, waving his arms eloquently. "Moving pictures. Mob stuff. Mucho dinero—cinco pesos por dia. What you say—eh?"

"All right," said the Mexicans.

"All right," said Jack.

At the Brunton studios the mob was rehearsed for a thrilling fight scene by Ernest Warde, Kerrigan's director. The moment Warde yelled "Camera!" Jack began laying about him like a mad bull. One Mexican after another closed his eyes blissfully and wilted to the ground. In the heat of the conflict Kerrigan lost his hat. Warde rubbed his eyes incredulously, and yelled "Cut!" then ran over to the grinning super.

"Jack!" he roared. "What's the big idea! What the blankety-blank are you doing here! Hey? you don't figure in this scene! By golly—"

Jack's grin widened.

"But, senor—"

"Senor, the devil! You get out!"

"Do I get my $5?"

"Not a darn cent. Vamoose!"

"But the cinco pesos, senor. The man said—"

Ware dug in his pocket and produced a five spot.

"Here's your blamed dinero. Now clear out—pronto!"

And Jack went.

CITY TO REGULATE HEALTH RESORTS.

HOSPITALS AND ASYLUMS UNDER THE BAN IN SOUTH PASADENA.

Because a patient of the Rosedell Sanatorium, at South Pasadena, said to be suffering from mental disorders, escaped from the institution recently and created a sensation when he drove people from the streets with a large knife, the report that the Hotel Los Terradoes was to be transformed into a hospital caused much excitement in the neighboring city and resulted in the passage of an ordinance by the South Pasadena Council last night which will strictly regulate all health institutions in the future.

It is said that a group of medical men have been working out a plan involving purchase of the hotel and the establishment of a hospital for treatment of nervous diseases. To be certain that insane patients are not treated here the ordinance passed as an emergency measure at last night's Council meeting provides that no hospital can be operated in the city without a permit from the city solons.

City Attorney William Hazelett announced at the meeting that he would cause a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Dr. T. W. Bishop, who conducts a hospital at Fair Oaks and Meridian street, charging him with operating a sanatorium in violation of a city ordinance which provides that names of patients and their ailments must be listed with the city health officer.

It is said Dr. Bishop has recently expended $2000 in building a steel inclosure around cottages where certain of his patients are housed.

SECRET INDICTMENT.

A secret indictment, said to be for a statutory charge, was returned by the county grand jury yesterday. Bail was fixed at $2000 by Judge Craig, who ordered a bench warrant issued.

GOES TO ENGLAND ON GRAIN-SELLING TRIP.

EX-PRESIDENT OF DISTILLING COMPANY APPLIES FOR PASSPORTS HERE.

Henry Laub of 677 South Bonnie Brae avenue, formerly president of the Old Plantation Distilling Company of this city, yesterday applied to the passport division of the Federal court for a passport to visit Liverpool on business. Mr. Laub said he is going to England for a ninety-day visit to sell grain for the S. E. Harris Company.

Sokidai Moriyuma and Chiyo Kich' sought passports for their sons to Japan, where they will visit relatives.

Other passports applied for were as follows: David J. Barry, a Los Angeles fireman, who wishes to go to Ireland to visit his mother; Allen B. Case of Pomona, who has property interests in the State of Chihuahua, Mex.; Earnest M. Burtt of Martinez, Cal., who desires to go to England to visit his mother.

MEANS SPEEDING UP OF CONTROL WORK.

SUPERVISORS LOOK OVER LONG BEACH VACATION WRIT; FIND IT O.K.

Mayor Lisenby of Long Beach yesterday brought to the Hall of Records and presented to the Supervisors a copy of the proceedings for the vacation of the streets in that city that will be necessary for the cutting of the flood control channel. County Counsel Hall examined the proceedings and reported to the board that they are legal and complete.

The Supervisors then took up the matter of the construction of the bridge at Ocean avenue, consulting both Flood Control Engineer Reagan and officials of the Salt Lake, United States District Engineer Downing and Maj. Hughes, his assistant, later consulted the Supervisors with reference to turning over to them the rights of way for the big channel.

When these matters have all been adjusted, the big channel will be started and pushed to a speedy conclusion, to meet the flood-water emergency created by the recent forest fires which burned off the brush on the mountains.

BEACH PUBLISHING HISTORY OF ALASKA.

The reason for Rex Beach's sudden departure for the east has just been learned from a telegram of the author to a personal friend in Los Angeles. He is to consult with his publishers in regard to the printing of his manuscript of "A History of North of 53." This is the first knowledge that the author has been at work on a history of Alaska.

While in New York Beach will also attend the opening of his picture "The Girl from Outside," at the new Capitol Theater. This film also is to have its first local showing at the Kinema next week.

BUY O. HENRY STORY.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine," the late Paul Armstrong's famous crook drama, has been bought by Metro and will be filmed with Bert Lytell as Lee Randall, according to announcement by Maxwell Karger, director general, yesterday.

Richard A. Rowland, Metro president, completed negotiations for the screen rights to the Armstrong play before leaving New York for Los Angeles. "Alias Jimmy Valentine" is based on O. Henry's story, "A Retrieved Reformation." Production on it by Screen Classics, Inc., will start as soon as Mr. Lytell completes his film version of Sir Gilbert Parker's novel, "The Right of Way," on which he is now working.

VIOLA DANA RECOVERS.

Viola Dana, star of "Please Get Married" at the California, appeared at the Metro studio yesterday for the first time since she suffered a 'flu relapse ten days ago.

Miss Dana caught cold after wading in icy water for "The Willow Tree," the Japanese story she is now filming, and has been under the care of a physician at her home. A year ago Miss Dana was attacked by influenza at the same time as her late husband, John Collins, but fought her way back to health.

BRIEFS.

A NOVELTY PLAY.

"UNDER ORDERS" SOON TO PLAY ENGAGEMENT HERE.

By Edwin Schallert.

One of the most unusual dramatic plays ever presented on the stage is "Under Orders," which is shortly to come to the Mason. In this production a cast of two carries the action. The piece was written by Berte Thomas and revised for America by Roi Cooper Megrue.

"Tea for Three" the farce which recently played at the Mason, was notable for its small cast, but "Under Orders" is even more remarkable. The action of the play transpires just outside of London and in a small city near Berlin.

A Specialist on Make-up.

Wallace Beery, who plays the role of the blacksmith in the Robert Warwick production, "In Mizzoura," which comes to Grauman's next week, has given perhaps more attention to the art of make-up than any artist on the screen. Beery will arrive two hours ahead of schedule at the studio of a morning, when he has a difficult make-up, so as to be sure that everything is right before he steps in front of the camera. Some of his character portrayals have furnished very convincing evidence of his ability.

That Forced Smile.

It is very curious how certain novelties of expression introduced in pictures will catch on with the public. Dozens of people have copied that little trick of the forced smile which Lillian Gish employs in "Broken Blossoms" and use it on occasions where it is suitable in private life. Dorothy Gish also started a fashion among the younger girls, which has come to be known as the cult of Gishi. Lou Gottschalk told me that back East as soon as "Broken Blossoms" was put on the screen several directors began to use the trick smile in their pictures.

An Heiress and Everything.

And she's popular enough already with those who have seen her in "Broken Threads" at the Majestic.

It has just become known that Ruth Renick may some day be a millionairess.

You see, Miss Renick is a Texan, and it is from her native State she hopes to gather her millions. Years ago, so the story runs, a distant relative of the ingenue acquired 160 acres of land in the heart of Comanche county, Texas. In the opinion of agriculturists, said land was only fit to raise a poor quality of jackrabbits and an occasional crop of peanuts. When the relative passed away the land was willed to Miss Renick.

And now what do you think—they say that some day oil may be struck on the Renick property, as the trend of present development in the new Texas field points that way.

Her Play Success Follows.

By an odd coincidence, Madge Kennedy is to appear in her latest film production, "Through the Wrong Door," at the same theater where her former stage success is to show in screen version the following week. Miss Kennedy created the role of the much-harrassed heroine in Avery Hopwood's farce comedy, "Fair and Warmer," which is the photoplay May Allison is to appear in at the California Theater immediately following "Through the Wrong Door."

The Real Thing.

No ordinary prop dancers are used in the great court scenes in Herod's palace in the Mack Sennett special, "Salome Versus Shenandoah," which comes to Grauman's Theater next week. Some of Ernest Belcher's prize pupils appear in the various Terpsichorean specials in the play in which Ben Turpin, Phyllis Haver, Charlie Murray, Charlie Conklin, Ford Sterling, Billy Bevans, Harry Gribbon, Marie Prevost, Louise Fazenda and other Sennett headliners appear. It is declared that the entire production is the most spectacular comedy that has ever been put out by the fun factory.

Offered Her Choice.

In her "fan mail" Ethel Clayton, Famous Players-Lasky star, is so fortunate as to draw a large number of letters from children. And she is always eager to read these. The other day she opened a letter and out dropped a stick of gum. Astonished, Miss Clayton read what the 9-year-old writer had to say.

"I love gum better than candy," said the letter, "and hope you do, too. This is my favorite gum. If you like it I will send you a package."

Miss Clayton wrote the little girl and thanked her, but added that she did "not like gum quite so well as candy."

Speaking for Dwight.

Bryant Washburn, star of "Why Smith Left Home," begs to report that his second son, Dwight Ludlow Washburn, aged about 1 month, is showing more class with each passing day. The baby, according to daddy and the attending physician, is an unusually sturdy youngster, and will prove a running mate for his big brother, Bryant Washburn, IV, aged 4 years.

Wanted—a Tip.

Bayard Veiller's story, "The Thirteenth Chair," in its screen version is one of the kind that really mystifies for the other day in the theater a couple of young men were arguing about how it was coming out, and one of them said he'd bet a case note he knew. Along about the fourth reel the "sure one" began to get nervous and had visions of eating "beans" for a week if his surmise was wrong, so he quietly beckoned an usher and said in a whisper, "Girlie, tell me, who killed Stephen Lee?" and he attempted to slip 50 cents into the young lady's palm.

The usher replied, "You're the third person who asked me the same thing this week, and I'm not going to tell you."

Foys are on Way.

Eddie Foy, and his stepladder of seven Foysettes, opened on the Pantages Circuit this week in Minneapolis, and are booked for the local theater shortly after the holidays.

Now Dance Creator.

Bert French, who is with Alice Eis, is devoting his attention entirely to the staging of her acts now adays. Miss Eis will have as her dancing partner, James Templeton.

REALTY OPERATORS FORM ORGANIZATION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 15.—Santa Ana is to have a realty board, composed of realty operators of Santa Ana and vicinity. This has been definitely decided upon and final steps toward organization will be taken Thursday when a meeting and luncheon will be held at James's to ratify the board's constitution and by-laws now being drafted. Realty men of Garden Grove, Tustin, Newport, Orange, Huntington Beach and other neighboring communities have been invited to join, and at least fifty are expected at Thursday's meeting.

Linn L. Shaw is president of the temporary organization already formed and the publicity committee includes Freeman H. Bloodgood, J. P. Smith and John L. Tummond. Santa Ana and vicinity is suffering from an acute shortage of houses and one of the purposes of the new organization is to launch plans for speeding up the construction of new dwellings, apartment-houses, etc. So many people have written that they are coming to this vicinity that the realty men are alarmed and are seeking some way to relieve the situation.

DENIES KNOWLEDGE OF ALLEGED MURDER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, Oct. 15.—Nichlan Martin, an Armenian garage man of Yettem, near here, arrested by Sheriff Smith on advices of Arizona authorities, has repeatedly denied his connection with the murder of Arthur Desteunder, a discharged service man, for which he is wanted in the Southwest.

According to the Sheriff, who has put Martin through several grilling examinations, Martin has declared he will fight extradition for the alleged crime, and has refused to admit any knowledge of it. Desteunder's discharge papers and identification tag were found in Martin's possession here, according to the officers, when he was searched at the County Jail.

Martin's arrest was simplified, inasmuch as he drove here from Arizona in a machine bearing a Rhode Island license tag, the same car which Desteunder is said to have driven to Prescott, Ariz., near which city the alleged crime was committed. Martin is being held for arrival of Arizona authorities, who are expected to arrive today.

CIVIC BOOSTERS MEET.

Santa Monica to Start Campaign for Bigger, Better Town.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 15.—In order to explain plans of the campaign for new members that the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce will launch next week, that organization will hold a civic dinner Thursday evening at the Merritt-Jones Hotel.

Committees have arranged for some interesting talks, and it is anticipated that the meeting will be the beginning of a new civic spirit here. Several speakers, expert in civic organization, will address the gathering, under the chairmanship of Dr. H. W. Levengood.

George Taubman of Long Beach will speak on "A Live Town." L. W. Ballard, secretary of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, is to discuss "Organization and its Benefits." Mrs. J. B. Lorbeer, president of the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club, and H. L. Gibbs are other speakers.

NEW "Y" BUILDING.

Pomona to Erect Monument to Her Service Men.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Oct. 15.—Plans for the proposed Y.M.C.A. Building, to be erected on North Garey avenue, between Monterey and Center streets, as a memorial to the men from Pomona Valley who served in the world war, were received by the Executive Committee this week.

As planned the building will be an attractive and commodious one with three stories and a basement. The outside will be of brick, with terra cotta trimmings, and a red tile roof. No estimate of the cost of the building was given out by the committee, but about $130,000 was raised during the Y.M.C.A. Building campaign some months ago, this amount to cover site, building and equipment. It is understood that an additional sum is being raised to provide for additional costs.

FORTUNE FOR CITRUS FRUIT.

Riverside Growers Make Big Gain Over Last Year.

Los Angeles Professor to be Head of New College.

City to Lease Site in Big Bear for Park.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 15.—Returns for citrus fruits marketed through the two local fruit exchanges last season amounted to $2,164,187.74, according to the annual reports submitted to the directors yesterday. This is an increase of $839,336 over the receipts a year before.

A total of 535,106 boxes of oranges and lemons were marketed during the season. The shipment of lemons was more than double that of the preceding year. The orange crop in this district, according to the report of Manager H. A. Lynn, matured earlier than usual, the first shipment going out November 21. By January 1, 175 cars of navels had been shipped.

The total cost of marketing and advertising, including the expense of the local exchange and the California Fruit Exchange, was approximately 7¼ cents per box for oranges and 9½ cents for lemons. This is 1 cent less than the previous year, owing to the larger volume of fruit handled through the local exchange.

Following are the new officers of the Riverside Fruit Exchange: President, H. D. French; vice-president, A. S. Holden; secretary, S. H. Herrick; manager, H. A. Lynn; directors, H. A. Westbrook, F. D. Hudson, F. M. Reed, E. H. S. Knapp, C. H. Low, A. G. Burch, L. D. Barnes, J. E. Cutter.

The newly-elected officers of the Arlington Heights Fruit Exchange are: President W. G. Fraser; vice-president, C. C. Arnold; H. A. Lynn, manager and secretary-treasurer; directors, J. H. Urquhart, B. K. Marvin, Alfred Crebbin.

HEADS NEW SCHOOL.

Dr. J. Z. Uriburu of Los Angeles was elected president of the Pan-American University, incorporated here, at the first official meeting of the corporation held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night.

The other officers are A. A. Adair, vice-president; A. G. Paul, secretary, and J. C. Odell, treasurer. A committee was appointed to investigate and report on a site for the institution, the plans for which call for nineteen buildings and an ultimate expenditure of several million dollars.

The purposes of the proposed institution are tersely set forth by Dr. Uriburu, who has been a leading spirit in the movement. "Economic relationships such as always will be independent of any outside nation should be established between the republics of the American hemisphere," he declared. "The Pan-American University will give us a spiritual union which will prove the foundation for a physical union of steamship lines. The only barrier is language. It is necessary for the South American to learn English, and for you to learn Spanish."

COMMUNITY PARK.

The movement for a community recreation site in the San Bernardino Mountains has seen fruition in the action of the City Council indorsing a report favoring the location of such a site in Big Bear Valley. Mayor Porter was requested to make formal application to the forestry department for the lease of twenty acres overlooking Big Bear Lake.

The committee appointed to investigate sites made favorable mention of a site in the San Jacinto Mountains, near Keen Camp. For the reason that the Board of Supervisors felt that it would not be feasible for the county to co-operate in the support of recreation grounds in another county, but might take steps to establish a playground in the San Jacinto Mountains, it was deemed desirable to make the Bear Valley site available for residents of the county at large, with the understanding that any reservation made in the San Jacinto Mountains would likewise be open to residents of this city.

TIDAL WAVE VICTIMS.

Narrow Escape of Relatives Told in Letter from Hawaii.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 15.—Caught in the back rush from a tidal wave which accompanied the recent eruption of Mauna Loa, Attorney and Mrs. C. S. Carlsmith and two children of Hilo, Hawaii, had a narrow escape from death, according to a letter just received by Mr. Carlsmith's sister, Mrs. W. V. Whitson of 1113 French street.

The family was in an automobile near the beach at the time, saw the ocean waters recede and then rush back probably fourteen feet higher than at high tide. Mr. Carlsmith was carried 100 yards out to sea when the big wave receded and was badly mauled and bruised upon the rocks. He finally caught hold of a rock and saved himself.

Mrs. Carlsmith was carried a quarter of a mile out, but saved herself by clinging to a piece of wreckage until two Hawaiians secured a canoe which had not been smashed and brought her to shore. Their two sons were also caught in the waters, but managed to save themselves.

The disturbance of the ocean was attributed either to the pouring of lava into it or the opening of a great crevice in the bottom of the sea.

TO BUILD CHECK DAMS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Oct. 15.—"Community Day," as recommended by J. M. Paige, for making check dams in the mountains, was indorsed today by the Chamber of Commerce, and a committee will be appointed to get behind the movement and arrange for a holiday in Pomona, when the business houses will close and all the citizens go to the mountains to assist in building check dams to avert floods next winter.

VISITS OLD SCHOOL IN FLYING MACHINE.

FORMER STUDENT AT PERRIS USES CAMPUS AS LANDING FIELD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PERRIS, Oct. 15.—Dropping out of the sky in an airplane to pay a visit to former schoolmates and the high school where he had graduated, before volunteering for military service at the outbreak of the war, was the unique stunt performed yesterday by Elmer Remelin, a former student of the Perris Union High School.

Classes were interrupted by the roar of the motor as the machine slid low over the roof, and then alighted on the campus. Principal Edgar T. Boughn, recognizing the aviator, declared a suspension of studies, and the students rushed out to give their former playmate an enthusiastic reception. Mr. Remelin is now in the employ of an aviation company of Los Angeles and made the trip from that city to Perris in about an hour, spent some time visiting friends in town and started on the return trip before sundown.

FIND CHILD BURGLAR.

Twelve-year-old Boy Tells Officers of Robberies.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

EL CENTRO, Oct. 15.—A 12-year-old Mexican youth, Earnest Valda, this morning confessed to Marshall Hill a dozen robberies of business firms in this city. He is the robber who has been a source of worry to the police force for months.

Among the robberies confessed were Wm. Eggers, Palace Store, Julain's Grocery, Dick's Grocery, Imperial Tire Company, two garages, G. W. Watkins's hardware store, Hayward Lumber Company and the Blinn Lumber Company. He admitted getting more than $200 in cash and some guns. The guns have been recovered.

The lad asserted he had a companion part of the time and later involved a man named Sanders, now under arrest.

The first clew was when he stopped to typewrite his name on the typewriter of a store he robbed. Valda stated he came from Oatman, Ariz., and his parents are dead.

His case is attracting wide attention and is one of the most interesting to come under observation of the police department in months.

NO DISCRIMINATION.

Open-Shop Employers Give Work to Union Men.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 15.—There will be no discrimination against the employment of union workmen during the coming fruit season, according to an announcement from the Packing-house Managers' Association, but no steps will be taken for any discussion of a closed shop. The decision of the managers, which took the form of a resolution, was forwarded to the officials of the Central California Fruit Workers' Union today over the signature of R. O. MacDonald, the secretary of the association. It says:

"Resolved, that we instruct our secretary to notify the Central California Fruit Workers' Union that we cannot consider any negotiations or discussions concerning a closed shop with the citrus-packing industry of Tulare county, and that there will be no discrimination against union men in the employment of our help."

According to the packing-house management, there has been no lack of help since the union officers called a general strike in Tulare county.

ASK MORE RANGERS.

Advertising Club Favors Plans Now to Prevent Forest Fires.

Resolutions relating to the recent forest fires were read to the Advertising Club at its meeting Tuesday and were adopted. The resolutions recited the heavy damage caused by the forest fires, and urged that increased appropriations be made for the services of additional forest rangers and for the building of roads and fire-break systems to prevent such damage in future. The resolutions recommended also that an emergency fire-fighting body be organized among the county employees of the department of flood control.

Begin Hot Water Drinking If You Don't Feel Right

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is aching; if what you eat sours and forms acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before eating more food.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate, which is inexpensive and almost tasteless.

Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast.—[Advertisement.

Some Facts-

Prospective Home Buyers Should Know

It requires about 90 days to complete the construction of a House.

During the last 90 days there have been substantial advances in practically all materials used in the construction of a House, but at this time prices seem to be stabilized.

During the last 90 days carpenters and others employed in the construction of a House have had advances in their pay to a satisfactory wage.

When we start the construction of a House the selling price is made, based upon cost of construction plus twice of the lot.

Last week we completed 8 new Homes. We also started the construction of 8 new Homes, and we find the cost of construction on each of these new Houses to be about $500 more.

You Will Pay

90 Days From Now

The Houses we complete 90 days from now will sell for $500 more than the Houses we offer you today; in other words, our Houses now selling for $4250 will be selling for $4750 three months from now.

Will You Wait and Pay $500 More?

Or will you buy now and make $500?

Let us show you the Homes we have now ready to occupy.

LEAGUE SPLITS EPISCOPALIANS.

'Spineless" Resolution Fought by Delegates.

Dr. Smeade Seeks Definite Stand on Question.

Extension Programme may Reach Hundred Million.

DETROIT, Oct. 15.—Determined that the triennial general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church shall take a definite stand on the League of Nations issue, southern delegations are marshalling their forces against the resolution adopted by the house of bishops that the United States enter into a "covenant of nations."

Dr. G. Gordon Smeade of Jackson, Miss., characterizing the resolution, which was fathered by Bishop Chauncey Brewster of Connecticut, as "spineless, colorless and meaningless," declared today that he will wage a fight to prevent its adoption in the house of deputies. With him are aligned the southern delegations, almost solid. he stated Dr Smeade has before the house of deputies a resolution indorsing the League of Nations covenant in its present form.

Ostensibly to prevent delay in legislative action of the house of delegates because of the heavy programme yet untouched, a proposal that there be no delate on the League of Nations was made and approved today, 307 to 118. Presentation of other resolutions, however, will be permitted.

Dr. Smeade declared this action "establishes a dangerous precedent in muzzling freedom of speech" and said the league issue is above politics. "the greatest issue before the world today, the greatest document that ever emanated from the mind of man."

ASK HUGE FUND.

The board of missions today asked the convention to authorize a campaign among the church membership for pledges to finance the church work extension programme, to cost an undetermined amount that probably will reach $100,000,000

The programme interprets the work of the church in this country in relations to five major groups of people, the Indians, negroes, isolated mountaineers of the Appalachians, people of the rural districts and foreign-born and their children.

"Church member" is to be defined, if a proposal to consider as members all persons baptized in the church, made in the house of deputies today, is adopted. It is stated this would increase the record membership of the church perhaps from 25 to 50 per cent.

The house of bishops adopted a resolution to close the convention on October 24.

Suffragan bishops elected by dioceses will hereafter be given a vote as well as a seat in the house of bishops. Provision was made by the house of bishops for shorter Old Testament lessons and action of the house of deputies providing that three tables of scriptural lessons be placed on trial with the next convention was concurred in. These are steps toward a settled lectionary.

EXTENSION PLANS.

The extension contemplates the expenditure of $2,174,826 for negro work. The convention was told one-half the rural population of 50,000,000 people are without religious affiliations and intensive work among them is planned.

It is proposed to spend $1,500,000 in Americanization work in cooperation with the Federal Department of the Interior. This includes special projects for reaching each of the alien nationalities in this country. Community centers, experimental stations, classes in "patriotic education," and development of social service are planned among them.

For educational work it is proposed to expend more than $3,300,000 on new buildings, college equipment, theological schools, scholarships and work among students. It is proposed to spend another $600,000 to meet the present social unrest.

Two million dollars will be spent in extending Latin-American church work, including a campaign against "existing evils."

More than a half million dollars will be spent in Brazil and the same amount in Cuba. In Porto Rico it is proposed to spend $350,000; in Haiti and Santo Domingo, $190,000; in Mexico, $250,000, and in the Virgin Islands, $35,000.

FOR FOREIGN FIELDS.

Nine and a half millions will be expended in other foreign fields, including Alaska, China, Japan and the Philippines and Liberia.

Nearly $4,500,000 will go to China and $4,150,000 to Japan. Hundreds of schools, hospitals and mission buildings are projected in those lands.

Saloon substitutes for men, housing and social centers for girls and women, and vacation homes will call for the expenditure of $1,200,000 in this country. Extension of social, religious and education work for seamen is on the programme. In the United States alone 1920 new projects are planned at a cost of more than $20,000,000, in addition to which a large amount will be used in increasing preachers' salaries, according to the plan.

The house of deputies today authorized the appointment of a commission to consider fuller recognition by the church of "the ministry of healing and the need of its revival" in connection with the visit here of James M. Hickson, Church of England exponent of apostolic healing of diseases by "laying on of hands."

CRITICISES MEN WHO DODGE JURY SERVICE.

JUDGE TRIPPET ASSERTS GOOD COURTS MUST HAVE GOOD CITIZENS AS JURORS.

Asserting that the country cannot have good courts under the jury system unless good citizens are willing to serve as jurors, Judge Trippet in impaneling the July term trial jury in the United States District Court denounced particularly persons who have accumulated fortunes under the protection of government and now say they have no time to give to jury service.

Judge Trippet said that many persons were dissatisfied with the courts. "If the good citizens are going to shirk this duty, are going to be slackers to their government, you will always find excuses for condemning the courts," he said.

The following members of the panel qualified for serving for the new term: John W. Austin, John Bruner, E. P. Butterfield, F. J. Berridge, Henry C. Bohrman, Charles Barrington, Jr., Richard M. Bladon, George B. Bentel, Bernard Cole, R. C. Gillis, Frank Grinch, Newton W. Graham, Mark Germain, Charles W. Hardy, L. J. Harris, Willis Hunt, Ralph Mamlin, H. D. Ivy, Karl Klokke, H. W. MAKES NEW CHARGE.

Hotel Chauffeur is Accused Now of Receiving Stolen Jewels.

To conform to evidence recently obtained a second indictment was returned yesterday by the grand jury against Frank South. He was formerly accused of grand larceny, but was indicted this time on a charge of receiving stolen property. He is accused of receiving a large portion of $10,000 worth of jewelry alleged to have been stolen from W. P. Cooper and Mrs. Delphin Cooper, his wife, who were guests at a local hotel. The new indictment alleges that South, a chauffeur at the hotel, received the stolen jewelry from Clyde Sewright, a bell boy, who is accused of stealing the articles.

South was arrested in Atlanta, Ga., and Sewright in San Diego. They are in the County Jail.

LICENSE LAW READY.

Draft Completed, Public Hearings to Start on Monday.

The draft of the proposed new license tax ordinance, which is planned to largely increase the city's revenues by placing a license fee on more than 200 businesses and professions at present exempt, was practically completed yesterday afternoon at the session of the City Council's Finance Committee.

It was decided to begin public hearings on the new ordinance next Monday at 1:30 p.m., in the Council chamber, and to hold daily and possibly nightly sessions as long as they may be necessary, so that the ordinance may be adopted at the earliest possible date.

BONILLAS BACK WITH ROSY VIEW

Says Carranza Does not Fear American Intervention.

Confident that Patient Waiting Policy is to Go On.

Says Mexico Making "Honest Effort" to be Square.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Ambassador Bonillas of Mexico, who returned to Washington today from a conference with President Carranza, said that Carranza entertains no fear that the United States will intervene in Mexico.

President Carranza feels secure in the conviction, the Ambassador said, that the United States appreciates the troubles Mexico is admittedly having as a result of the ten years of civil warfare, and will give the recognized government the time to adjust its internal affairs and its foreign relations satisfactorily.

Ambassador Bonillas further stated that President Carranza's optimism toward American action extends to the oil land issue, now a subject of American owners' emphatic protest, Carranza feeling that the issues will be settled in a manner just to the foreign oil land owners and the Mexican government.

The Mexican Ambassador further stated that his chief expressed great concern over the illness of President Wilson and the hope that Ambassador Fletcher would soon be returned to Mexico City.

AN "HONEST EFFORT."

Referring to national and international problems now confronting Mexico, President Carranza told the Ambassador that the Mexican Congress was making an honest effort to settle the questions in a just way.

The Ambassador said that he returned from Mexico bearing no complaints or protests of any kind. It had been reported unofficially that he would protest against American aviators flying over Mexican territory.

SAYS REBELS LIE.

Mr. Bonillas asserted that the reports of rebel activities in the north of Mexico and that the Carranzistas controlled only those portions of the country near the railroads were disproved by the fact that the President and a number of high officials of the government with a small guard had been able to ride horseback for days across the desert far from any railroad line on a visit to the President's ranches and had not been molested in any way.

"COMFORT" TO AMERICANS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Senor Jose Maria de la Barza, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary for Mexico to Norway and Sweden, who is in New York on his way to his new post, said tonight it is the "heartfelt desire of Mexico not only to be the best of friends with the United States, which is manifestly destined to be the greatest nation of all time, but also to promote the stupendous evolution of her people and her prosperity.

"President Carranza and all representative Mexicans are doing all in their power for comfort of American citizens in Mexico," said Senor de la Garza, explaining that "a nation still in throes of internal dissension is inevitably handicapped."

He declared that the Mexican government had made much progress in the last month in controlling the revolutionists, and added, "With a little patience we may expect to see Mexico in peace and order."

HOPE CONCERT POSTPONED.

The Hope - Rosenfeld - Alter concert, which was to have been held tonight, has been indefinitely postponed.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—[Advertisement.

J. G. BULLOCK WEDS MRS. HUGH WALLACE.

Ceremony Is Performed at Bride's Detroit Home; Couple Go East.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DETROIT, Oct. 15.—With the attendance limited to the members of the families and out-of-town guests, the marriage of Mrs. Hugh Wallace and Mr. John Gillespie Bullock of Los Angeles took place this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, 33 Virginia Park.

The ceremony, characterized by simple elegance, was performed in the spacious living-room, which was fragrant with American and Ophelia roses, against a background of feathery cybodium ferns. Fall shades of chrysanthemums in soft browns and golds, intermixed with the graceful foliage of oak and maple leaves, made the hall and dining-room bowers of beauty.

Dr. John Wilson Cochran, pastor of the Woodward-Avenue Presbyterian Church, read the service. Edwin Wallace gave his mother in marriage.

Miss Ruth Wallace, daughter of the bride, and Misses Helen and Margaret Bullock, daughters of the groom, were members of the bridal party. The latter was charming in white tulle, while Helen and Ruth wore dainty frocks of pink chiffon. All three carried French bouquets frilled with dainty lace.

Mrs Wallace was attired in a gown of white chiffon, hand-embroidered in silver flowers, over cloth of silver. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

After a small reception, Mr. and Mrs. Bullock left for a trip east. They will return to Detroit before going to Los Angeles, where they will live.

Mrs. Wallace is prominent in Detroit social and club life. She made a name for herself when her book, "An American Child in Europe," was published a few years ago. Mr. Bullock is at the head of the big store in Los Angeles that bears his name.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. Bullock's mother, Mrs. Joseph Bullock; her two sisters, Mrs. Scott Davidson and Mrs. Thomas Maurer, of Paris, Ont.; Mrs. Wallace's sister, Mrs. William Morton, Galt, Ont.; Mr. Herbert Bigelow, Misses Margaret and Helen Bullock, and Mr. Stanley McGarry of Boston.

A TRIAL WILL CONVINCE YOU.

NOTHING that we could say would so convince you of the value of Chamberlain Tablets as a personal trial. We can tell you of thousands who have been permanently cured of chronic constipation, indigestion, biliousness, headache and disorders of the stomach and liver, but this will have little weight with you as compared to a personal trial. That always convinces.

MANY CITY IMPROVEMENTS

May Reroute Harbor Highway; Rush of Work Necessitates More Inspectors.

The City Engineer sent to the Council yesterday a statement regarding the proposed permanent improvement of Railroad street, in Wilmington, which has been designed as the connecting link between two paved sections of the motor truck highway between Los Angeles and the harbor district. In view of certain conditions which have arisen, he asked for instructions as to whether this work shall be held up for the present.

It appears, according to this statement, that changes in the route of the motor truck highway through Wilmington are under consideration, because of the fact that the use of Railroad street would require four main-line grade crossings, and the use of trailers with the slow speed of motor trucks would make these especially dangerous. It is proposed to locate the highway west of the Pacific Electric tracks, and the City Engineer suggests the advisability of holding up the improvement proceedings on Railroad street until the Board of Supervisors reach a decision.

Councilman Fleming stated that a meeting on this subject will be called by the Board of Supervisors as soon as Chairman Dodge is able to return to his official duties, so the Council left the matter in abeyance.

Although the municipal budget for the present fiscal year provides for the employment of twenty-six inspectors on construction work by the City Engineer's department, the Board of Public Works sent to the City Council yesterday a statement from the City Engineer that all of the men thus provided for are at work and that the increase of work on public improvements makes it necessary to provide additional inspectors. He states that at least fifteen more men are needed, and that an allowance of $7500 will be required for them for the balance of the fiscal year.

"At present," says the City Engineer's statement, "there are fifty-six improvements under contract, eight additional improvements where awards have been made, but the contracts are not signed, and nineteen improvements where ordinances of intention have been presented."

The City Engineer was instructed by the City Council yesterday to prepare and present the ordinance for the improvement of Fawn avenue, from its northerly terminus to Reservoir street. The Council approved the assessment district map for the construction of sewers in Thirty-seventh-street sewer district in San Pedro.

The proposed improvement of Hoover street, from Slauson to Manchester avenues, was advanced by the City Engineer, being instructed to present the ordinance of intention. Action on the protest against the widening of Stanley avenue was set for hearing on the 29th inst.

An ordinance was adopted for the paving of Berendo street, from Eighth to Ninth streets, as were also ordinances for the improvement of Hyperion avenue and Effie-street improvement district.

Councilman Conaway, chairman of the Finance Committee of the City Council, has notified the Council that he proposes to present a concrete plan for the purpose of preventing irregular bids being submitted when calls for supplies for the city are issued.

Councilman Conaway contends that various bidders put in irregular bids simply to ascertain what their competitors are offering, expecting that all bids will be rejected and that later on they will reap advantage from having obtained these figures. He proposes that the various steps required in filling out all forms shall be printed on a slip, pasted to the specifications when they are sent to the bidder, and that the bidder shall re required to place in an envelope outside the one containing the actual bid a statement that every one of the steps have been complied with before the bid was sealed up.

FOUR-CENT TARIFF ON BEANS, STATE DEMAND.

GROWERS IN SOUTHLAND DECLARE JAPANESE IMPORTS PERIL INDUSTRY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—That the bean growers of California and for that matter all engaged in the business in the United States face complete ruin without a protective duty of 4 cents a pound against Asiatic or oriental beans, was the assertion of representatives of the industry in Southern California following their testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee. Congressman Osborne of Los Angeles explained the purpose of his bill to place a duty on beans and said that detailed information received by him since introducing the measure indicated that 3 cents per pound duty would not be sufficient and that the amount should be doubled.

Showing that the cost of production in California of the small white bean of commerce to be 7.3 cents and the cost of production in all oriental countries—Japan, Korea and Manchuria—not to exceed 3.3 cents, the bean growers call for a protective tariff for the difference in order that American growers may live and in order that the whole industry shall not be killed and the price of beans fixed in Japan after the American growers have gone out of business. Already, it is said, many of the growers have sold their machinery and are going into other lines.

In Santa Barbara and other districts around Lompoc and Santa Maria it is stated there is no alternative and the men cannot use the land for any other crop.

As an indication of the reduction of acreage Mr. Sapiro, who represented the California bean growers at its hearing read into the record the following figures of the percentage in beans this year as compared with 1918: California, 69 per cent.; Colorado, 35 per cent.; Michigan, 65 per cent.; New York, 54 per cent. Taking a hundred-pound bag of beans raised in Japan he said it would be landed in San Francisco, duty paid, at $4.13 as against a cost of production in California of $7 plus. This was due to cheap labor in Japan. In 1917 the Japanese male laborer received per year $26 and the female $15. In 1917 the males received per year $30 and the women $17.50.

The price of day labor was for men 28 cents and the women 17 cents. Child labor was very prevalent and it cost one-half of what the women were paid. This, as against $3.50 and $4 a day for labor in the United States where child labor is prohibited, at least in California and where labor costs in the production of beans is 54 per cent. of the total cost of production.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Monetary conditions and the industrial situation seemed to offer sufficient explantation for the further hesitation shown by the stock market today. Call loans opened at 9, soon rising to 12, with 14 per cent. quoted in the final hour, another advance to 15 per cent. being made at the end.

Trading again centered largely in oils, motors and equipments, although shipping and food shares were included in the opinions of the bull pools.

Chandler Motor (new stock) and Bethlehem Motor, both at new high records, enlivened the later dealings with steels and equipments, although United States Steel failed to hold its slight gain, ending unchanged on the day. Sales amounted to 1,375,000 shares.

Liberty issues were the foremost features of an unusually active bond market, that group, however, manifesting an irregular trend with the exception of the 3½'s, which added to its recent steady rise at 100.48. Total sales, par value, aggregated $18,850,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NOW IS THE TIME to buy personally selected oil leases in the new LOUISIANA OIL FIELDS
where as many big 3000 to 12,000 barrel gushers are being brought in and prices are advancing rapidly. Oil men and speculators are flocking into the new fields by hundreds, everything is booming and right now, at the start, is the time to MAKE MONEY IN OIL
by buying good leases while they are still to be had at a comparatively low price and then selling out as the boom grows and development goes ahead. If you missed the fortunes made in Texas, don't miss this opportunity in Louisiana. We have just returned from another trip to the Texas and Louisiana oil fields and were fortunate in being on the ground early in Louisiana. We can sell you choice leases in tracts of 5 acres and upwards as low as $25 an acre and as high as $5000. See us for all information you wish about the Texas or Louisiana oil fields.

GERMANS INVADE ENGLAND

But It's with Goods, not Arms, and They are Underselling British.

Great social unrest and very high prices for the necessities of life were the conditions in England as James S. Riley, vice-president of the local brokerage firm of Perrin, Drake & Riley, found them. Mr. Riley has just returned from a visit of several weeks' duration in London, where he made a close study of social and economic conditions.

"In Great Britain, as with us," said Mr. Riley, "the problem is to increase production, but this is rendered difficult by the social unrest, which is much more pronounced in England than in the United States. British manufacturers, under the present rate of exchange, must pay a premium on everything they import, and a large part of their raw material must be obtained from the United States. The present rate of exchange will not be altered until England again becomes a large exporting nation. Consequently the British manufacturer is placed in a position where he must import large quantities of material, even at a premium, in order to increase production and exportation to a point where exchange will be brought back to normal."

Prices are exceedingly high as compared with pre-war conditions, declared Mr. Riley. Bread costs 20 cents a loaf, eggs $1.25 per dozen and meat prices are proportionately high. Wages, however, are correspondingly high; the average man is earning and spending more money than ever before. Extravagance is the rule and people are purchasing luxuries they did not dream of buying in pre-war days. "Everybody complains of high prices," said Mr. Riley, "but they go on paying them and demanding more luxuries." To meet this demand for luxuries, American automobile manufacturers are sending pleasure cars into England, paying the 60 per cent. duty, and still making a profit from their sale. Mr. Riley cited an instance where a Ford coupe sold for more than $1500, while a Rolls-Royce, three years old, brought more than $20,000.

Germany is already invading the British markets, underselling the home products. Toys and many small steel products, such as razors and knives, of German manufacture are being sold in England. Only the patriotism of the people keeps the sale of these articles down, but the low prices at which they are offered will surely win the trade, Mr. Riley says.

As to the opportunities for marketing American securities in England, they are nil, stated Mr. Riley, and there will be no such opportunities for some time to come. If any American securities are bought by English investors they must settle with New York on a 15-point premium at present exchange rates, and this inequality weakens the market for American securities considerably. In addition, British securities are now giving a better yield than they have for several years past.

SAYS AMERICA SHIRKS HER RESPONSIBILITIES.

"ROUND TABLE" CALLS UNITED STATES TO ASSUME MANDATORIES FOR WEAK.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONDON, Sept 9.—"If mankind is to move forward in step, America, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, each in their own sphere, must contribute their stream of effort and illumination to the common pool," says the Round Table in discussing the responsibility of the nations for the future of the world.

"What that means in practice we cannot do more than mention," the editor continues. "That it means the acceptance of large mandatory responsibilities by America goes without saying. A nation of 100,000,000 possessed of far greater wealth than any other in the world cannot continue self-centered in her own home and grow to the full stature of national manhood.

"America laid herself open to the charge of selfish indifference to anything but her own interests by the slowness with which she recognized her duty in the war, and the consequently comparatively small sacrifice which she made for the cause of human freedom.

"She is now showing a similiar readiness to try to escape from practical responsibility for the unfortunate peoples not yet able to stand alone, and consequently leave them to be exploited, and in some cases massacred, by peoples in no way qualified to have control of them. America will doubtless rise rapidly to a sense of her responsibilities. But it is urgent that she should not delay.

"The problem of the dominions is different. They pulled their full weight during the war. All of them except Canada have now assumed trusteeship for backward peoples."

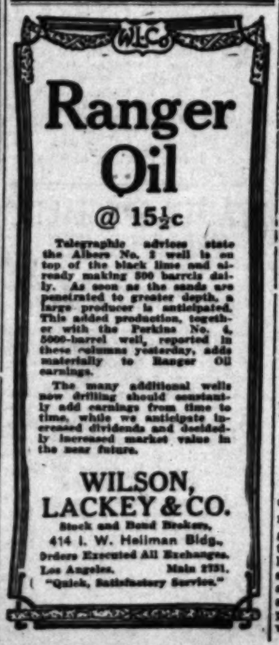
METHODISTS PAYING DEBTS AT DISCOUNT.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—It is announced that the indebtedness of the Methodist churches in Finland has been paid by Dr. Lemuel H. Murlin, president of Boston University and member of the War Emergency Reconstruction Commission of the American Methodist church. Dr. Murlin is in Europe to investigate the status of the church in Scandinavian, Finnish, Baltic and German countries. His action is attributed to the favorable rates of exchange he obtained in purchasing the debts.

He may take similiar action in Germany, where the debt of the Methodist church at normal exchange rates would amount to $750,000 but now could be paid for about $100,000.

The commission is expected to report the results of its inquiry to the Methodist Conference in the United States in 1920 with recommendations for the care of Methodists in Europe.



RED OCHRE DEPOSITS DISCOVERED IN ALASKA.

PROSPECTORS ALSO LOCATE A RICH VEIN OF HEMATITE IN OLD MINE.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

NOME (Alaska) Sept. 10.—Near the head of the Norton Sound, where it has been known only to Eskimos, it is believed, two prospectors who have just returned to Nome recently discovered an enormous deposit of the clay-like substance known as red ochre and valuable for its paint-making qualities.

For generations, some of the natives told the prospectors, the ochre has been used by people of their tribe for coloring purposes, and from points as far away as the Diomedes natives came to get supplies of the valued soft rock. The rock or clay-like material is dark red in color and may easily be ground or shaved with a knife. Experiments proved it could be quickly made into paint.

These prospectors also discovered what is believed to be a big vein of hematite in a subterranean chamber of a low cliff seven miles from Norton Bay mission, which apparently had been a mine of perhaps prehistoric origin. Inquiries of aged natives failed to elicit information of any one ever having been seen in the district engaged in mining or prospecting and developed the fact that the opening of the cliff was only recently revealed by a slide.

Debris partially covering the entrance to the cliff chamber was cleared away by the prospectors and a tunnel about fifty feet long was discovered. This tunnel apparently had been driven into what is believed to be a ledge of iron ore ten feet wide in its thickest portion. Near its mouth the subterranean chamber has been timbered.

HAWAIIAN JAPS JOIN PAN-PACIFIC UNION.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

HONOLULU (T. H.) Sept. 13.—Representative Japanese residents of Honolulu met recently and decided to give their full support to plans for the Pan-Pacific Congress which will be held in Honolulu during the years 1920-21 under the auspices of the Pan-Pacific Union.

The Pan-Pacific Congress, as tentatively planned, will consist of a series of conferences here on various commercial and social problems affecting the islands. Practically every country bordering on the Pacific will be represented, it is hoped.

PURPLE OKAPI WILL NOT AMUSE ENGLISH.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—British naturalists, who have been confidently expecting that the only live okapi in captivity was to be brought to the zoological gardens in Regents Park, were disappointed today when the news came from Antwerp that that animal had been brought there from the Congo by Dr. Lebrum. It was the gift of Mme. Landaghem, whose husband is in the Congo medical service.

The okapi is the survivor of a distant ancestor of the giraffe. An adult stands about five feet high, and although it has the general shape of the giraffe, its neck is relatively shorter and its forelegs are not so high in proportion to the hindquarters.

The sides of the animal's head are light fawn color and the general coloration of the body is a dark purple. The most striking character is that the rump and the upper part of the legs are transversely striped with black and white. It was first known in 1901, having been found in the Semliki forest, haunting low undergrowth and swamps.

This particular specimen was in Mme. Landaghem's possession for a number of years and photographs of it received here show it eating out of her hand.

LIQUOR CONTAINERS ON VESSELS SEALED.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 20.—In accordance with prohibition regulations now governing the import of wet goods into the United States, customs officers are sealing all bottles, kegs and hogsheads of liquor aboard steamships calling here for bunkerage service, with the exception of a small allotment sufficient to appease the thirst of officers and crew while in port.

ACTIVITY IN OIL IS MARKET FEATURE.

CONSIDERABLE TRADING ALSO IN LIBERTY BONDS ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

Activity in oil stocks was renewed yesterday on the local Stock Exchange, with prices throughout the session very irregular. Associated Oil opened at 122½, declining under heavy selling pressure to a close of 119 at noon. During the afternoon it showed increasing strength, closing at 120⅝. American Crude sold at 38½. This company yesterday announced its regular quarterly dividend of 1 cent per share, payable November 1. Opening at 168, General Petroleum quickly livened up, and in the afternoon moved to a close of 169½, with demand strong at 169.

Industrials were rather quiet for the most part, Goodyear Rubber selling at 99¾. Trading in mines was light and scattered throughout the day, with no unusual action. Although most of the trading was monopolized by oils, a considerable number of Liberty Bonds changed hands.

It is announced from Strassbourg that Alsatians and Lorrainers born in 1898 and 1899 are to be called to the colors—the tricolors—in October.

OIL FIELD BULLETIN

Frank Oil Company

Five Different Properties

Capitalized at $150,000
Shares $1.00 Par, Non-Assessable

Louisiana Property Leads in News

This holding, consisting of 26 acres, in Red River Parish Field, has come most conspicuously into foreground among the Frank Oil Company's properties during the past two weeks, because of developments in that field.

Two weeks ago telegraphic word was received of the "bringing in" of "another gusher," in that field, reinforcing our claims that Red River Parish Field is a "gusher belt."

One week later, or only last week, more interesting telegraphic news came that, "Five new wells came in yesterday in Bull Bayou district. One seven thousand barrels not far from Frank Oil Co."

Bull Bayou district is in Red River Parish.

The Frank Oil Co.'s holdings are ideally located in the Red River Parish, the importance of which as a promising oil field, is indicated by the fact that five oil wells do "come in" in one day, including one "gusher."

We repeat our opinion of one month ago—that this latest "Louisiana purchase" of the Frank Oil Co. would prove to be a property worth more than the entire capitalization of the company, leaving the other four properties to be considered as added assets to increase the par value of Frank Oil Co.'s stock.

A contract for a "drilling rig" on this Louisiana property already has been let and actual drilling is set for October 25. A well brought in by this rig would not have to be a "gusher" to double, treble or quadruple the Frank Oil Co.'s stock.

One 1000-barrel-a-day well would produce an annual income four to five times as large as the $150,000 capitalization.

We firmly repeat our opinion that a healthy, commercial well will be developed on this Louisiana property. We do not say it will even be 1000-barrel well. It could be a 500-barrel well and be worth, in annual income, two to three times Frank Oil Co.'s capitalization.

SECOND WELL DRILLING IN DESDEMONA FIELD

This well is located on the eight lots owned by the Frank Oil Co., one mile north of Desdemona and, with good fortune, should be completed before the end of this month. It is only 800 feet from the Ranger Rock Island and 1000 feet from the Magnolia-Davis wells.

THIRD WELL EXPECTED TO BEGIN DRILLING DAILY

Contracts have been let and the derrick is going up on the Frank Oil Co.'s five acres, two miles west of Desdemona. Word of its starting is awaited daily. It is 300 yards from the big Eppler well and close to the Lewis and Southland.

FOURTH WELL NOW BEING PLANNED

Plans are progressing to start a derrick on the Frank Oil Co.'s 320-acre tract in Eastland county, which is attracting notice as a "new Texas field." More details of these plans are expected to be made public shortly.

FIFTH PROPERTY STEADILY GROWS VALUABLE

No drilling plans yet are made for the Frank Oil Co.'s five acres in the Northwest Burkburnett district. It practically is surrounded by producing wells, however, in a field resembling a forest of derricks. It is close to the Texas Chief, New Pool, Jewel V and M. & P. Burke.

OUR SMALL BLOCK OF STOCK GROWS SMALLER RAPIDLY

ONE SHARE OF STOCK COVERS ALL FIVE PROPERTIES

We repeat, with increasing emphasis, that we believe the Frank Oil Co. is in a "class by itself," because of small capitalization and its five holdings, as well as because of the active, "go ahead" energies of its managing heads and officers.

BOMBS EXPLODE IN OIL FIELDS.

Small Harm Done by Bungled Effort to Ruin Tanks.

Queer Letters to Companies Contain I.W.W. Boast.

One-Man Job is Indicated by Sequence of Events.

tion containing lists of names and addresses of other companies.

Inside each envelope was a white sheet of paper on which had been pasted printed letters, apparently clipped from newspapers. The letters "I. W. W." are in large, bold type, evidently a part of an afternoon newspaper headline. The word "demonstration" was made by clipping out each letter separately and pasting them together on the paper, with an effect of irregularity heightened by the fact that the letters are all of different sizes and shapes. The word "the," which was omitted from the letter to the Fullerton company, was in the note to the Brea Canyon Company, a single clipping of script type such, for instance, as that used in a child's copy-book.

There was not a line of handwriting about either letter.

The sequence of the time of the explosions and that of the postmarks on the letters points to a "one-man" job or else an attempt to create the belief that only one person was concerned in planting the bombs and mailing the strange notes

LITTLE DAMAGE.

The Fullerton bomb was placed inside the tank house, where several 4000-barrel tanks filled with oil are grouped. The explosion blew out the side of the building and parts of the bomb went through the roof, but aside from nominal damage to the structure did not cause any harm.

About two miles north of the Fullerton property is the big Puente tank. There the bomb was placed on top of the tank, but only blew off the cover.

The Union Oil Company's tank situated about 400 yards east of the Fullerton property, almost adjoins the Puente tank and it is believed that in firing the bomb there, the terrorist was under the impression he was destroying the same property. The only damage there was the destruction of the tank cover, on which the bomb was placed.

"The explosion and the letter came as a complete surprise to me," said W. L. Valentine, president of the Fullerton Oil Company, yesterday. "This company has had no labor troubles of any sort and our relations with our employees are absolutely satisfactory. We pay the union scale of wages and have had no disputes or controveries with our men."

NOT PERSONAL MATTER.

Mr. Valentine added that he did not regard the explosion or letter as having any personal significance.

From fragments recovered in the vicinity of the Fullerton Oil Company's tank house, it is apparent that the bomb used there was made of a ten-inch length of pipe three inches in diameter, capped at each end. One fragment showed evidences of having been drilled through from the outside, indicating that the fuse was sunk into the side of the bomb. Similar bombs, it is believed, were used in producing the other two explosions.

INDICTS THREE HELD AS REDS.

County Grand Jury Charges Syndicalism, Through I.W.W. Relations.

Three more men charged with being I.W.W. were accused of criminal syndicalism in an indictment returned yesterday by the county grand jury. They are T. J. Cavanaugh, Charles Gallwey and M. Rudoy, now held in the City Jail.

They were arrested in recent raids by city police and investigators of the District Attorney's force and the authorities hold signed statements bearing the prisoners' names, in which they admit they were active in the red organization. The I.W.W. organization, according to this and a previous indictment, has been advocating sabotage as a means of obtaining a change in industrial ownership and political affairs, and membership is held to be a violation of the new criminal syndicalism law.

The indictment was returned before Judge Craig, who fixed bail at $5000. The three defendants will be arraigned before Judge Willis tomorrow.

LET THEM QUIT AS INDIVIDUALS.

Edward F. Trefz Hits Hard at the Trouble-Makers.

Declares Public's Guardians Have no Right to Strike.

Would Restrict Immigration, thus Keeping Out "Reds."

"Policemen, firemen and soldiers, whose duty it is to protect the public from danger, should be amply rewarded for their labor, and if, as individuals, they become dissatisfied with their work, let them resign and make room for others, but they should not be permitted to strike."

This was the sentiment voiced yesterday by Edward F. Trefz, formerly field secretary of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in a speech to 100 members of the Electrical Co-Operative League at a luncheon at 741 South Broadway.

Mr. Trefz made it plain to his hearers that he is not opposed to the intelligent organization of laboring men for legitimate, constructive purposes, but he declared himself to be uncompromisingly against the radical element that is attempting to overthrow the institutions of America and the principles upon which they were founded.

"It will be well for us to remember that this is not a democracy," said the speaker, "but a republican form of government, ruled by the majority of citizens through their chosen representatives. No democracy can live, for the simple reason that when power is placed equally in the hands of each and every citizen the result is confusion and lack of any form of stable government. In the United States we have no use for the Bolsheviki or a soviet government. If you want to change your form of government into a semblance of the chaos now existing in Russia simply let your red leaders alone until they persuade the majority to think as they do and you will get that change automatically.

"Until that time, however, the sane majority of the people do not need and do not want any of the imported anarchists, and the very fact that a man advocates revolution in America should be enough to condemn him to deportation. It is time for the people of this country to pass and enforce rigid immigration laws, and not permit another alien to set foot on these shores for at least the next five years. The disgruntled, ignorant, criminal class of foreigners we do not want, and as for the intelligent, law-abiding citizens of other lands, it will be their duty and should be their pleasure to remain in their own countries until the work of reconstruction is well under way.

"The question of Bolshevism is not a recent proposition. It dates back to and before the days of Carl Marx and others of his kind, and I am sorry to acknowledge that the doctrines of those destructionists are being taught today in our schools and universities, as well as in the sweat shops and hovels. Until this propaganda is checked, we need hope for no solution to any of the social and governmental problems that confront us. It is time for us to quit taxing and begin to think in terms, not of self, but of the nation. It is time to cease this palaver about democracy and insist upon our republican form of government. We have been talking too much about our rights, as individuals, and not enough about our duties to our fellow-men, our responsibilities to the State, which includes all the people of America. The government can never be better than the individuals of which it is composed. Let us, then, get started on team thinking. Let us define Americanism and tell the radical that Americanism means justice, right, opportunity. Let us say to labor, 'You shall have everything that is coming to you, but not a cent more!'"

SPEND NIGHT STONING MAN.

Studio Guard Mark for After-Dark Attack by Three Supposed Strikers.

Three persons, believed to be strikers, spent Tuesday night stoning the watchman of the Hampton motion-picture studio, at Culver City, according to a report to the Sheriff's office. They broke a number of windows and struck the watchman three times, it is said. The affair is said to be an outgrowth of a strike of carpenters at the studio.

MAYOR SAYS UNION ATTEMPT'S DEAD ONE.

BELIEVES FIREMEN WILL GIVE UP CHARTER, AND POLICE TROUBLE IS OVER.

"I have absolute confidence that the firemen of Los Angeles who became members of a union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor will surrender their charter. I am sure that these men, after thinking the matter over seriously, have seen the necessity for such action, as public servants, and I have the fullest assurance that they will act with good judgment in this matter."

This was the statement made by Mayor Snyder, yesterday, in regard to the attempted unionization of the fire department. He also intimated that the situation in the police department is in the way of being cleared up in a manner in accordance with the policy outlined in the resolutions adopted by the City Council Tuesday.

The Mayor declined to make a statement as to details of the situation, but was emphatic in his declaration that citizens of Los Angeles need have no fear of any condition being created here that might lead to such distressing affairs as occurred recently in Boston.

START MEDIATION.

Efforts Begun to Settle Strike of Journeymen Tailors.

Efforts were begun yesterday at San Francisco to settle by Federal mediation the strike of the 6000 journeymen tailors of the Pacific Coast. Capt. Charles T. Connell, local mediator of the Department of Labor, and E. R. Marsh, who acts in a similar capacity in San Francisco, yesterday took first steps in the Bay City to bring both sides together.

The employing merchant tailors have been willing from the first to arbitrate, but the strikers have refused, saying they would not return to work unless their demands of $1 an hour and a forty-four-hour week were granted. During the strike, which began seven months ago, practically the entire merchant tailoring business of the Coast has been at a standstill.

Sam G. Levy of Los Angeles is president of the Pacific Coast Merchant Tailors' Association, and William G. McCann is secretary. Both are in San Francisco, and Mr. Levy sent word to local merchant tailors yesterday that he is hopeful the Federal mediators' efforts to end the trouble will be successful.

For Husband's Death.

Maria A. Viscarra, widow of Joaquin Viscarra, and administratrix of his estate, brought suit yesterday against Tony Matranga for $50,000 damages for the death of her husband, alleging that Matranga shot and killed him. The alleged shooting took place June 20 last at 122 South Avenue 19.

HEIRESS WOULD DIVORCE MATE.

Says Shirtsleeve Husband is too Uncouth, Grouchy.

Man's Habits Hurt Relative of "Silent" Smith.

He Blames Troubles on Fact He Didn't "Grow Up."

Victor A. Rossbach, crack trap shooter, husband of one of the heirs of "Silent" John Henry Smith, multi-millionaire, blames his wife's desire to be divorced from him on the fact that he did not "grow up" after she inherited her fortune. Mrs. Ruby A. Rossbach, who married Mr. Rossbach in Evanston, Ill., November 1, 1893, denied in Judge Crail's court yesterday that she had tired of her democratic husband.

She testified that it was his grouchiness, due to drinking, and his "uncouth habits" of coming into the house with his hat on one ear, whistling and sitting at the table in his shirtsleeves, that made him an undesirable mate. She also complained that he was not nice to his son and daughter. Mostly the evidence bore on Mr. Rossbach's penchant for strong drink.

COMES INTO FORTUNE.

When the pair married, Mr. Rossbach was earning $65 a month. Mrs. Rossbach had an income of $1000 a year. Later this was increased. Subsequently Mr. Rossbach earned $2400 a year as commercial agent for a western railroad.

Evidence introduced for the wife indicated that Mr. Rossbach, hail fellow well met, did not "grow up." When about ten years ago Mrs. Rossbach received her share of "Silent" Smith's big estate, they moved to Hollywood. The son and daughter "grew up," but Mr. Rossbach, his wife intimated, was not a shining social ornament.

The evidence sought to show he fussed with his daughter, and jarred his son for using the automobile especially made for him; also he and his wife scrapped. Mr. Rossbach, witnesses said, did unconventional things when they were invited out or had guests at the house. Then he had liquor, not only in the house but in the garage, where he went after quarrels and emerged with a grouch, his wife said.

The nurse said she frequently smelled whisky on Mr. Rossbach's breath. Under the cross-examination of Attorney George Greer she admitted she could not differentiate between whisky and wine.

COULDN'T TELL CAPACITY.

Mr. Rossbach did not deny that he imbibed, but he defied anyone to say they had seen him drunk. In a verbal duel with Attorney Winterer, representing Mrs. Rossbach, he said he could not tell his capacity and defied any man to gauge it for him.

When they scrapped, he said, he retired to the garage. After the family went to bed he returned to the house. He denied he slept all night at the garage. He said he drank and so did his wife and their friends. He admitted having three bottles of whisky in the basement, but he said friends drank the contents of two of the bottles.

"Didn't you go down to the basement six times during a card party," asked Attorney Winterer, "and drink whisky?"

"Tell me who were at the party and I will tell you who drank the whisky," was the retort.

Attorney Greer will produce business friends of Mr. Rossbach today in support of his contention that he is not a habitual drunkard, as the divorce complaint states.

GOLDSTEIN LOSES.

Espionage Act Violator is Denied a Rehearing of His Case.

Robert Goldstein, who was convicted by a jury in United States District Judge Bledsoe's court, in April, 1918, of violating the Espionage Act, and sentenced to ten years in the Federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island, the sentence having been since commuted to three years by President Wilson, yesterday lost his petition in the United States Circuit Court of Appeal for a rehearing.

Goldstein was charged with exhibiting the motion-picture, "The Spirit if '76," which, it was charged, had a decided pro-German tendency. The statements of Goldstein, indicating that he was in sympathy with Germany in the war, were also proven against him.

Following his conviction, an appeal was taken to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and the judgment of the lower court was affirmed. The petition for a rehearing, just denied, disposes of the case.

Goldstein was taken to the Federal penitentiary in June, 1918, and under the good time rule in vogue in that institution, ought to be released this coming winter.

Dr. Kelly has been connected with the vocational work of the government and with Harvard University.

The lectures are to cover a period of five weeks. There are to be three lectures each week and a charge of $5 for a single course is to be made. CHARGES PERJURY.

Schults Accuses Witnesses in His Suit Against Livingston.

Asserting that he intended to make perjury charges against witnesses who testified in his suit against members of the Livingston family, J. W. Schults, who was awarded damages in his action, yesterday went to the District Attorney's office with his attorney, Howard Sheppard. He said that there was false swearing by witnesses in the suit he brought to recover for expenses incurred in assisting Ben and Robert Livingston during the draft evasion investigation.

Judge Avery awarded Mr. Schultz $1808.01 damages, the amount to be prorated among the defendants. The court assessed Mrs. Mathilde Livingston $40.02. Ben Clara and Elsie Livingston were assessed for the largest amounts.

ROBBED AGAIN WHILE REPORTING CAR LOSS.

ARREST OF TWO ACCUSED MEN FOLLOWED BY CHARGE AGAINST A THIRD.

While "Ace" Richart, a chauffeur of this city, was in the office of a justice at Newhall swearing to a complaint against two men he charged with stealing his automobile another man was arrested outside charged with stealing a revolver from the car, which had been recovered. T. L. Raye and C. E. Wheeler were arrested at Newhall for the theft of the car and made a confession. Arthur Tambarri was held on a petty larceny charge in connection with the attempt to steal the revolver.

According to the story told by Richart, Raye and Wheeler employed him to take them to San Fernando. When they arrived there, he said, one of the men struck him with a revolver. They put him inside the car, covered him, and drove to Newhall. They stopped for a few minutes outside the town and put him out of the car. Then they purchased some gasoline. Afterwards they drove back and picked him up, taking him out past Saugus, where they put him out on the road and left him. He telephoned to L. B. Richart, his brother, in Los Angeles, and the Sheriff's office was notified.

Raye and Wheeler were arrested at Newhall shortly after. They said they were former soldiers. They were locked up in the County Jail.

BEAUTY SPECIALIST TELLS SECRET

A Beauty Specialist Gives Home-Made Recipe to Darken Gray Hair.

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be purchased any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—[Advertisement.
